Marlborough accepts Solar Array bid

By MARK REYNOLDS
mreynolds@tcnewspapers.com

Last week the Marlborough Town Board accepted a bid for a solar array system from Nexamp Solar LLC, slated to be built at the site of the town landfill off Baileys Gap Road. The company projects the size of the project at 1,250 kW AC and 1,631 kW DC.

The 35 year lease agreement has Nexamp Solar paying the town $237,921 in revenues over the life of the project. Presently, the town budgets $58,000 annually for their electric costs and a credit sales agreement with the company will save the town $9,321 in the first year and over the 20 year contract period the town expects to save a little more than $200,000.

Nexamp will offer a 30 day priority period for Marlborough residents to enroll in their community solar program that will result in a 10% monthly discount on their electric bills. The company states there will be a simple contract with no credit checks and no cancellation fees.

Final design, survey work and the formation of a development team to select a civil engineering firm will begin in December and run through February 2020.

Between February and May, surveys will be completed, followed by a review of the draft plans and submission of applications to the Town Board.

From May to September 2020 the permitting process will take place to meet the provisions of the State Environmental Quality Review Act. There will be a

Highland School Board reviews district goals

By STACIA DONALDSON

Superintendent Jon Bongiovi hosted a special presentation at this month's Highland Central School District Board of Education meeting outlining the district's goals for the upcoming school year.

Bongiovi stressed the importance of writing down and reviewing the district's goals every year. It is a way, according to Bongiovi, for members of the district to be on the same page and working in the same direction. In the 2019-20 academic year, Highland will work to improve student growth in areas such as math, writing, science and project based learning. One area of focus will be increasing participation in the New York State testing for grades 3-8 through a districtwide education campaign. The district will also continue to work on its comprehensive K-12 STEM program.

Already, two STEM teacher positions have been created. Taking a look at the social and emotional support of its students, Highland Central School District will be providing QPR suicide prevention protocol training for staff and students and continue to expand the Backpack Program, which provides backpacks filled with food for students who may need assistance over the weekends. Finally, the district will continue to maintain its fiscal stability of the Highland Central Schools by providing the highest level of education at a price the community can afford. The district will begin work on

Brix Gastropub opens in Marlboro

By ALLY TURK

Twin brothers Frank and Teddy Harpolis, and their childhood friend, Dane DeSantis, are trying to create a nightlife in Marlboro with the opening of Brix Gastropub in October.

The three men met in first grade in their hometown of Marlboro, and have grown up together, eventually working in a restaurant together at the age of 14. All three started as dishwashers and now, only 12 years later, they are opening up their first restaurant together. In those 12 years they've branched out to different restaurants and have all taken on different jobs.

DeSantis has worked in different restaurants as a bartender and manager. Frank and Teddy have grown up in the restaurant business, with their parents owning different restaurants and diners. Frank worked as a dishwasher, busser, host, waiter, and manager before buying and opening his first bar at the age of 21. Now, he and Teddy have owned the Valley Diner in Marlboro for over four years.

The three made the decision to open a gastropub together based on their previous relationship working together, and the need for one in Marlboro.

"We've known each other for a very long time, and we actually were roommates for a couple years," DeSantis said. "There's just good trust between us."

There's also the benefit of everyone filling a different role in the restaurant world, Frank said. DeSantis has the most experience with drinks and bartending, Frank with managing, and Teddy with the food.

Every day of the week the restaurant will be open until midnight, with the possibility of staying open later on the weekends if there is live music playing. The trio feels the need for a late-night bar and restaurant in Marlboro, and hope that they can have offerings that will attract people from neighboring towns.

"There aren't a lot of bars, and more-so they don't really stay open past 10:30," Frank said.

When it comes to the food, the vision is an American, Spanish, Asian fusion. There will be some staple American food options, like burgers and sandwiches, while other cuisines litter the menu with poke bowls, spring rolls, tortas, and poblanos.

As for the drinks, all of the bartenders hired have a lot of experience in creating their own speciality cocktails, which will come in handy for daily specials. The staple drink menu has specialty cocktails along with some frozen cocktails, which DeSantis says he doesn't see enough of around town.

The restaurant has two floors to it, the first floor being the bar and main dining area, with the second floor having different sized rooms. The different rooms up top will be used for a secondary dining area, private parties, and meetings.

"We completely did a total makeover of the space, cosmetically speaking," DeSantis said. "We designed everything ourselves, we put up new brick wall, changed the bar top, and added over 20 seats downstairs."

The modern and rustic feel of the restaurant will help patrons feel more comfortable in the space, and the change of cuisine from nearby restaurants will draw people in, they said.

"We're a completely different vibe," DeSantis said. "We'll be offering a little bit more of a casual atmosphere where you can come out and have cocktails and mingle with people and have good conversation."

Flip4Life benefits suicide prevention

By MARK REYNOLDS
mreynolds@tcnewspapers.com

November 12 was an especially cold evening but that did not stop Ben Lambousis from repeatedly flipping a 700 pound earth-mover tire at the Marlboro High School as a fundraiser to bring attention to suicide awareness and prevention.

Lambousis said this was the first time he took on such a daunting challenge, but he has competed in the Strongman circuit for the past 24 years as an amateur and lightweight pro and won a national title this year for the third time.

“This year I tried doing something that I’ve never heard being done before and see if I can raise some money and do it,” he said. “My goal is to try to bring things like this to schools around the area.”

Lambousis owns a gym in Washingtonville called Hurt Performance Inc, whose motto is ‘Think, Achieve, Become the Impossible’.

Marlboro’s Gay Straight Alliance hosted the Flip4Life event and the money raised will go to the JED Foundation, a New York City based non-profit organization that works to protect the emotional health and prevent suicide of the nation’s teens and young adults. It was founded by Donna and Phil Satow after they lost their youngest son, Jed, to suicide in 1998.

Lambousis said on average 129 people commit suicide throughout the world every hour, with about 127 of that total in the United States alone. In flipping the tire he was trying to match that number but came close with 113 in one hour.

“The cold weather kind of slowed me down a little,” he said, adding that he had previously torn a muscle in his leg that impacted his performance.

“It was really just to bring awareness and to raise some funds for a cause that I believe in,” he said, adding that the event raised about $4,000 for the JED Foundation.

Superintendent Michael Brooks has known Lambousis since Middle School when he was a student in his Science class. Brooks recalled that Lambousis once told him, “that no matter what physical strains I go through, it’s nothing compared to the mental strains that someone goes through relating to thoughts of harming yourself... so if he can bring any level of awareness that it’s OK to reach out for help, that’s why he wants to do this.”

High School Principal Ryan Lawler said the school has numerous services to help students facing difficulties.

“We certainly have an educational component for students in the school and we have counseling services available and work with students in crisis mode,” he said.

Chemistry teacher Trevor North is the adviser to the school’s Gay Straight Alliance, saying this fundraiser fits in well with their goals.

North said the GSA meets every Tuesday after school.

“We want to make sure everyone in the school is accepted no matter who they are and getting ideas out to other people, finding allies in the school and encouraging people to just be themselves and love who they are,” he said.

For additional information or to make a donation, North can be reached at trevor.north@marlboroschools.org.

Marlboro reviews Essential Elements Program

By MARK REYNOLDS
mreynolds@tcnewspapers.com

Earlier this month the New York State Essential Elements Schools to Watch program took center stage at the Marlboro School Board meeting.

Robin Hecht, Assistant Superintendent of Curriculum and Instruction, said the program has two main goals.

“First, to promote continuous school improvement through collaborative measures and second, to identify and recognize middle level schools and programs that are academically excellent, developmentally appropriate, socially equitable and organized to ensure continuous researched-based school improvement.”

Middle School Principal Debra Clinton said her interest in the program was piqued at a recent conference meeting in Albany. She said a team of teachers and administrators at the Middle School have met regularly for the past two years to review all of their academic, social and emotional program offerings.

“They have focused on the process of determining whether or not we meet the criteria to be an Essential Elements Schools to Watch,” she said. Clinton said the program is “data-driven,” requiring them to look critically at where they shine and where there is need for improvement. The faculty and staff also completed online surveys each year, “to rate ourselves on how well they feel that we do.”

The Essential Elements program evaluates a Middle School’s academic excellence, “to see if they challenge all students to use their minds well”; their developmental responsiveness, “to see if they are sensitive to the unique developmental challenges of early adolescence,”; they look to see if the school is socially equitable, democratic and fair to ensure that students are successful; and the see if the level of a school’s organizational structures and processes provides students with the necessary support and skills to help them, “sustain a trajectory toward excellence.”

Clinton said, “I think the most important thing that you keep hearing us say is this program is designed to help schools develop an ongoing culture of self-reflection, leading to continuous self-improvement,” in order to meet the changes and growing needs of students.

Last July the Middle School submitted a 102 page application and the state granted the school a site visit.

