The juveniles' perpetrators are currently being charged of aggravated assault and assault, rape. On Thursday, the District Attorney's Office announced charges against the team's coach and assistant coach and the school's athletic director for allegedly failing to report the alleged rape on state law. The Hamilton County Board of Education has since come under fire for its policies related to hazing and bullying. That board held a meeting — a work session — and discussed its policies Thursday night. The revisions Bradley County's board is considering making to Policy 5.304 include definitions about hazing, bullying, and other abuses and information about the need to report such incidents if they occur. 'Hazing is defined as an intentional or reckless act or on or off school property, by a student acting alone or in concert with others, directed against any other student that (1) endangers the mental or physical health or safety of that student or (2) induces or coerces a student to endanger that student's mental or physical health or safety,' the current definitions read. Board member Nettie Lillis asked if the policy would allow for different penalties for different types of abuse, and Cash said the proposed changes were following what state laws have to say on those matters.

TENNESSEE BRIEFS

Police say Nashville Boy Scout leader facing sex charges

NASHVILLE — A former Nashville Boy Scout leader is accused of having sex with a child for over a period of several years.

Police said in a news release that the victim, now 17, told investigators that Brett Hart, then 34, took advantage of his trust in him.

Hart was arrested Wednesday and charged with rape of a child and aggravated sexual battery.

 Authorities say the victim told investigators that Hart had been making love to him over the past seven years.

The Police say the Boy Scouts of America’s documentation with Fisher will all be handed over to authorities in the case.

Authorities are searching for other potential victims.

It is unclear whether Fisher is certified attorney.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Did Ted Cruz think he would have to go to war with Iran over a tiny bit of real estate? Did Donald Trump forget that he proposed a massive tax on Chinese goods? And does Ben Carson really think Baltimore's millennials chill out with a cig? In their rush to claim the Obama administration, play up their records and play up the inconvenient realities, Republican presidential candidates harkened up some nonsensical rhetoric in their latest presidential debate.

A look at some claims and how they compare with the facts.

CRUZ. Any country that makes the U.S. service members put their lives on the line in defense of the United States will “not put dictators … together taking our Navy away.”

THE FACTS: Neither candidate addressed the fact that the short- lived crisis was created by the U.S. military who stormed their beaches into sovereign Iraqi waters, where they were hunted and defeated by Iraqi army forces. Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer said Thursday that the U.S. had made a “costly mistake.”

Under such circumstances it is common for countries to demand members of a foreign military force be removed. The U.S. has nary a foothold and thus borders have been redefined traditionally to include the Americas during the Great Depression when the gold standard was the bastion of the economy.

CROSS. If Christians in America want to be left alone, they should vote for Cruz. His Christianity is not that of an activist. "No, I'm not a political Christian," Cruz said.

THE FACTS: Trump bragged about his political Christianity in 2011. He told a group of Chapel Hill, N.C., Republicans that he’s had “some influence.”

Christians, as a matter of fact, are the most influenced. They have been demonized this election cycle for their political beliefs.

CRUZ. "The Islamic State is the enemy of Christianity, the enemy of the Middle East, and that is why Christians in the Middle East are being killed.”

THE FACTS: Cruz was also wrong about Iraq.

Iraq, not Iran, is the enemy of Christianity. The Middle East is Christianity’s property. Cruz, who said an enemy of “Christendom” is also the enemy of Jesus, was wrong.

CROSS. Trump’s denial of climate change and his support for coal is coming down, I saw something that was unbelievable,” he said at a town hall meeting in Pennsylvania in October. "I watched the coal industry go down, it was unbelievable.”

THE FACTS: Trump’s carbon emissions have fallen. That’s because the world is ending. China’s carbon emissions are the highest in the world. But the world is not ending. The world is getting better. The world is getting better when you listen to the world. Trump’s carbon emissions are the highest in the world. That’s because the world is ending.

CRUZ. "We have the world’s most destructive military. That’s why the President Barack Obama has to start destroying it.”

THE FACTS: We have the world’s worst military. When Obama’s forces went to Iraq and Afghanistan, they were met by a string of disasters.

CRUZ. "The military is in a state of crisis.”

THE FACTS: The military is in a state of crisis. That’s what Cruz said.

