Inside Out: Art and Reflection, offers 16 artists' works, each seeking to dissolve the division between invisibility and visibility of women in the visual arts by recognizing the links between generations of women artists. There is a free opening reception on September 7, from 5:00 to 8:00 pm.

Our juror is Michele Brower, a Denver painter and installation artist. Ms. Brower 's work is included in museum, private, and corporate collections. She brings substantial curatorial and teaching experience in the visual arts to this selection process.