“We celebrated the fact that they recognized that the programs that we had in the application are worth them coming and doing a two-day site visit. A team of four trained evaluators will be coming down and spending a full day with us on November 21 and a half-day on November 22. Our ultimate goal is to hear what they have to say; they’re going to look at our programs and I think they’re going to celebrate some of our accomplishments on the things that we do and they’re going to give us some tangible suggestions, ideas and things to reflect upon.”

Clinton said the best outcome would be for the team to designate the Middle School as an ‘Essential School to Watch.’ She said no matter the outcome, “we’re going to keep moving forward and work with whatever feedback they give us because we do feel that this establishes for us a criteria of a high standard of excellence in all areas.”

Superintendent Michael Brooks commended all who were involved in this effort.

“On behalf of the district and the Board of Education, well done. To get to this level is fantastic but more importantly to have the mindset when you’re saying the works not done. It’s not about perfection [but] you never sacrifice good in pursuit of that perfection though. I’m proud of you.”

Clinton said if they are fortunate to receive the designation it is not the end of the road; they have to be re-designated every three years to show they are continually moving in the direction of excellence across the board.

Jacobson blasts MTA parking hike

Assemblymember Jonathan Jacobson (D-104) has issued a joint statement with eleven of his legislative colleagues opposing the MTA’s proposed parking fee hikes at dozens of train stations, including Beacon and Poughkeepsie. The MTA’s proposal would increase daily, monthly, and annual parking rates as well as implement charges on Saturdays, which are currently free.

“The new charges are penny wise and pound foolish,” said Jacobson. “Instead of encouraging more people to use the trains, this proposal encourages people to drive to Manhattan, especially on Saturdays.”

The proposed fee hike would increase the daily parking rate in Poughkeepsie from $3.75 to $4.50 and the annual rate from $358 to $394. In Beacon, the daily rate would increase from $3.50 to $4.25 and the annual rate from $298 to $328 for residents and from $358 to $394 for non-residents.

“Charging parking fees on Saturday will also hurt riverfront tourism and depress attendance at many of Beacon and Poughkeepsie’s riverfront festivals, since most attendees park in MTA lots,” noted Jacobson.

Knights of Columbus host Veterans luncheon

By CONNOR LINSKEY
clinskey@tcnewspapers.com

The St. Charles Borromeo Knights of Columbus Council held its annual free lunch honoring local veterans at the St. Charles Borromeo Church Hall last Tuesday.

This is the third year the Knights of Columbus have organized this event. Prior to that, AARP hosted the gathering for seven years. The Knights of Columbus were motivated to carry on this tradition because roughly 1/4 of this particular chapter are veterans, several of whom are still active. One such veteran is Bill Freymann, the chapter's grand knight, who served in the Air Force from 1960-65.

"A lot of us are veterans," Freymann said. "We want to give back to the veterans."

The veterans were treated to delicious foods such as macaroni and cheese, chicken parmesan as well as sausage and peppers. Raffles were held for gift cards to local businesses like Majestic's Hardware and Hard Roll Deli. Even a basket of assorted pickles and several motor angels were raffled off.

Steve Agostini played and sung classics such as "Margaritaville" by Jimmy Buffett and "Bad Bad Leroy Brown" by Jim Croce. Veterans Richard Lay and Lenny Beaulieu provided keynote speeches thanking the veterans for their service. The veterans in attendance were grateful to be honored on Veterans Day.

"[The purpose of Veterans Day is] to honor those that didn't come back," said Ron Engelhard, who served from 1975-79. "And to honor the people that did serve."

Operation Bread, White and Blues

Last of the original defendants pleads guilty to conspiracy in connection with conspiracy to distribute narcotics pills

Orange County District Attorney David M. Hoovler announced that on Thursday, November 14, Garry Michel, 48, of the Town of Wallkill, pleaded guilty before Orange County Court Judge Craig Stephen Brown, to Conspiracy in the Second Degree in connection with a conspiracy to sell narcotic pills, which were marketed to buyers as containing oxycodone, but which contained fentanyl.

The pills were colored, stamped, and marked to appear to be oxycodone pills. Michel is the latest and last of the original twenty-six defendants who had been charged in an enforcement action dubbed "Operation Bread, White and Blues" to plead guilty. All of the other twenty-five defendants who had initially been charged in connection with the enforcement action have pleaded guilty to various felonies. Michel faces 12 ½ to 25 years in state prison when he is sentenced on May 18, 2020.

In addition to the original 26 defendants, the operation also resulted in the arrest of Gregg Marinelli, 38, of Plattekill, a police officer, who holds the rank of Sergeant with the New York City Department of Environmental Protection Police. Marinelli was charged with crimes including the following: Criminal Sale of a Firearm in the Second Degree, for illegally selling more than five firearms in a one-year period; Criminal Possession of a Weapon in the Second Degree, (as an accessory); Criminal Possession of a Weapon in the Third Degree, (as an accessory for another person's possession a weapon he defaced and sold); Manufacture/Disposition of a Weapon (for manufacturing numerous assault rifles); Conspiracy in the Fourth Degree, (for conspiring to sell a loaded and defaced .40 caliber pistol), and Hindering Prosecution in the Second Degree (for alerting a suspect that he was the target of a police investigation). Marinelli, is accused of manufacturing dozens of handguns and assault rifles, including at least one fully automatic assault rifle, and selling them to individuals who are legally barred from possessing such weapons.

Marinelli, who also faces felony charges in Ulster County, is next scheduled to appear in Orange County Court on December 2.

On February 5, 2019, members of the New York State Police Community Narcotics Enforcement Team aided by the New York State Police Special Operations Response Team, Drug Enforcement Administration and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, executed multiple search warrants and made over twenty arrests throughout Orange County, and Rockland County. The arrests and search warrant executions were as a result of a six-month-long narcotics investigation. Law enforcement officials recovered more than $200,000, 25 handguns, one assault rifle, multiple rifles, ten vehicles, two motorcycles, over 2.5 pounds of cocaine and 1300 Fentanyl pills. In total 26 individuals were charged with felony narcotic offences.

Felony complaints filed in conjunction with the enforcement action outlined two separate conspiracies, one of which primarily involved members and associates of self-professed "outlaw" motorcycle clubs trafficking cocaine, and another of which involved the sale of narcotic pills which were represented to contain oxycodone, but which contained fentanyl, a highly addictive and frequently lethal narcotic. The name of the operation refers to the co-conspirators use of the term "bread" to mean money they obtained through the sale of narcotics, "white" to represent the cocaine which was sold, and "blues" to represent the blue colored pills which were being trafficked.

In addition to filing criminal charges, the Orange County District Attorney's Office also instituted civil forfeiture proceedings against many of the defendants in the conspiracies in order to seize from them profits that they have made illegally selling narcotics. To date, $553,468.58 in illegally obtained profits has been recovered as a result of the forfeiture actions. Assistant District Attorney Nicholas Mangold is conducting the civil forfeiture proceedings.

At the time Michel pleaded guilty, he admitted being a supplier for the conspiracy distributing pills. As part of the plea agreement placed on the record at the time Michel pleaded guilty, he agreed to forfeit $181,842 in illegally obtained drug proceeds. Michel is currently remanded to the Orange County Jail in lieu of bail that had been set in the amount of $1,000,000 cash or $3,000,000 bond. After the new Criminal Justice Reform legislation becomes effective on January 1, 2020, the District Attorney's Office will no longer be able to request that bail be set for those accused of Criminal Sale of a Controlled Substance in the First Degree, Criminal Possession of a Controlled Substance in the First Degree, or Conspiracy in the Second Degree.

"The lethal nature of fentanyl has been well documented, and well publicized, and it is particularly insidious to trick buyers into thinking they are purchasing oxycodone, when they are in reality purchasing a much more powerful narcotic that can kill them with even a single dose," said District Attorney David Hoovler. "Although we will continue to emphasize education and treatment as important avenues to keep people off drugs in the first place, we must also continue to make it a priority to attack the supply of narcotics by seeking severe sanctions against higher level narcotics dealers. It is only through the cooperative efforts of various law enforcement agencies, and by conducting sophisticated narcotics investigations such as "Operation Bread, White and Blues" that we can disrupt the supply chains that push these deadly substances on our streets and which result in so many deaths."

Port Authority to launch new management plan for airport

The recent loss of Norwegian Air's almost full passenger loads boosted the airport's passenger counts and then Norwegian left town in near bankruptcy.

But airport officials already have a new plan to grow the airport and it's been backed by the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey.

It's called Future Stewart Partners. They are a group made up of AvPorts that manages Stewart, and Groupe ADP, made up of French airports including Aeroports de Paris which manages and owns Charles De Gaulle Airport and Le Bourget Groupe ADP.

Stewart passenger level numbers for May totaled 54,860 and for June 52,565, reflecting other airlines such as Jet Blue.