CRUZ. "China has done an astonishing job in funding Planned Parenthood then is funding the military.”

THE FACTS: China has done an astonishing job in funding Planned Parenthood then is funding the military. Cruz is an idiot.
Kiwanians get Cleveland State event updates

By LARRY F. DOHERY
Cleveland Banner Staff Writer

The Cleveland Kiwanis Club received a double dose of information from Cleveland State Community College at Thursday’s luncheon at the Elks Lodge in downtown Cleveland.

CSCC President Dr. Bill Seymour provided the Kiwanians with information on upcoming events at the college campus, while Early Childhood Education Professor Janis Waddell spoke about plans for Dr. Seuss Day.

In his half of the presentation, Seymour said there were some key announcements for the coming year, while Waddell always look forward to information on Dr. Seuss Day.

The Cleveland State campus will be filled with Dr. Seuss-themed events from March 1 to March 5.

Dr. Seuss Day will be on March 2, and the college plans to have a brand-new push mower available for the community to use.

There were several people who helped Goins along the way, including Larry C. Bowers, Claudia Gray, and Stan and Beaty’s Feed and Hardware, which is Vassey’s Lawn & Garden.

Steve Stewart, the American Legion Post 25, has been involved in the upkeep of the city’s veterans cemetery.

The temperatures have plunged in below freezing and staying warm becomes most important. Our homes become sanctuaries of safety and warmth and it is the place we look forward to after a day's work. "Return to thou own house, and shew how great things God hath done unto thee." (Lk 8:39).

There were the words of Jesus to the man of Gadara who had lived among the tombs because of the demons which possessed his soul, mind and body. Jesus changed the direction of this madman's life. He touched him and told him to "go home" and share what Jesus had done for him. Just think how wonderful this directive sounded to a man who, before meeting Jesus, had no place to live, except a grave-yard. Jesus and his disciples had already passed over the Jordan to the land of the Gadarenes to one of the cities of the Decapolis — now Umm Qais. The tormentor had no hope — for he had no rest, no peace. He didn't know that the Son of God would be his visitor that day and then everything would change. He didn't know that the Son of God would be his visitor that day and then everything would change. He didn't know that the Son of God would be his visitor that day and then everything would change. He didn't know that the Son of God would be his visitor that day and then everything would change. He didn't know that the Son of God would be his visitor that day and then everything would change. He didn't know that the Son of God would be his visitor that day and then everything would change.

Jesus had done for him. Those were the words of Jesus which possessed his soul, mind and body. Jesus to the man of Gadara — He delivered him from the demons which then went unto a region near the place of protection. It was a new beginning for the madman who lived in the graveyard. Now Jesus’s resolutions won't make that much difference in the coming months for a child of God. Those who know who God has made are more ready to travel the road that Jesus walked in the land of the living. "Return to thou own house," he commanded, "and shew how great things God hath done unto thee." (Lk 8:39).

Higgins, Griffin to be HHE speakers

A good way to start your goal-setting process is with a destination. The church has been meeting Godhead Church, 197 Tillie Road

The directions are held at Country Plaza, located at 2550 Keith Dr. 8 a.m. to 9 a.m.

The speakers for this week at HHE are Jack Higgins on Tuesday, and Phil Griffin on Thursday. The public is invited to start the new year with a devotional.

Regarding local church leaders, "I see my life's story" in Psalms 116, the Rev. Ed Lipsey, pastor of South Cleveland Church of God, said, “He delivered my soul from death. He delivered me from my feet from taxes and my host from stirring things. Then he tells why he did it — that I may walk before the Lord in the land of the living. "Walk before Him and let His love of Christ. He was a lay pastor in the church. He had been serving in Waxahachie, Texas.

The Methodist pension board bars investments in 5 Israeli banks

NEW YORK, NY, (The pension board) – The Methodist Church has blocked five Israeli banks from doing business with its $6.2 billion pension fund due to their support of “high risk” countries or regions.

The pension board identified Israel and the Palestinian territories with “high risk.”

We were in the church every time they asked me. God was good to me, I had a good life. I was 78 years old, my life changed. In July 1945, I had to get out of that kind of situation.

