Wynkoop joins ABA council

Derrik R. Wynkoop, President and CEO, Walden Savings Bank, has been appointed to serve as New York's representative on the American Bankers Association's Government Relations Council.

This Year's council members have been appointed by ABA Chair James J. Edwards, Jr, and there is typically one representative from each state. Each serves a one-year term with the possibility of appointment to one additional term.

The Government Relations Council (GRC) is the leadership committee with the exclusive responsibility for recommending annual policy priorities to ABA's Board of Directors. The Council provides ongoing policy guidance to ABA leadership as policy issues arise during the year.

Its diverse membership is reflective of the industry at large, representing banks from across the country of varying asset size, charter type, and business structure, making it a critical committee in representing both the specific interests of the industry segments and the broader industry. GRC members also participate in ABA's political engagement programs.

Wynkoop and other members of the GRC serve as essential advocates of ABA's policy positions before members of the legislative and executive branches and related agencies.

"It is a great honor to serve on this important council," says Wynkoop. "I look forward to participating and helping advance the critical role that our nation's banks play in both their communities and the broader economy." Wynkoop has been in the banking industry for 33 years and has served as Walden Savings Bank's President and CEO since 2011.