Don't be prey to a utility scam

A Central Hudson press release issued Monday reminds us that we are in the middle of Utility Scam Awareness Week. It always comes around the middle of November, at a time when the weather first starts turning colder and when we first start thinking about what it would be like to be without heat at the outset of winter.

Often it's the senior citizens who live on fixed incomes and can least afford to be taken in by scams who are the most likely victims, but anyone who pays a utility bill is vulnerable.

With that in mind, here are some common scams:

Disconnection deception. Scammers call threatening to disconnect your service, unless you immediately buy a pre-paid card to make a "payment." Fortunately, places that sell these types of cards are often savvy enough to spot a potential victim, especially if that person is elderly and about to hand over a large amount of cash.

Overpayment tactic. Scammers call, claiming you have overpaid your utility bill and need to provide your personal bank account information or a credit card number to facilitate the refund. Remember that your utility company likely already has your bank account information on file and wouldn't need to call you for that information.

Vacate your home. Scammers claim there is a need to replace metering or other equipment and you must vacate your home for a period of time.

Power restoration charge. Scammers call offering to restore power more quickly for a fee in the aftermath of a severe storm causing a widespread power outage.

Identification attack. Rather than directing victims to call a 1-800 number, the scammer directs the caller to press 1 to collect more data in an effort to get personally identifiable information.

Door-knocking impostor. Impostors pose as utility workers to gain entry to the home of an unsuspecting person.

Facebook Charity Scam. Social media posts are telling customers that a charity will pay for

LeBron off base

I have the utmost respect for LeBron James, possibly the greatest basketball player ever. I respect him, not for his sport skills, but for his charitable commitments, notably a school in his hometown which he helped create using much of his own money to serve poor children.

In a lengthy locker room locution, however, he was far off base (to use a metaphor from another sport). He accused the General Manager of another team of inappropriate and uninformed remarks supporting the democracy demonstrations in Hong Kong, remarks that would harm the income of the NBA. He added that the GM shouldn't have used online media to communicate his thoughts.

Our son lives in Hong Kong and is in hearty support of the demonstrators, calling the brutal police thugish in their response. China has a long history of suppressing any attempt toward democracy. Remember the terrible response to the Tiananmen Square protests in 1989. Mr. James himself admits he knows little about the situation. If he did I believe he would sing another tune.

For example, the use of water canon to punish and scatter the demonstrators is eerily similar to the use of fire hoses in Alabama to disperse African American civil rights demonstrators in the 1950s and 1960s. And Mr. James's remarks have been thoroughly covered in the Twittersverse, Facebook, TV, and print media.

Climate change affects every child's health

Studies and reports say that the greatest health issue facing our children is Global Warming. It will leave them with lifelong health problems. A major cause of future health problems is the cumulative nature of Global Warming. Every year will be worse and warmer and hotter than the year before.

Because of this a child born today could be living in a world where the average temperature is 7.2 degrees warmer. That might be fine around here in the winter, but in the summer there could be top temperatures of 110 degrees. Such heat can kill people. It can also make it difficult to raise crops because of drought conditions. There have been fires on Marlboro Mountain and in the Shawangunks.

Then there will be the air conditioning costs and the heat waves. Affected the most are senior citizens, infants, babies, pregnant women, the poor, and people with underlying health conditions.

Children are already suffering from asthma but there will be even more health problems in the future.

Warmer temperatures make air pollution a much bigger problem, according to the report. Air pollution damages your lungs, your heart and can negatively impact every other vital organ. The impact accumulates over time, leading to problems later in life.

In 2016, there were 2.9 million premature deaths related to increasing pollution, the report found. With exposure to fine particulate air pollution, 64,000 of these premature deaths were in the U.S. as air pollution is getting worse.

Warmer temperatures abet the spread of disease. There is dengue fever, which has been on the rise since the year 2000 as the heat makes it far easier for the disease to fester.

The United States knows what it must do, and is doing it despite the objections and efforts of Donald Trump.

Not the only county becoming Democrat

Republican Congressman Peter King, who has represented Long Island in Congress for more than a quarter of a century will be retiring next year. He was reelected by 6,000 votes in 2018. He used to be a big, big winner but his district has changed as Long Island has gone from a solid Republican winner. In 1996 there were 360,000 Republicans in Nassau County and 257,000 Democrats. Now there are 411,000 Democrats and 330,000 Republicans. There is a similar shift in Suffolk county, which went from having a Republican lead over Democrats of 314,000 to 204,000, to trailing the Democrats, 366,000 to 332,000.

There has also been a demographic shift as more minorities now live on Long Island. Peter King may have decided that there is no future in representing the shrinking Republican Party.

The shift in Ulster County is mostly among women, and the same thing may have occurred in Nassau and Suffolk County. Big issues for women are preserving their reproductive rights, replacing a president, who mocks women, and a Republican Party in the senate, which refuses to vote to approve the violence against women law, which was approved in Nancy Pelosi's Democrat house, mostly on a party line vote.

My son and I may be the only ones

Way back when Donald Trump was a candidate for President there were all these stories of his trying to have unwanted sexual relations with women, most of them young. Then there was a video of his grabbing a girl/woman by her (and I do not like to use the following word) pussy and then his laughing about it. This latest event, and possibly earlier ones, scared me and my son, Charles, about how can we protect my 13 year old granddaughter from a person like this. We knew at that time three years ago that we would not vote for him or any male candidate like him. My son, Charles, was angry when we talked about it. We have not talked about it since,

I am a grandfather. I have granddaughters. Because of them this is the best time of my life. My youngest granddaughter is of that age that she just has to look at me and I need a gofundme. There are a ton of grandfathers who have the same feeling. How do we protect our granddaughters - how do I protect my granddaughter?

Last year when Christine Blasey Ford was testifying against Brett Kavanaugh I was getting an education. What would happen, as occurred when the door of the room she was in, was locked? Christine Blasey Ford is married and with children. Because of that locked door experience 30 years ago, she and her husband's bedroom has two doors. I would not be surprised if both of them have no locks. What would my granddaughter do if someone locked the door of the room she felt she was trapped in?

How do you protect your daughter or your granddaughter?

Girls or women, who have been sexually assaulted too often are psychologically damaged for life. Trump has been accused of sexually assaulting 15 or more women.

He has not changed. Now he is verbally threatening women who are testifying against him in his impeachment case. How do we protect our girls from a person like him? He will never get my vote!

A lead in the death of Dr. Irving Rathgeb?

In World War II, Dr. Irving K. Rathgeb of Highland died when the plane he was in went down possibly over the Sahara when sand got in its engine.

A WW II plane was recently discovered in the Sahara. But 75 years after the plane went down there were no bodies in the plane. Sixteen Highland GIs died in the war, and 15 are buried, but not Dr. Rathgeb. There are memorials to Dr. Rathgeb in front of the Lloyd Town Hall, at Colgate, where he graduated from college, and at a Texas Army base, where he was stationed before he went to the European theater.

He was an only child as was his first cousin, Nancy Rathgeb Smith, who married Louis Smith, who owned and operated Louis Smith Chevrolet. His father was born Louis Zammiello and changed his name to Louis Smith, when as Louis Zammiello he could not get a local Chevrolet franchise. They had four children. Their oldest son, Stephen Rathgeb Smith, was the valedictorian of his high school class.

He graduated from Brown, and is a retired professor from the Washington State University.

Fewer kids playing football in New York State

Nationwide there has been a decline of boys playing football. New York State has the largest decrease in the nation at 28 percent, followed by Ohio at 27 percent. Neighboring Massachusetts a 14 percent decline, Connecticut 13 percent, and New Jersey, 10 percent.

Students learn about sports injuries. Football leads all with head injuries being the most frequent. The change has led to a lot of schools shifting to eight man football. Ellenville last year played 11 man football and had a 1 - 8 record and this year against eight-man competition it was 8 - 1, and some of the players are talking about playing at the college level. The Ellenville kids had a lot more fun this year and no one in Ellenville is talking about going back.

Highland only won one game this year, and we will see if it makes the change.

Time to regroup?

Much has been said recently about the tax breaks being granted to the many new large companies locating here in the Mid-Hudson region. Both Senator Skoufis and others have weighed in on the subject, and I suspect many local taxpayers as well, after having just received their bloated school tax bills.

The question is: Why do the little people just pay, pay, pay and the very profitable large companies moving into the region have the good fortune to pay but a pittance considering their values? I call the home owners little people because they are the ones who shoulder the major burden in our ever increasing tax load. They are little people because they go to work in the morning, take care of their families, make up the fabric of their communities, but are never truly heard from when it comes to giving away their tax base. They are not heard because they are too busy with life. They elect people to represent them to take care of those technical things like the intricacies of taxation. They don't get involved because who would listen anyway? They have ideas though and they are not stupid. They know right from wrong, but lack the confidence to step forward and state their concerns. Up until now!