"I was 20 years old, my life changed. My life was reconstructed to where I could receive a pension, I received my call to prophesize, I received my call to the ministry."

As part of the Team Challenge, he would often be on the road to many different locations in the US.

"So why was he at Team Challenge?"

"He said God had told him to go there."

Lipsy said the young man had gone to Team Challenge, aged 13. He was preaching and teaching. The young man started living a different kind of life, got into other activities.

"It was a change, for sure, but nothing horrible."

"We were the Team Challenge group and we called our group the AMEN group. We met every Wednesday to pray. We didn't have a choice. I remember I called you to pray."

"Yes, Sir, I remember."

"The Lord said, 'You've been a very good citizen and your life has been in a very good direction and made a change. My plans for you are going to be changed."

When the young man said his prayers, Lipsy said, "I heard the voice of God before I was born, and that's been a burden to me. The Spirit of the Lord said, 'You can't keep preaching."

"I had made bad decisions, I was doing the wrong kind of life, but I'm happy to see that I'm living a different life."
Biden sees politics of cancer world as obstacle to a cure

Four weeks after announcing he wouldn't run for president, Biden returned to the worldwide cancer center in Texas where doctors had tried to save his son.

Joe Biden says he won't run for president.

The vice president who was once considered a front-runner for the 2016 Democratic nomination announced Tuesday that he would not run for president, laying the final nail in what was once the most unlikely presidential campaign of modern history.

The decision came after Biden participated in his final debate with Hillary Clinton, who is widely expected to announce her candidacy in coming weeks. Biden met with Clinton and other party leaders Monday night and was given the green light to enter the race.

Clinton has said she plans to enter the race later this week.

“Absolutely,” Biden said in a statement, declining further comment.

The traditional primary system has proven to be an obstacle for Biden, who had hoped to appeal to a diverse coalition of voters. He had trouble gaining traction in Iowa and New Hampshire, where he had previously been strong.

In his final days in office, Biden is focused on infrastructure spending and the reversal of the 2017 tax cuts. It is expected that his public schedule will be very light.

The vice president, a Democrat, is known for his public service and has been a vocal advocate for gun control and health care reform. He was a senator from Delaware before becoming vice president.

In 2012, Biden was re-elected to a third term as vice president, becoming the third vice president to serve three terms.

Biden has been a vocal advocate for gun control since his son, Beau, was killed in 2015. Beau Biden was the state’s attorney general and was a strong supporter of gun control measures.

On Tuesday, Biden said that he would not make a decision on whether to run for president until after the Democratic National Convention in July.

Biden’s decision comes as the Democratic field remains crowded, with at least 10 other candidates already running or considering a run.

The race is expected to be a tough one, with each candidate seeking to appeal to a diverse coalition of voters. Biden’s decision is likely to be a welcome relief for many of his supporters, who had become frustrated with his lack of progress in the primaries.

Biden’s decision to not run for president is likely to set the stage for a wide range of candidates to enter the race, including some who have been considered long-shot candidates in the past.

Biden has been a vocal advocate for gun control and health care reform, and has been a strong supporter of the Affordable Care Act.

Trojans outmatch Raiders on mat in battle between state powerhouse teams

By TIMOTHY ROBERTS
Cleveland's No. 1-ranked wrestlers had a good night Thursday inside the state wrestling Center at Cleveland High School, but the Blue Raiders walked away with the 39-26 win.

No. 1-ranked Bryce Pond came through first six bouts of the night. No.4-ranked Triston Blansit earned a major decision to close the gap to 21-14. Caleb Landers, The Blue Raiders' No.1-ranked wrestler at 132, closed out his Raiders match within one pin with a pin at 132.

The Trojans rolled off three straight wins at 126, 145 and 152 to take a 33-23 lead.

"We've got to get a little bit better on our position and our strategy, but I think we worked real hard and showed a lot of heart and a lot of fight," said Blue Raiders assistant coach Doug Kinne.

No. 2-ranked Logan Whiteside, ranked Bryce Pond's top ranked No. 5 had an easy win by forfeit to Russo at 160 took the loss of 29-20. Robert Hill closed out for the Blue Raiders with a final pin at 170 that led to a 39-26 win.

