Milk Factory project is still drawing noise concerns for nearby ashram

Several months ago, associates with the Milk Factory project presented a noise study to the Town of Montgomery Planning Board after they had been advised to do so. When the results weren't completely assuring to Shanti Mandir, a neighboring ashram, the developers had another one done. Shanti Mandir still isn't convinced they won't be disturbed.

The Milk Factory is a project aimed to rehabilitate the old Borden condensed milk factory on Route 208 into a boutique hotel and spa. Part of that project is an outdoor event tent, which aims to serve as an option for guests who don't wish to have their event inside.

While the project is well supported by the local community, and even Shanti Mandir, who have stated their support for the project, the ashram fears loud noise coming from the event tent. Shanti Mandir is a quiet ashram located next to the project's location that offers spiritual practices including

Right in the front of Valley Central High School sits a memorial dedicated to six Valley Central graduates who lost their lives in Vietnam. Recently, it was announced that this memorial would be moved during the current construction happening at the school district.

Originally put up on May 29, 1989 on behalf of Valley Central student government, the memorial has long been cared for, even being a part of an Eagle Scout's project over the years. Because of the temporary relocation, local American Legion groups, local VFWs, relatives and more gathered for an intimate ceremony around the memorial.

Of those present was Town of Montgomery Supervisor Ron Feller, who led the ceremony.

"I thank everybody for coming out on short notice, and [I give] my condolences and my love for the people associated with each family, for the VFW and for the American Legion. I really do appreciate it," said Feller.

The six fallen soldiers on the memorial are Thomas Edward Adams, 25; Gary Bruce Baker, 23; Robert Francis Berger; Jimmie Van Bock, 18; Steven Matarazzo, 18; and Robert French Starbuck, 26, which were read by Valley Central Superintendent Evette Avila.

Maybrook village clerk is retiring

By AUDEEN MOORE

“A chapter is closing.”

Maybrook Mayor Dennis Leahy couldn't have put it any better at Monday's village board meeting; and all in attendance couldn't agree more. Long-time Village Clerk Valentina “Tina” Johnson will retire, effective September 5. All also agreed how much she will be missed.

Well known village-wide for her quick smile, welcoming manner and helpful disposition, Johnson has life-long roots in Maybrook. Although she was absent from Monday's meeting, her letter of resignation was read in which she noted her on-going affection for the village.

“I will never be able to express what an honor, privilege, experience and absolute wonderful 25 years I have been blessed with to serve the village,” she wrote. “I can honestly say I have enjoyed it to the fullest. Thank you to everyone for the friendships and family that I have come to love working with! It's been my pleasure!”

She asked the board to accept her retirement “with much love, thanks and great memories”. And she offered her availability to help with the transition to a new village clerk.

The village board unanimously accepted her retirement “with regret” “I hate to see her go,” Leahy said. “But I do wish her much happiness.”

New board trustee William Giannico recalled his long-time friendship with Johnson.

“I knew Tina as a person long before

I got to know her as a colleague,” he said. “She's the best.”

Trustee Daryl Capozzoli termed Johnson “fantastic to work with”.

Johnson's has a long history of service, not only to Maybrook, but to the wider town community also.

The village board awarded Johnson the 2021 Joseph E. Dineen Award for outstanding community service. In addition to her work with the village, she is a 14-year member of the Walden Rotary Club, which she served as a secretary and president. She is a former secretary of the Town of Montgomery Chamber of Commerce and has been president of the Maybrook Kiwanis Club.

At Monday's meeting, the board also noted this week's retirement of Deputy Treasurer Linda LaRosa.

“I wish Linda a long, happy and healthy retirement,” Mayor Leahy said. “I also thank Linda for her service to the village and for her help in making the Village of Maybrook a better place.”

LaRosa also served as village building inspector secretary. She is a member and past president of the village's Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Post 2064 Auxiliary.

resident and brother to the late Robert Berger, was then called up to present an American flag. This flag was originally presented to Berger's mother at Robert Berger's funeral by the United States Army.

Feller explained that they would lower the existing flag and replace it with the one Don Berger had brought.