More examples of tax giveaways are being cited everyday such as: The large company that moved into one of our large upstate cities and was granted a huge tax deferment. When all was said and done, the exemption granted was one half million dollars for every job created. There is the recent case where in Cortland County, a nursing home has gone on the market for sale for about $14,000,000. The new potential purchasers, who already own 17 nursing homes within the area, have gone to the local governments and asked for a PILOT (payment in lieu of taxes) totaling an 88 percent reduction in their tax bills. It almost slipped through the crack if it were not for a lone town board member who started to ask pertinent questions. Now many others are asking questions we well.

It appears as though there is little oversight when it comes to making tax deals with large property owners. With all of the growth within the Hudson Valley, it would seem that the taxable tax base should be increasing exponentially, but is it? If all the growth were added to the taxable portion of the assessment roll, there may even be a chance that the rest of the town, county or school district taxpayers could even see a reduction in their taxes. Now that's the way it is supposed to work. A larger base = a lower tax rate, therefore, delivering a lower tax bill if spending remains under control.

So who is going to fix this inequity? If the "little people" finally get fed up, change may be in the air.

Fresh Air Fund

I would like to take this opportunity to thank our Fresh Air host families and volunteer leaders Dutchess and Ulster Counties. Because of their dedication and commitment, thousands of children from New York City's low-income communities participated in our Friendly Towns volunteer host family program this summer.

I am inspired by the heartfelt stories shared by hosts who welcome our children into their homes and community, and the joy and growth it brings to everyone. For over 140 years, The Fresh Air Fund has brought people together. Children make new friends and forge relationships that can last a lifetime. We've learned that after staying with a host family children are more confident and more comfortable meeting new and different people. Children tell me about their excitement to return to visit with a host family and all the activities ahead.

Our programs would not be possible without the generosity of our Fresh Air host families, supporters, and volunteers in Dutchess and Ulster Counties. Our local volunteers, many of whom are also hosts, interview prospective host families, help recruit new families and plan special activities. I would also like to thank the individuals and local businesses who give their time and resources to ensure The Fresh Air Fund's Friendly Towns Program in Dutchess and Ulster Counties is such a success each year.

The Fresh Air Fund, an independent, not-for-profit agency, has provided free summer experiences to more than 1.8 million New York City children from low-income communities since 1877. Each summer, thousands of children visit volunteer host families along the East Coast and Southern Canada.

Please contact Cesar Rodriguez at 212-897-8908 or visit www.FreshAir.org to learn more about hosting a child through The Fresh Air Fund.

Libby Manion

As colleague and successor to the late Elizabeth S. Manion as director of the Marlboro Free Library (MFL), I was saddened to learn of her recent passing. "Libby," as she was called by those of us lucky enough to see her on a daily basis, was a pillar of the Marlborough community. As her librarian and assistant director, she was my mentor. I knew her as a highly-principled individual, a brilliant administrator, and a consummate professional. Library patrons, staff, and trustees all bore witness to the determination and vigor of a compassionate and tireless public-spirited dynamo.

Libby's foresight and innovative leadership shaped the MFL into one of the preeminent educational institutions in Ulster County, if not in the Hudson Valley. Her accomplishments are too many to list here (please read her obituary on Legacy.com), but those outcomes that benefited the community the most include: moving the library from private to sustainable public funding, envisioning and leading the construction of a "purpose-built" library building and its subsequent expansion, and pushing for the MFL to become one of the earliest fine-free libraries in the Mid-Hudson Library System.

When she hired me from a small upstate library, I asked her how it was that Marlborough could afford to build so large and modern a facility. She responded that you don't ask your community what you can "afford"; you ask your community what kind of library they think they "deserve." I once took a certification course in library administration taught by a former State Librarian and discovered that he remembered her from when she served with him on the state level. "If you work for Libby Manion," he said, "I don't know how much more I can teach you!"

As director I didn't attend professional workshops to learn how to run a Friends of the Library group, or create a Local History section, or publish a library newsletter, or many of the other initiatives my colleagues flocked to, because Libby had already established them for Marlboro. She often was the first to arrive at work in the morning and the last to leave at night. After an administrative success, the fictional President Bartlett of the TV program "West Wing", rather than relax and reflect would instead ask of staff, "What's next?" That was Libby.

Upon her retirement, I asked her where in her home she would put all of the awards, medals, certificates, and other accolades she earned over the years. She told me she had already disposed of them all! A deeply modest person, she demurred from staff throwing her a grand retirement party. And I can honestly say she would be uncomfortable with this letter. For someone who never blew her own horn, I'm saddened by the occasion, but happy to praise her and speak of her legacy in this public forum. On behalf of the Board, staff, and Friends of the MFL, I share with you a brief glimpse into the character of a remarkable woman fondly loved and remembered not just for what she did, but for who she was.

Donations will be distributed to families in Orange County via organizations such as the Farmworkers Community Center, and the Emergency Housing Group. ## Leptondale Bible Church hosts free Thanksgiving dinner

By GARY M. AYD

Leptondale Bible Church in Newburgh held its first ever free community Thanksgiving dinner at their gymnasium off route 300 Saturday.

The event was so successful, that it is likely to become an annual event.

With plans to feed more than 300, the church and its approximately 60-volunteers prepared over 20 turkeys in three different styles: fried, smoked and baked, as well as all the trimmings of a traditional Thanksgiving meal.

"God really drove us to do this type of community outreach after our school of 35-years closed," Lucia O'Dowd, wife of Pastor Mike O'Dowd and a primary organizer of Saturday's dinner said. "We first began discussing this type of event in the spring and its really allowed us to get to know our community and the community us."

The church utilized every possible forum from newspapers, to radio stations, to digital and word of mouth to make the community aware of the dinner. It also held a fall fest last month which drew approximately 250 people.

While all the volunteers played important roles in making the day a huge success, O'Dowd singled out a few in particular including Martin King the cook, whose cooking did his talking. King, per O'Dowd is used to cooking for large groups of people and was "the go to guy anytime the church did a food-based event."

"It was amazing people just really came together to help make this happen," O'Dowd said of the slew of volunteers.

"This is really a community church and we are here for them," O'Dowd said.

"We want to be seen as a refuge for the community and to honor god's word with the goal of loving our neighbors."

Succulent homemade pies finished off the meal which O'Dowd said would likely become an annual event.

The church also has plans for other community events including a church in the park event slated for spring or early summer. The church years go from July-June and planning and budgeting for annual and first time events begins in March.

Leptondale Bible Church offers a wide-range of ministries and services including Sunday school at 9:30, Worship beginning at 11 a.m. and a series of specialized services for men, women, children, seniors and adolescents.

For more information contact the church at 566-1113 or visit Leptondale.org.

SUNY Orange presents 'Women in Jazz' Master Class

On Friday, November 22, Five Play, the quintet of DIVA Jazz will come "swingin'" into Orange Hall to play classic and contemporary standards and some of their own original music during an evening performance.

But earlier in the day, starting at 11am in Orange Hall room 23, the ensemble will present a master class entitled Creating a Life and Living in Music. The session is free and open to the public.

Women in jazz are usually associated with vocal music. However, the five women of Five Play are instrumentalists ~ creative, unique, and masterful. They will be talking about their choices of instruments and demonstrating them. They will also discuss how they successfully make a living as professional musicians and manage their careers.

The musicians will explain their own style of time management in which they fit practicing, touring, composing, arranging, teaching, and, of course, performing into well-tuned (pun intended) schedules. Q & A is a welcome segment of this informative class intertwined with personal advice, shared experiences, laughter and fun.

Those participating are the leader and music director Sherrie Maricle, drums; Tomoko Ohno, piano; Amy Shook, bass; Jami Dauber, trumpet; and Leigh Pilzer, baritone and soprano sax/clarinet.

Orange Hall is located at the corner of Wawayanda and Grandview Avenues (GPS: 24 Grandview Avenue), Middletown.

New Paltz presents Shakespeare production

The Department of Theatre Arts at SUNY New Paltz production of "Henry V," among the best loved history plays in William Shakespeare's canon, continues this weekend.

Performances of "Henry V" will be given Nov. 14-17 and 20-24 at McKenna Theatre on the New Paltz campus. Thursday, Friday and Saturday performances are given at 8 p.m., with Sunday matinees taking place at 2 p.m.

Set in the early 1400s in the midst of the Hundred Years' War, "Henry V" is the final installment in a four-part cycle inspired by true historical events. The story picks up with the title character recently crowned king, and follows his adjustment to new responsibilities in a time of international strife.

The drama culminates at the Battle of Agincourt, where despite being badly outnumbered, Henry's troops draw inspiration from their leader's climactic St. Crispin's Day speech, and claim one of English history's great victories.

Directing this production is John Patrick Hayden, a director and actor widely acclaimed for his fight direction.

"The faculty and students work tirelessly and under the constraints of budgets and demands that make the amazing work they do a feat," said Hayden. "It has been an honor to be invited to join their continuing passionate pursuit to produce theatre for this campus and community."