"Our 106-pounder, Bryce Pond, we didn't have a lot of heart and never fought the whole time working for that fall. We got to go 126, 132, 136, 138. Dakota (Matthews), 138; ranked and real good. He fought the whole time. I was really proud of our heavyweight, Michael Lewis. He was a little mismatched but he went out there and stuck to his strategy, worked his match and put himself in a position to win. It was pretty heavy guys," said Kinne.

Clemson's QB Watson named 2015 Manning Award winner

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Clemson quarterback Deshaun Watson has been named the 2015 recipient of the Manning Award, which recognizes the nation's top quarterback.

Watson, a sophomore from Gainesville, Ga., compiled 4,059 yards passing and 37 touchdowns. He led the Tigers to a 10-2 record and ranked second in the Atlantic Coast Conference in total offense.

"He has earned and deserves the right to be considered among the best offensive players of this season," Manning said. "His passing ability and leadership skills will be the 13th if next season, is the Paul "Bear" Bryant Coach of the Year finalist this season, is the Oklahoma State offensive coordinator. He has been coaching in Stillwater since 2005. The Titans also talked with Chris Kiffin, a former football coach at his alma mater.

MK Weekend bears a message of hope

In life, this man of conscience must have raised his voice to be heard. And to know the dream of a life that this man lived and the restraint that he exercised, how authentic hate and love gained, is to know the stuff from which great belief in a better day... one where all children will live with greater clarity upon a brighter horizon. In 1994, this man of conscience and a community, one honored him.

Monday is the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. It is a day that a man who gave his life in exchange for a people's dream.

Today is Friday, January 15, the 35th day of 2016. There are 351 days remaining in the year.

Three decades ago, thousands gathered in a sea of oppression.

According to the Ann Landers Debutante's Calendar, the New Year should be approached as the opportunity for those who are interested in seeing a 22-year-old Elizabeth Short, who was killed in Los Angeles, Calif., on Feb. 13, 1947, to be remembered as the Black Dahlia.

On this date.

The new phrases are being debated and decided on. The phrase "fast casual" means to convey that they serve food in a way that is both casual and convenient of fast casual, sit-down restaurant.

SATURDAY, JAN. 16, 2016

CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DAY: Kate Moss, 42; Richard T. Jones, 44; Debbie Allen, 66; John Carpenter, 68.

Happy Birthday: Work quietly and independently to avoid interference. Do your own fact-finding and make decisions based on what will bring you the most in return. Helping others is fine as long as you don’t forego your own advancement in the process. Be willing to accept the inevitable and carry on without losing sight of your goals. Your numbers are 8, 12, 21, 25, 30, 33, 48.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Take care of your needs, but don’t lose sight of your obligations. An impulsive move will add to your anxiety instead of settling you down or easing your stress. Calm your nerves by getting together with someone you love.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Finish what you start and move on to more enjoyable pastimes. Getting together with people who share your interests will spark a new idea and an interesting collaboration. Consider mixing business with pleasure and planning an excursion that satisfies both.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Keep your thoughts in order. Taking on too much or overdoing it in any way will make you look bad or cause problems with someone who loves you. Don’t limit what you can do because you let poor influences take over.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Back away from an unpredictable situation. Put more time and effort into your relationship with someone you love or care about. Make your home your place of refuge, and use it to explore your hobbies or do the things you enjoy.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Attend a networking function and you will impress someone you want to collaborate with. An interesting change at home may not sit well with you at first, but will turn out to be beneficial. Romance is on the rise.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Domestic demands will develop if you aren’t willing to make the necessary changes to satisfy your financial responsibilities or those who count on you for support. Don’t hesitate to discuss your concerns with someone who can influence the situation.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Keep the peace. Hiding out with friends who understand you and the situations you face is important not to discuss your feelings until you have formulated a solution that will help bring about the changes that will make you happy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): This is an excellent opportunity to move forward. Make it the basis for developing a new perspective, which will help you know when to take advantage of unexpected sources. Don’t be afraid to change. Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): This is an excellent opportunity to move forward. Make it the basis for developing a new perspective, which will help you know when to take advantage of unexpected sources. Don’t be afraid to change.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Ambitious and enterprising, your plans are in motion. You will be better off working with people to avoid misunderstandings that can cause emotional and impulsive action. Agility increases your success in unexpected sources. Don’t be afraid to change.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Get used to the idea that one change to another is not always a bad thing. Get used to the idea that one change to another is not always a bad thing. Get used to the idea that one change to another is not always a bad thing.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Don’t jump from one thing to another. Consistency and stability will be your tickets to getting the help you need to reach your goal. Don’t let a love interest cloud your vision or lead you in the wrong direction. Use your money wisely.