“We will lower the existing flag, take the existing flag, fold it up and keep it. We will insert the flag that Robert Berger was given for giving his life to this country,” said Feller.

The newly inserted flag was raised to full mast, then while Taps was played, it was lowered to half mast, which it will stay at indefinitely.

Valley Central Senior and recent graduate Alix O'Connor sang the National Anthem and God Bless

America, and there was both an opening and closing prayer.

Feller announced that there would be a rededication once construction was over, in the next several months.

meditation retreats, Hatha Yoga and more.

In May, Shanti Mandir's attorney Larry Wolinsky sent a letter in response to the first noise study done. Then, at the May 8 planning board meeting, he stated "The noise study concluded that the noise level increases at the property line of Shanti Mandir."

The project's Associate Developer, Noah Bobrowsky, has been in front of the planning board multiple times, and at the June 12 planning board meeting, he alerted them that they performed a second study.

"In reading the reply from Shanti Mandir, we've put forth a really good faith effort. We've done two tests, two studies," said Bobrowsky. "We truly have nothing to hide. We did one with a DJ, we did one with a live band, and we've expended a really good amount of company resources to conduct these tests—about one full day, almost each test was three to four hours," Wolinsky was also present at the June meeting, even bringing a representative from Shanti Mandir who was there for the noise studies. The representative stated that they could hear loud music from multiple locations, as well as feel the vibrations from the drumming. They also stated another visitor made a comment about the noise without knowing what was going on.

"We do appreciate that Noah and his team have undertaken a second study. We still have questions about it that we've raised, and I'm sure the board will approve or undertake whatever due diligence it needs to undertake to get to a resolution of that," said Wolinsky.

However, Wolinsky noted one other thing that was mentioned in Shanti Mandir's response to the second sound study: use of the tent.

"I went back and looked at the town code and the definition of 'hotel' in the town code, because it was my understanding that this is being permitted in the zoning district in which it is located under the 'hotel use' classification. If that's the case, I'm having difficulty seeing how this particular tent venue, which we don't really know a whole lot about in terms of its operational characteristics, at least at this point, is in fact a permitted use," said Wolinsky.

Bobrowsky responded to this.

"Our main business is the hotel, and within that, as Larry said, we're allowed to have accessory components that support the overall function of that hotel. Now, our primary event space and venue is well within the properties and the confines of the existing buildings. The outdoor tent, as we've said since the beginning, is merely an option. It's an option to have an outdoor wedding. It's an option to have an outdoor gathering if that's desired by the client. It's not the primary means of gathering for the property," Bobrowsky stated.

He also responded to the noise concerns.

"If you look at our second study, we don't exceed the three dB limit that the New York State DEC code referenced," said Bobrowsky.

It was also recommended to Bobrowsky that he and others look into the Town of Montgomery's newly instated noise ordinance local law to make sure they are following that.

The planning board will reconvene with developers from the Milk Factory Project on Monday, July 10.

Valley Central honors retirees

It was a night to honor those who served the Valley Central School District, as the school board honored eight retirees before its regular meeting June 12. The retirees are: Diane Umstetter, William Bacon, Holly Bacon, Elaine Keefer, Lisa Korpics, Clyde Langham, Michelle Annunziata and Michele Catalfamo.

In the brief meeting that followed, Superintendent Evette Avila continued the theme of honoring those who have helped the district, in this case three young volunteers. She thanked the three student representatives on the school board: Lilly Ellison, Fiorella Vega and Kenzye Wolven. She congratulated the three seniors and wished them well as they move on from Valley Central High School.

Avila reported on a number of school activities she had attended since the last board meeting, including reading a book to elementary students. She smiled as she told the board that the students were interested in spiders. They asked her to read a book on spiders, and so she did.

The school board will hold its next meeting, its re-organizational meeting, on July 12.

Pine Bush School Board salutes athletes, thespians

Applause and cheers filled the June 13 Pine Bush school board meeting as the board recognized student-athletes, thespians, scholars and new personnel.

Mike Gillespie, Director of Physical Education, Health and Athletics, started the parade of honorees by congratulating Lisa Sorrentino, field hockey coach, who is retiring after 36 years of coaching. Gillespie noted that Pine Bush has the only field hockey team in Orange County and so the team had to travel to Ulster and Dutchess counties and further north to play its games. Sorrentino also coached softball for 17 years and basketball for a number of years.