"Henry V" arrives in the middle of an extended run of Shakespearean performances from New Paltz's Department of Theatre Arts, made possible in part through partnership with the Play On! Shakespeare organization. The department's Praxis Series presented readings of a modernized version of "Henry IV, Part 1" in late October, and will return to the Bard's work on Feb. 8, 2020, for a similarly contemporized rendition of "Love's Labour's Lost."

Tickets are $18 for general public; $16 for seniors (62+), faculty, staff, alumni and non-SUNY New Paltz students; and $10 for SUNY New Paltz students.

For tickets, contact the Parker Theatre Box Office at (845) 257-3880 or boxoffice@newpaltz.edu. The Box Office is open Monday through Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and is also open for one hour prior to each performance.

If you have accessibility questions or require accommodations to fully participate in this event, please contact Russell Thompson at thompso@newpaltz.edu as soon as possible.

MARLBOROUGH

Library accepting donations of new, unwrapped toys

The Ulster County Marine Corps have set up a donation box in the Marlboro Library lobby where they will be accepting toy donations until December 15.

The mission of the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve Toys for Tots Program is to collect new, unwrapped toys during November and December each year, and distribute those toys as Christmas gifts to needy children in the Hudson Valley.

For more information visit toysfortots.org.

The Sarah Hull Hallock Free Library in Milton invites one and all to its annual holiday open house and tree lighting.

There will be crafty activities for youngsters, plenty of delicious refreshments, and a special magic and puppet show by "Mrs. Santa." It's all a part of a Main Street celebration in collaboration with the Hamlet of Milton Association.

The festivities at the library run from 2 to 4 p.m. on Sunday, December 8. Mrs. Santa arrives at 3 to entertain, and the library's gift basket raffle drawing concludes the party.

Get ready for the Milton Library gift basket raffle! Whether you put your tickets toward one prize or four, you have the opportunity to donate to a good cause and to win valuable items. Take a chance on the "Be Our Guest," "Child's Play," and/or "Game Night" baskets. There's also a Lottery Ticket Wreath -- a very popular item in past years.

The baskets are brimful with nifty gifts, including highly valuable gift-certificates (like $400 toward Buttermilk Spa and Henry's Restaurant, for a spa day for two). Purchase your tickets at the Sarah Hull Hallock Free Library and look for the library's table at Meet Me in Marlborough's Holiday Extravaganza (on November 23). Raffle tickets sell for $1 each, $5 for six, and $10 for an arm's length.

The drawing is on December 8, at the Milton Library's holiday open house, but you need not be present to win. It's a sure bet for putting the fun into fundraising.

Tiny Trolley Auction benefits Historical Society

By MARK REYNOLDS

mreynolds@tcnewspapers.com

Last Friday evening the Town of Lloyd Historical Preservation Society hosted their 2nd annual Tiny Trolley Auction at the former bank on the corner of Vineyard Avenue and Main Street.

Vivian Wadlin, Vice President of the Society, said last year they had 13 tiny Trolleys and this year the number jumped to 23 submissions. She said the money they raise will go to rehabilitate the 18th century Deyo House at 161 Vineyard Avenue that will be the future home of the society.

"It's a long way of having that; that's why we're doing this," she said of the auction.

Wadlin said they have already completed a study on the structural integrity of the building.

"It was $10,000 right off the bat. We've gutted it and we've cleaned up all around it. Before we took it you couldn't even see that building," she said.

Historical Society President Charles Glasner said the interest in these tiny trolleys, "is really about civic pride." He said real trolleys once went from 'hell town' where the old College Diner was in New Paltz, and ran all the way down to the Hudson River in the Town of Lloyd where they would meet travelers coming from the east. All of this coincides with the 175th anniversary of the founding of the Town of Lloyd this year.

Elizabeth Decker, of Hello Dolly Real Estate, is a member of the Highland Business Association and has assisted the historical society at their auctions.

"It's a very good event and we need more events such as this in Highland," she said. "It brings in a lot of people from out of the area and they see what we have to offer here."

She pointed out that she recently rented a store next to Asian Garden on Main Street that sells second hand children and maternity clothes. She also said a company is relocating to Highland from Brooklyn that does coffee roasting.

"They've been in business 12 years and they said by coming to Highland and renting space here, they are saving $30,000 a year in rent," she said.

Decker said small events like the trolley auction gives Highland a chance to show off a little bit.

Duane J. Olsen Jr did the artwork on three of the trolleys: the Little Flower Shop trolley; the St. Augustine Trolley and the Highland Firehouse trolley.

"I conceptualized and created both the Firehouse and St. Augustine trolleys and the Flower Shop was not my design but I ended up taking over that trolley after the original artist found themselves in the position where they could not complete it on time, so I stepped in," he said.

People submitted bids for the trolley of their choice.

Olsen used professional grade acrylic and Rust-Oleum paints and the clear coating was applied by Premier Auto Body.

Olsen is involved in acting, directing and voice-over work and is also a theatrical artist doing scenic design in New York City and locally in Poughkeepsie.

"Scenic design can range from anything from backdrops to set pieces themselves and prop design; basically anything to look at on stage with the exception of the costumes," he said.

The Society raffled off baked goods, chocolates, note cards, 'fling monkey' toys and gift certificates from area businesses. Two gift baskets contained a trolley Christmas ornament, several vintage books and postcards and a Scottish tartan scarf.

Vivian Wadlin thanked "our generous donors" - Sal's Place, Knaus Gallery and Wine Bard, Russell & Anna Mae Robbins, Jacobs Music, About Town Area Guide, Hannafords, On a Roll Deli, the Little Flower Shop, Highland 9W Self Storage as well as volunteers Jim Fawcett, Phil Whitebay, Tremont Hall and Premier Auto Body Shop.

The 'Inn at Twaalfskill' was painted by Jespar Wrangle

'Welcome to My Jungle' was done by artist Youye Chu and sponsored by Hudson River Antiques.

The 'Home is Where the Heart Is' trolley by artist Kathleen Reilly was sponsored by Hello Dolly Real Estate.

'Et in Honorem St. Augustine' trolley by artist Duane J. Olsen Jr. and sponsored by Rachael and Joe Rigolino.

Sadie Hollifield (R) picked the first raffle ticket from a container held out by Anna Mae Robbins.

Historical Society President Charles Glasner and VP Vivian Wadlin ran the raffle for a variety of special treats at the Tiny Trolley auction.

John Joseph Mandy

John Joseph Mandy, 90, passed away at home in Highland on November 17, 2019 surrounded by his loving family.

He was born on March 20, 1929 in Highland, to Josephine LaRegina Mandy and Frank Mandy. He attended Highland High School and studied accounting at Spencer Business Institute. He served his country proudly in the Korean War. After coming home, he met the love of his life, Janet Louise Sweeney. They married in June of 1956.

They had six children: John (Karen), David (Elizabeth), Mary Beth Saso (Greg), Thomas (Petcherat), and Paul. He was pre-deceased by his son James who passed away in 2005. He was a true family man, and never let a single day pass without telling each member of his family how much he loved them. John was the most wonderful grandfather to his 6 grandchildren: Kate Saso Orefice (Mike), Jack, Paige, Gregory, B.G., and David Spencer. He and Janet always enjoyed their precious time with their grandchildren.

Throughout his life, John was involved with St. Augustine's Church. He was a trustee, Eucharistic minister, renovation project member in the late 90s and we can never forget all the pizza he made at Bingo to support the school. He was a member of the Highland Hose Company for 15 years, a coach for the Highland Little League (Clay's), and a devoted member of the Highland School Board. John was a giver...a man that did most of his giving quietly and behind the scenes.

In the mid-80's, the family moved to New Paltz to large farmhouse where everyone could gather. John became a member of the New Paltz Rotary, the Paltz Club and served on the foundation board at St. Francis Hospital, his wife's alma mater. He enjoyed his time out of doors riding the tractor and plowing his fields. We all spent many happy times around the pool- laughing, grilling and reminiscing!

John was in the apple industry for most of his life. After the war, he worked for Niagara Chemical Division. He was in charge of three states and moved his family to Vincennes, Indiana. Three years later when John was offered a position back in the Hudson Valley, he moved his family back and soon, acquired a partnership in United Apple Sales. As part owner of United Apple Sales, John sold New State apples to distributors around the world. He helped organize and run one of the most successful grower-owned cooperatives in agriculture. In the early 1980's, a division of United Apple Sales, Costa Apple Products, was sold to Pepperidge Farm. John served as a member of the United States Department of Agriculture, President of the International Apple Institute from 1983-1984 and chairman of the board of the IAI until 1986.

Janet and John traveled the world after raising their family. Two weeks each summer were spent in Long Beach Island with the whole group. Many unforgettable memories were made there.

