

Pinkard Construction Company Adds Two New Superintendents

LAKEWOOD, CO. – Pinkard Construction Company announced today that Dale Young and Adam Wildeman have joined the firm as superintendents.

Dale Young is a senior superintendent with extensive experience in healthcare and office construction. Notable projects include the City of Fort Collins' design-build Police Services Building, which featured plains architecture with forensic/ biohazard evidence processing, 911 dispatch and emergency operations center.

Dale comes to Pinkard from Saunders, where he spent four years as a superintendent and project manager. With 21 years in the industry, he began his career on a concrete crew, working his way up to project manager, project executive and superintendent.

Dale grew up in the Eagle Valley, and was graduated from the Colorado School of Mines with a Bachelor of Science in engineering with a civil specialty. He enjoys spending time with his wife and two young boys.

Dale will be managing Pinkard's $39 million VIDA at Sloan's Lake for Denver Housing Authority.

Superintendent Adam Wildeman spent 13 years as a superintendent at GH Phipps before joining Pinkard. Adam is a journeyman carpenter who has also worked as a carpenter foreman and assistant superintendent. His experience includes healthcare, higher education and municipal, highlighted by the $38 million Research Innovation Center (RIC) at Colorado State University in Fort Collins. The RIC is LEED Gold certified with offices, a vivarium, and biosafety level 2 laboratories for infectious disease research.

Adam grew up in Arvada, and enjoys being a husband and father, golfing, hunting, fishing, and attending church.

Adam is currently assigned to the 209-unit Sierra Vista Affordable Apartments occupied renovation.

In addition to their current assignments, both superintendents help to fill a need in Pinkard's growing involvement in the healthcare, office and higher education markets.