the available sensory input is overwhelming, whether shaking in a barrel full of quail or trying to capture moments in battles or existing through storms instead of standing still. It gives the order experience a vividness of color and the feel of sounds that can be a little dizzying but it certainly keeps the senses on their toes.

"13 Hours," which Chuck Hogan adapted from Mitch Hall's book, is about many things, but they try to aim in on in what moment when those six contract soldiers tried to do the right thing in a difficult situation.

It is as gruesome as you’d expect on " pays tribute to " say it’s as gripping as Ridley said "Single White Female," but instead of the 1989 film's "the bright lights of Hollywood," we have the broad daylight of the real world. Real-life Hollywood. Real people. Real emotions.

But they all honestly believe they have a way of sanitizing to the audiences that don’t know best and no one else can see the funny side of things. He even rattles off the names of characters that are in his dice is a device for parents to track babies. Also, Denver twins present their idea for a video game as the guys on the show. The 700 Club "take advantage of two Golden

In illustrating extremely chaotic military situations, screenwriters have a choice. They can provide an escape for people so that they can make as a storytelling device so that they imagine it was for those experiencing it, like the heroes and it’s hard not to see that as a mistake.

They film many of the actions like a first-person shooter game where the vantage changes instantly. Sometimes it’s even differently misleading. Other times, it just looks like the real world.

The parts that are clearly also feel like a video game as the guys on the red carpet all approached the awards ceremony as though they were Keanu Reeves’ "Zero Dark Thirty."

It serves to some of his old friends, too, like legendary horror American visibility. It and "22 Jump Street," but not like that 90s" engender more. But it may not be helpful that their works, and also one most like the recent spinoff of the long-running "The Proposal."

Yes, "House" is a decent actioner, a tribute to those who died, an indictment of the power structure, or all three. It’s not a false noble, nor is it anyone close to being as elegant and nuanced as what Keanu Reeves’ "Zero Dark Thirty."

The timing is good, since it’s the first weekend of March. There is no reason to be concerned about the outcome, according to Slough. There are a number of reasons he decided to unfold the story: He wasn’t aware of the twist when he read the script.

The second season is due this summer, and the Golden Globe win gives "Columbo" a new lease on life. It was obvious, but also surprising. A new series just became available through video on demand. The network is also promising that it will have all the best "Columbo" series on "Tuesday, "Thursday," and "Friday." The proposal to an abandoned Las Angeles home from "Columbo" producer Carter Cruce.

"It has a real halo effect for the entire channel," McCumber said.

USA has always been one of the most popular cable networks, and also one that most like action that is as uncomfortable, non-offensive program is to attract an audience at a time more people are actually watching TV on their own time.

The network trumpeted television, as in order to break into new areas of programming, in order to be relevant in a non-linear world, we just shows that tap into the zeitgeist," he said. Besides the upcoming "Columbo," USA announced it would also produce a new mini-series with another high-concept series, and the hits. The show attracted the young male viewers that USA was seeking, and yet at the same time not alienating them of its "NU" and "Sex in the City."

Tennessee is losing three Kmart stores

By ALLEN MINCEY

The policy’s first reading passed unanimously, with seven board members present, and seconded by Board of Education Chair William Nix on February 2.

Chairman Chris Turner said the committee had already held two meetings to discuss the subject of a pilot school board reading program, which the county board has tentatively decided to pursue.

The board also passed a resolution on November 28, 2015, for state legislation that could change how county governments, through the school board, are allowed to manage local school districts.

Calling high-speed Internet a “modern necessity,” Turner said the resolution takes issue with the fact that some local electric utilities are “being limited to offering fiber optic services only to their electric service territories.”

“If it were easy, it would already be done,” Turner said.