John is survived by his wife of 63 years, Janet, his only remaining loving sister, Louise Mandy and sister-in-law, Joan Mandy, both of New Paltz. His children, grandchildren, nieces, nephews, and friends also survive him. His brother, Michael, sisters Mary Valentino, Amelia Murphy, and Eleanor Whitely predeceased him.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be held Thursday, November 21st at 10:00 am at St. Augustine's Roman Catholic Church, Highland, NY followed by burial in St. Peter's Cemetery, Poughkeepsie.

Elizabeth (Libby) Stapleton Manion

Elizabeth (Libby) Stapleton Manion, of Marlboro, died on Tuesday, November 12, 2019, at Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Born in Clifton Springs, NY, on November 3, 1935, she was the daughter of Stephen Lawrence Stapleton and Margaret Keating Stapleton.

Libby is survived by her husband of 59 years, James (Jim); her four daughters, Margaret W. Manion (Amir) of Weston, MA; Ann L. Manion (Farzad) of Southborough, MA; Katherine M. Weinstock (John) of Madison, WI; and Elise M. Logue (Michael) of Marlboro, NY. Also surviving are her eight grandchildren, John, Mark and James Parsaie; Andrew, Margaret and Ellen Weinstock; and Michael Patrick and William Logue. She is also survived by her dear sister, Katherine Sagarese and her brother-in-law, Edward Sagarese, of Milton, NY; sisters and brothers-in-law, Marian and Ken Hotopp of Howes Caves, NY and Judy and Bill Gephard of Marlboro, NY, as well as several nieces and nephews. Libby was predeceased by her parents and her brother, Stephen Stapleton. Libby's final months were made infinitely more comfortable by the professional care provided by her friend, Jacqueline Howell.

Libby graduated from DeSales High School, Geneva, NY, and earned a Bachelor of Arts in English and Master in Library Science from SUNY Albany.

Libby lived her life with purpose, determination and generosity toward others. Her love of writing, books and commitment to public education were at the forefront of her lifelong professional and volunteer career. She taught English at Haviland Junior High School, Hyde Park, NY, where she established the school's first library. During the 1980's, she was the personal librarian to local authors John Thomas Mahoney and Caroline Bird Mahoney.

It was a call from Edward Dalby in the late 1960's asking Libby to serve on the Marlboro Free Library (MFL) Book Committee that launched her course of dedication to library services in the Town of Marlborough and statewide. She served on the MFL Board of Trustees, 1968-1979, many as Board President. In 1985, she became the Director of the MFL and remained in that position until her retirement in 2002. Over her 30 years of service to the MFL, she led many significant initiatives including changing the library from an association library to a school district public library, the relocation of the library on King Street to its current location on Bloom Street, as well as later physical expansions. She also developed many library programs, including the establishment of the Marlboro History collection. The focus of her tenure was the public library's need to offer new technologies while maintaining its mission to serve as a community resource for educational, cultural and recreational services for every generation.

On the regional and state level, Libby served on the Mid-Hudson Library System Board of Trustees, the NYS Association of Library Boards, the Regents Advisory Council on Libraries and was an active member of the NY Library and American Library Associations. Libby's partnership with others to lobby for and establish quality library services to NY state residents was the professional work of which she was most proud.

Service to her community is a quality for which Libby was known. She served on the Marlboro Central School District Board of Education, Women in Service to Education at Ulster County Community College, Women's Auxiliary to Dutchess County Medical Society and Vassar Brothers Hospital, Mount Saint Mary College Board of Trustees, Community Garden Club of Marlborough-on-Hudson Board and Community Foundations of the Hudson Valley Board. Libby was an active parishioner of Saint Mary's Church, Marlboro, NY and served as food pantry coordinator, lector and eucharistic minister.

Libby's favorite place was her home on Manion's Hill, which she shared with Jim for 52 years, and where they raised their four daughters. Together, Libby and Jim created a beautiful home with exquisite gardens, which they enjoyed sharing with family and friends. No doubt, Libby's favorite room was the kitchen where her worn wooden spoon rests now as evidence of the countless culinary creations she prepared for those she loved. Whether it was holiday family gatherings, dinner parties, birthdays, weddings, or just an evening meal, her husband, children, grandchildren, family and friends were always eager to gather around her table.

The family will receive friends commencing at 10 a.m. on Friday, November 29, 2019, at Saint Mary's Church, 1209 Route 9W, Marlboro, NY, followed by a funeral Mass at 11am. The interment of ashes will immediately follow at Saint Mary's Cemetery, Lattintown Road, Marlboro, NY.

In lieu of flowers, donations are welcomed to the James and Elizabeth Manion Charitable Fund, Community Foundations of Ulster County, 280 Wall

(MORTGAGE COMPANY) AND FILING THE ANSWER WITH THE COURT. HELP FOR HOMEOWNERS IN FORECLOSURE New York State Law requires that we send you this notice about the foreclosure process. Please read it carefully. Summons and Complaint, You are in danger of losing your home. If you fail to respond to the summons and complaint in this foreclosure action, you may lose your home. Please read the summons and complaint carefully. You should immediately contact an attorney or your local legal aid office to obtain advice on how to protect yourself. Sources of Information and Assistance The State encourages you to become informed about your options in foreclosure. In addition to seeking assistance from an attorney or legal aid office, there are government agencies and non-profit organizations that you may contact for information about possible options, including trying to work with your lender during this process. To locate an entity near you, you may call the toll-free helpline maintained by the New York State Department of Financial Services at 1-800-342-3736 or visit the Department's website at www.dfs.ny.gov. RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS, YOU ARE NOT REQUIRED TO LEAVE YOUR HOME AT THIS TIME. You have the right to stay in your home during the foreclosure process. You are not required to leave your home unless and until your property is sold at auction pursuant to a judgment of foreclosure and sale. Regardless of whether you choose to remain in your home, YOU ARE REQUIRED TO TAKE CARE OF YOUR PROPERTY and pay property taxes in accordance with state and local law. Foreclosure rescue scams Be careful of people who approach you with offers to save your home. There are individuals who watch for notices of foreclosure actions in order to unfairly profit from a homeowner's distress. You should be extremely careful about any such promises and any suggestions that you pay them a fee or sign over your deed. State law requires anyone offering such services for profit to enter into a contract which fully describes the services they will perform and fees they will charge, and which prohibits them from taking any money from you until they have completed all such promised services. The foregoing Summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Elaine Slobod, Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, signed on October 23, 2019 in Goshen, New York and to be duly entered in the ORANGE County Clerk's Office, in Goshen, New York. The Nature of this action pertains to a note and mortgage held by Plaintiff on real property owned by the above named defendants as specified in the complaint filed in this action. The above named defendants have failed to comply with the terms and provisions of the said mortgage and said instruments secured by said mortgage, by failing and omitting to pay the balance due and owing and the Plaintiff has commenced a foreclosure action. Plaintiff is seeking a judgment foreclosing its mortgage against the real property and premises which situate in the Town of Wawayanda, County of Orange and State of New York and is commonly known as 343 Greeves Road, New Hampton, New York 10958 and all other relief as to the Court may seem just and equitable.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON PROPOSED PROJECT AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE
RELATING THERETO

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing pursuant to Section 859-a(2) of the General Municipal Law of the State of New York (the "Act") will be held by the Town of Montgomery Industrial Development Agency (the "Agency") on the 3rd day of December, 2019 at 6:00 o'clock p.m., local time, at the Town Hall located at 110 Bracken Road in the Town of Montgomery, Orange County, New York in connection with the following matters:

Matrix Maple Development, LLC, a New York State limited liability company (the "Company"), has submitted an application

(the "Application") to the Agency, a copy of which Application is on file at the office of the Agency, which Application requested that the Agency consider undertaking a project (the "Project") for the benefit of the Company, said Project consisting of the following: (A)

the acquisition of an interest in an approximately 26 acre portion of an approximately 59.70 acre parcel of land located at 59 Maple Avenue (currently being a portion of tax map no. 31.-1-94.2) in the Town of Montgomery, Orange County, New York (the "Land"), (2) the construction on the Land of an up to 4.9 MWAC solar community solar project (the "Facility") and (3) the acquisition and installation therein and thereon of related fixtures, machinery, equipment and other tangible personal property (collectively, the "Equipment") (the Land, the Facility, and the Equipment hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Project Facility"), all of the foregoing to constitute a community solar system and other directly and indirectly related activities; (B) granting of certain "financial assistance" (within the meaning of Section 854(14) of the Act) with respect to the foregoing, including potential exemptions from certain sales and use taxes, real property taxes, real estate transfer taxes and mortgage recording taxes (collectively, the "Financial Assistance"); and (C) lease (with an obligation to purchase) or sale of the Project Facility to the Company or such other person as may be designated by the Company and agreed upon by the Agency.

The Agency is considering whether (A) undertake the Project, and (B) provide certain exemptions from taxation with respect to the Project, including (1) from mortgage recording taxes with respect to any documents, if any, recorded by the Agency with respect to the Project in the office of the County Clerk of Orange County, New York or elsewhere, (2) from deed transfer taxes on any real estate transfers, if any, with respect to the Project, (3) from sales taxes relating to the acquisition, construction, renovation and installation of the Project Facility, and (4) the event that the Project Facility would be subject to real property taxation if owned by the Company but shall be deemed exempt from real property taxation due to the involvement of the Agency therewith, exemption from real property taxes (but not including special assessments and special ad valorem levies), if any, with respect to the Project Facility, subject to the obligation of the Company to make payments in lieu of taxes with respect to the Project Facility. If any portion of the Financial Assistance to be granted by the Agency with respect to the Project is not consistent with the Agency's uniform tax exemption policy, the Agency will follow the procedures for deviation from such policy set forth in Section 874(4) of the Act prior to granting such portion of the Financial Assistance.

If the Agency determines to proceed with the Project, the Project Facility will be acquired, constructed, reconstructed and installed by the Agency and will be leased (with an obligation to purchase) or sold by the Agency to the Company or its designee pursuant to a project agreement (the "Agreement") requiring that the Company or its designee make certain payments to the Agency.

The Agency has not yet made a determination pursuant to Article 8 of the Environmental Conservation Law (the "SEQR Act") regarding the potential environmental impact of the Project.

The Agency will at said time and place hear all persons with views on either the location and nature of the proposed Project, or the Financial Assistance being contemplated by the Agency in connection with the proposed Project. A copy of the Application filed by the Company with the Agency with respect to the Project, including an analysis of the costs and benefits of the Project, is available for public inspection during business hours at the offices of the Agency. # ORANGE COUNTY NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE

STATE OF NEW YORK
 SUPREME COURT, ORANGE COUNTY
 IN THE MATTER OF THE FORECLOSURE :
 OF TAX LIENS BY PROCEEDING IN REM :
 PURSUANT TO ARTICLE ELEVEN OF THE:
 REAL PROPERTY TAX LAW BY THE :
 COUNTY OF ORANGE

PETITION AND NOTICE OF
 FORECLOSURE

Index No.2018 - 010719

The above-captioned proceeding is hereby commenced to enforce the payment of delinquent taxes or other lawful charges which have accumulated and become liens against certain property. The parcels to which this proceeding applies are identified on the attached List of Delinquent Taxes, (hereinafter referred to as "In Rem List"), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof. This document serves both as a Petition of Foreclosure and a Notice of Foreclosure for purposes of this proceeding.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT ON THE 24th DAY OF OCTOBER 2019, THE COMMISSIONER OF FINANCE, HEREINAFTER SOMETIMES REFERRED TO AS THE "ENFORCING OFFICER", OF THE COUNTY OF ORANGE, HEREINAFTER, THE "TAX DISTRICT", PURSUANT TO LAW, SHALL FILE WITH THE CLERK OF THE COUNTY OF ORANGE, THIS PETITION OF FORECLOSURE AGAINST VARIOUS PARCELS OF REAL PROPERTY FOR UNPAID TAXES.

Effect of filing: All persons having or claiming to have an interest in the real property described on the attached In Rem List are hereby notified that the filing of this petition constitutes the commencement by the Tax District of a proceeding in the court specified in the caption above to foreclose each of the tax liens therein described by a foreclosure proceeding in rem.

Nature of proceeding: This proceeding is brought against the real property only and is to foreclose the tax liens described on the attached In Rem List. No personal judgment will be entered herein for such taxes or other legal charges or any part thereof.

Persons affected: This notice is directed to all persons owning or having or claiming to have an interest in the real property described in the attached In Rem List. Such persons are hereby notified further that a duplicate of this petition has been filed in the office of the Enforcing Officer of the Tax District and will remain open for public inspection up to and including the date specified below as the last day for redemption.

Right of redemption: Any person having or claiming to have an interest in any such real property and the legal right thereto may on or before February 28, 2020 redeem the same by paying the amount of all SUCH UNPAID TAX LIENS THEREON, INCLUDING ALL INTEREST AND PENALTIES and other legal charges which are included in the lien against such real property, computed to and including the date of redemption. Such payments shall be made to Commissioner of Finance, Orange County and mailed to:

Commissioner of Finance, County of Orange County Government Center
 255 Main Street
 Goshen, New York 10924-1698

Payment must be either by certified check, cashier's check or money order. Personal checks will not be accepted. In the event that such taxes are paid by a person other than the record owner of such real property, the person so paying shall be entitled to have the tax liens affected thereby satisfied of record.

Last day for redemption: The last day for redemption is hereby fixed as the 28th day of February 2020.

Service of answer: Every person having any right, title or interest in or lien upon any parcel of real property described on the attached In Rem List may serve a duly verified answer upon the Orange County Attorney, the attorney for the Tax District, setting forth in detail the nature and amount of his or her interest and any defense or objection to the foreclosure. Such answer must be filed in the Office of the County Clerk and served upon the attorney for the Tax District on or before February 28, 2019, the date above mentioned as the last day for redemption.

Failure to redeem or answer: In the event of failure to redeem or answer by any person having the right to redeem or answer, such person shall be forever barred and foreclosed of all his or her right, title and interest and equity of redemption in and to the parcel described on the attached In Rem List and a judgment in foreclosure may be taken by default.

Right To Repurchase: Pursuant to local law, the former owner will have the sole right to repurchase the property from the County. To participate in this repurchase program, you must pay all of the taxes (prior and present), interest and penalty. Payment must be made by cash, certified bank check or money order. Upon repurchase the County will reconvey the property back to the former owner subject to all liens of record that existed before the County took title. The only additional notice that will be provided of this right to repurchase will be by a single certified letter mailed to the address of the former owner contained in the County's records.

their long-range financial plan and will continue to review their operations costs.

Students of the Month for November

This month, Highland Elementary School named fifth grader Charlie Vogt their Student of the Month. Charlie is a fifth grade helper in the schools Kindergarten program, and is known for always saying good morning and goodbye to students and staff. In the future, Charlie would like to be a baker, specializing in big cakes.

Highland Middle School honored Garand Cockburn as their Student of the Month. Ms. Cockburn is always ready to share a story and a smile. She is known for her positive nature, insightful ideas and her imaginative writing.

Finally, Highland High School named Richard Redner (not pictured) as Student of the Month for November. Besides taking three college level courses, Redner is employed at the New Paltz McDonalds. He is still unsure of his plans after High School, but would like to someday be a family man. His dedication to overcoming any obstacle in his path makes him an exceptional Student of the Month.

Highland resident seeks clarification regarding districts sports participation policy

Eric Ruskin, a local resident and parent, stood before the Board of Education to ask for clarification of the districts athletic placement process. Currently, the Highland Central School District must follow the New York State regulations regarding athletic placement which included regulations regarding the eligibility of students wishing to participate.

Part of this policy includes a physical, performed at the school health office or with a private physician, that is reviewed by the school district's Medical Director. This ensures that all student athletes are competing against students of similar maturity and physical fitness. Referencing his daughter's struggle to meet the medical clearance process, Mr. Ruskin feels that the district may not be implementing the athletic placement process effectively. He has asked that the Board of Education, along with the Superintendent, review the policy and his daughter's situation and provide clarification.

Ruskin also asked the Board to look into the reason his application to be a volunteer coach in the district was denied, even after he had paid for and completed the necessary certifications. Board of Education President Alan Barone agreed to review both matters and would contact Mr. Ruskin privately with the Board's findings.

"Socktober" a huge success

Three classes at the Highland Elementary School collected socks throughout the month of October during the "Socktober" sock drive.

The school will donate each pair of socks collected to local organizations, where they will be distributed to those in need.

At the time of the Board of Education meeting, it was announced that the students have collected 1973 pairs of socks, needing only 27 more pairs to reach 2000 socks. Highland Middle School also got into the spirit of Socktober by collecting 372 pairs of socks. At the end of the drive on Wednesday, November 13, a total of 2033 pairs of socks were collected, double the student's original goal of 1000 pairs. Principal Freer publicly thanked On a Roll Deli, who graciously placed collection boxes in their deli, and has invited all three classes to a special lunch to celebrate.

Highland Middle School in the running to receive grant for Bike Program

Highland Middle School has applied for a grant from the Specialized Bicycle Company in the hopes of receiving 30 new bicycles for their Bike Program. Initially, the middle school was turned down for the grant. However, after reaching out and clarifying some information on the original application, the Middle School is now back in the running, making it to the second round. Highland Middle School will be submitting a video application as part of the second round in the spring of 2020.

Bus with six-foot safety arm helping to keep students safe

In September, the Highland School District bus garage received numerous complaints of vehicles passing stopped school busses as they were picking up and dropping off students. It is illegal to pass a school bus with its lights on and stop sign displayed because it creates an unsafe situation for the students.

Principal Dan Wetzel, Garand Cockburn, Meghan Connors.