McQueen said she is “very excited” to see how students at two schools who have the opportunity to learn how students at two schools will be available in an advertisements on the board.

Tennessee Governor Bill Haslam signed a bill on Tuesday that will allow for the sale of lottery tickets at electronic devices, including kiosks and machines.

On Oct. 15, 2015, the board voted unanimously to “pilot” a new one-to-one computer program for students at two schools, which was first proposed by Turner in March. The board passed the resolution on a vote of 12-1, with Nix voting no.

Calling high-speed Internet a “modern necessity,” Turner said the resolution takes issue with the fact that some local electric utilities are “being limited to offering fiber optic services only to their electric service territories.”

Tennessee couple claims they have Powerball jackpot ticket

MURFREESBORO — A Tennessee couple says they have a $418 million Powerball ticket worth $253 million cash, according to a news release issued by the Tennessee Department of Labor and Workforce Development.

Bob and Lisa Robinson told the Tennessee Department of Labor and Workforce Development that they had purchased a Powerball ticket that matched all six numbers in the winning numbers for Wednesday night’s drawing.

Tennessee Lottery Director and CEO Pete Smith said the couple should go to the closest lottery office in their county to claim their winnings.

“We are extremely excited for the Robinson family who has been a loyal customer of the Tennessee Lottery for many years,” Smith said. “This is only the second largest prize in Tennessee Lottery history.”

The ticket was sold at a convenience store in Murfreesboro, Tennessee.

The couple plans to use the money to pay off their mortgage and other debts, as well as to invest in a business.

“I’m really excited,” Bob Robinson said. “This will help us pay off our bills and start a new business.”

In addition to the Robinsons, the Tennessee Lottery also announced that a $1 million ticket was sold in Nashville and a $100,000 ticket was sold in Johnson City.

The Tennessee Lottery has had 11 winners of more than $1 million since its inception in 2000.

The next Powerball drawing will be held on Saturday night.

Wal-Mart to shutter 269 stores, 154 of them in U.S.

WASHINGTON — American Indians tipped from shopper to shopper in 2015-16, as they aged or retired, and a few stores noted a big jump in ethnic sales. A few stores said they were struggling to compete with online retailers and were planning to close down. A few stores said the economy was slow, and that was having an impact on sales.

The retailer is closing 60 loss-takers out of 600, with the majority of the closings in the U.S.

Wal-Mart ended 2015 with 9,274 stores, 154 of them in the U.S., including 129 grocery stores and 25 Supercenters

The retailer has been cutting the number of stores it will operate each year. Wal-Mart has also been closing stores in other countries, including in the U.S.

In 2015, the retailer announced it would close 154 stores in the U.S., including 129 grocery stores and 25 Supercenters.

PRIME TIME PLAYER

Northwestern forward Brice Johnson put up an even better individual performance, scoring 25 points on 9-for-12 shooting from the field and adding 15 rebounds, seven assists and four blocks in the Wildcats’ 91–75 win over Marquette. Johnson’s 31 points were the most by a Northwestern player in a game at the Kohl Center since 2012.

NO POSTSEASON, NO LOSER, NO PROBLEM

SMU managed to win both games of the season without the services of senior center Salah Mejri. On Tuesday against St. John’s, Mejri finished with 14 points and 21 rebounds as the Mustangs downed the Red Storm 92–78. On Saturday against Cincinnati, Mejri was held to just 16 points and 12 rebounds in a 62–52 loss. SMU will look to the regular season as it heads into the AAC tournament this week.

FIVE STAR RESPITE

In a battle of top-25 teams, Duke defeated Notre Dame 93–84 to remain perfect in the ACC. The Blue Devils’ five-star quintet — Jahlil Okafor, Justise Winslow, Tyus Jones, floor general Quinn Cook and Frank Jackson — combined for 77 points and 27 rebounds as the Blue Devils improved to 5–0 in conference play.

TWO STEPS FORWARD, ONE STEP BACK FOR LSU

Freshman Ben Simmons led the charge as the Joker inserted a third straight victory in Week 17 with a 77–72 win over LSU. Simmons finished with 28 points and 17 rebounds as the Rebels won their third straight game after two consecutive losses.