To help remind and deter vehicles from passing stopped busses, one Highland bus is piloting a new, six-foot extendable bar which essentially blocks the opposite lane of the road. While some vehicles have continued to pass this bus by going around and even under the safety bar, it has been deemed effective. This bus feature, with an estimated cost of $2000, is designed for those school bus routes that stop on major roads. Many of the district bus routes utilize back roads, making the six-foot bar unusable for most of Highland's bus routes. The district plans to try out the six-foot bar on different bus routes to evaluate if more buses will be fitted with this safety feature in the future.

The next meeting of the Highland Central School District Board of Education returns to the Highland High School on Tuesday December 3 at 7 p.m.

Highland Elementary Student of the Month Charlie Vogt, with Principal Joel Freer.

Marlboro students receive President's Challenge Scholarship

The Marlboro Central School District is pleased to announce that five former Grade 8 students were awarded the President's Challenge Scholarship from SUNY Ulster and the SUNY Ulster Foundation. Upon graduating from Marlboro High School (MHS), current Grade 9 students Leonardo Trejo, Jose Iraola-Ceely, Adriana Turner, Cheishta Maraweera, and Destanie Scarpell-Rivera will each have the opportunity to earn a two-year, tuition-free college education at SUNY Ulster.

The President's Challenge Scholarship is available to Grade 8, first generation, college-bound students. Selected students receive additional guidance and mentoring throughout high school to ensure they stay on track to meet their college goals. So long as they continue to do well and graduate, they will have their first two years of college at SUNY Ulster paid for through donations from community sponsors.

"This is a wonderful program and a unique opportunity for our students and their families," said MHS Principal Ryan Lawler. "We are proud of the students who were selected and we look forward to continuing to grow this partnership with SUNY Ulster."

This is the first year that the President's Challenge Scholarship has been offered in Marlboro. To be considered eligible, Grade 8 students must have a minimum 80 percent cumulative grade point average, including at least a 75 percent cumulative grade point average in English, math, science, and social studies, through the third marking period. In addition, they must have had an 85 percent or higher attendance rate and minimal disciplinary infractions.

Interested Grade 8 students were required to submit an application and essay and sit for an interview. Selected students will now have the opportunity to meet and build relationships with their sponsors, as well as attend events at both the High School and on the SUNY Ulster campus.

Adriana Turner said she is glad she decided to apply for the scholarship and was pleased to find out she had been chosen as a recipient. "My parents have four children so this opportunity will mean less college debt," she said, adding that she plans to study Human Services at SUNY Ulster.

Cheishta Maraweera, who was born in Sri Lanka and came to Marlboro a few years ago, explained that he would be the first in his family to receive a post-secondary education in the United States. He said this scholarship will help him establish an early bond with his future college, where he plans to study Astronomy or Biology.

"We are thrilled to be able to provide this scholarship to these five well-deserving students who are dreaming of going to college," said Marlboro Superintendent Michael Brooks. "We are grateful to SUNY Ulster and the SUNY Ulster Foundation, as well as to our community sponsors for making this possible."

Lions Club honors student artist

By MARK REYNOLDS
mreynolds@tcnewspapers.com

Last week Ed Mackey Jr., of the Marlboro-Milton Lions Club, announced to the Marlboro School Board that Charlene Kanz was awarded 1st Place in the club's 2019-20 International Peace Poster Contest. The topic this year was 'Journey of Peace'.

"When we went to judge the art it was not an easy decision nor was it a quick decision and the reason was the journey that these student artists took us on was magical," he said. "We were able to see inside their hearts and inside of their minds about what they feel 'Journey of Peace' means to them."

Mackey thanked Middle School Principal Debra Clinton for supporting this contest and to art teacher Marc Eckert for guiding these student artists.

"It truly is remarkable what Charlene has done and we wanted to recognize her this evening," he said, adding that her work will go on to the Regional level, "and hopefully go on to Nationals and even go on to Global."

Mackey also presented Charlene with a $50 check from the club, "to do whatever Mackey acknowledged and thanked the other students who submitted their work: Isabella DeSantis, Jack Conroy, Samuel Granholm, Amaney Sirdah, Ruby Brown and Isabella DePrato.

Highland Middle School students learn anti-bullying skills at 'Don't Be a Monster' assembly

When Headless Horseman Hayrides & Haunted Houses in Ulster Park is not busy scaring people, it is busily spreading understanding, caring, and acceptance. Working with the fright-experts, Highland Middle School (HMS) staged an emotional presentation for students featuring some terrifying, real-life monsters—bullies!

This year's recent presentation at Highland Middle School was the seventh edition of the "Don't Be a Monster" anti-bullying assembly that has been presented to students in Grades 6 and 7. Headless Horseman illusionist Ryan Dutcher conducted the program, offering students important information about resisting the urge to bully and showing video examples that dramatized the harmful effects that bullying and intimidation can have.

"This presentation has become a staple in our efforts to combat negative behaviors at Highland Middle School," said Assistant Principal Meghan Connors, who coordinates the program as part of the school's ongoing anti-bullying effort. "Ryan does an amazing job of keeping the presentation engaging, relevant, and personal. These are key attributes to a program that will be meaningful, engage our students, and hopefully have an impact on how they respond to difficult situations in the future."

Dutcher, who revealed that he was bullied when he was young because of his affinity for doing magic tricks, advised the HMS students to avoid the various forms of bullying demonstrated in his talk, including physical, verbal, and cyberbullying. He also urged them to take action if they see someone being bullied.

"I want you to be upstanders, not bystanders," said Dutcher, explaining that being an upstander can be as simple as joining someone who is being ostracized for lunch, helping a bullied student walk away from a negative situation, or bringing bullying behavior to the attention of a trusted adult.

After listening to Dutcher's advice and participating in some targeted exercises, as well as a question and answer session, the HMS students watched a video featuring Frank Shelley, a sweet monster who is tormented at school for being different. Dutcher then introduced Shelley to the students, who clamored to give the friendly monster a high five or a handshake.

Connors said the message the program promotes – "In a world where you can be anything, be kind" – is important for students to understand.

"The message reinforces how important it is to embrace individuality, discourage bullying in your own life, and choose to make this world a better place," she said.

Marlboro Middle School empowers parents and students

On Monday, November 4, the Marlboro Middle School presented "The 8th Annual Power-Up Night" for all Marlboro Middle School Students and their parents. Marlboro Middle School students sent their parents "back-to-school" while experiencing career exploration activities/workshops. The night was free to all who attended and started at 5:30 p.m. with a pizza dinner provided by the Marlboro Middle School PTA. This year over 272 people attended this event.

This special night began with Debra Clinton, Marlboro Middle School's Principal, welcoming parents and students. Next, teachers explained how the Marlboro Middle School was in the process of applying to become an Essential Elements Schools to Watch. This process allows the Marlboro Middle School to reflect on their programs and be recognized for what they do well and shed light on areas of improvement.

Parents were then invited to attend workshops from 6:15 - 8 p.m. which included topics such as: Strategies to Help Anxious Children, Intro to Sign Language, Project Lit Community Book Club, Math, How to Help Your Child in Math, Show Me The Resources! # Ski areas gear up for winter

Ski areas across New York State had a busy summer season in anticipation of the 2019/20 ski season with several ski resorts upgrading snowmaking systems, adding new lifts, and more. Here is a round-up of what's new for the 2019-20 season:

Belleayre

The sweet sound of snowmaking has returned to the mountains. The guns were fired up late last week and as long as the cold temperatures stick around the Snowmaking crew will keep on cranking out the man made. So far, Belleayre reports making snow on Deer Run and Iroquois trails and we now also moved over to Wanatuska. Anticipated opening is Friday, November 29, the day after Thanksgiving.

Belleayre completed a $14.6 million renovation of the Discovery Lodge, added a new lift and a new beginner teaching area. Alleviating long lines and overcrowded spaces, the improvements will increase seating capacity in the cafeteria and lounge areas, and add new restrooms on the main level of the lodge. Additional upgrades are planned, including modernized and expanded space for kids' programs, and a new patio area with a new outdoor ticketing area. Belleayre is also introducing RFID for direct-to-lift capability.

Windham

In the Catskills, Windham Mountain has a new look with a new logo and branding. The resort reports that it took on major snowmaking projects this summer, including automation on the West Peak, a new booster pump on the East Peak, and replacing over 10,000 feet of air and water pipe across the mountain. While an early season opening is not "out of the questions," there were other projects that had to be completed before the snow guns could be fired up.

Windham focused on guest-focused experiences in their updated resort; including upgrades to their fixed-grip triple chair that serves beginner-intermediate terrain. Their high-speed quad was relocated, new automated snowmaking was added to several trails, a new booster pump house, as well as 10,000 feet of new pipe were also added. Guest facing changes include room renovations at The Winwood Inn, and a newly reinvented restaurant, Tavern 23. A brand-new 33-foot diameter "Umbrella Bar" with room for 125 guests in heated comfort was added to the patio.