After Gillespie called out each of 192 scholar-athletes, who shook hands with school board members, they received their pins and certificates. To be a scholar-athlete, varsity athletes must have a grade point average of 90 or above.

Robin Evans, Music Department Chair, then saluted the more than 150 students who participated in Pine Bush Theater: Little Mermaid, Jr. on the elementary school stage, Willy Wonka, Jr. on the middle school stage and Rent on the high school stage.

The board will hold its reorganizational meeting on July 7.

New home sought for senior exercise equipment

When pickle ball courts were installed in the village of Montgomery several years ago, they came at the expense of some senior exercise equipment that was removed in the process. Now, at least one village residents would like to see that unused equipment restored.

Judith Lozier appeared before the village board last week to make that request. She said she was on a committee some years ago to research and ultimately acquire the outdoor exercise equipment. She said the committee was looking to place the equipment on the Pleasure Ground walkway. Instead it was placed next to the senior center, where the pickle ball courts are now located. She said it's now sitting unused behind the police department, cover by a wild grapevine. She'd like to see it reinstalled.

"It wasn't utilized as much as we had hoped," Mayor Steve Brescia told her.

Still, the mayor promised to speak with the village department of public works about reinstalling it somewhere.

The pickle ball courts, meanwhile, have continued to grow in popularity and will soon be illuminated. It was announced at last week's meeting that the pickle ball committee had raised $16,000 for lights. They will be controlled by a timer and are scheduled to be turned off every night at 9 p.m.

The village board also accepted a bid of $18,200 to resurface the six pickle ball courts in the village. The money will come out of covid-relief funds the village received through the American Rescue Plan.

Town of Crawford looking to extend term lengths

By NADINE CAFARO
ncafarotcnewspapers.com

The Town of Crawford is hoping to extend term lengths for specific town positions.

Town Supervisor, town clerk, highway superintendent and the receiver of taxes are all current positions with two-year-terms. Town Supervisor Charles Carnes and fellow Crawford board members are hoping to change that.

"I believe that the Town of Crawford should consider going to four year terms from two year terms," Carnes said. "You guys [Crawford Town Board members] are all in four year terms. It makes no sense that the town supervisor, the town clerk, the highway superintendent [and] the receiver of taxes are two years, especially with early voting, and carrying petitions which starts in February."

Members of the board agreed with Crawford Town Supervisor Charles Carnes (r.) would like to increase the term length for himself and future successors from two to four years. He is pictured with Orange County Legislator Rob Sassi.

Carnes easily.

The introductory local law is currently titled "Extension Of Term Of Office From Two Years To Four

Years For The Offices Of Town Supervisor, Town Clerk, Town Highway

Superintendent And Town Receiver of Taxes Of The Town Of Crawford."

If passed, the extended term would begin January 1, 2024, but according to the Town of Crawford website, this is "subject to approval at a mandatory referendum to be held on November 7, 2023."

Carnes made it clear that this decision isn't just for his own benefit, but for working people and future elected officials.

"This does not benefit me because I doubt that I'll still be here in four years," Carnes said. "So it's not a benefit to me. People [won't be] running every two years [or] every one year and two months."

The board then passed a motion to hold a public hearing for the law, which will be held on July 20 at 7 p.m.

Shawangunk officials support collaborating with GAB

By RICK REMSNYDER

Town Supervisor John Valk and Councilman Brian Amthor endorsed the idea of forming a joint association with the Gardiner Association of Businesses (GAB) to promote businesses in both towns.

Valk and Amthor made their statements to the Wallkill Valley Times following the June 15 Town Board meeting at the Town Hall. The entire board attended a GAB mixer June 8 at the Oyster & Clam Bar at the Bruynswick Inn in Wallkill.

"There were businesses there from Walker Valley all the way to the Town of Newburgh line," Valk said. "It was a nice, big mix of businesses. Even though we don't have a lot of stores on the Main Street (of Wallkill), we have a lot of businesses that operate. Electricians, plumbers, attorneys and engineers. It's a matter of bringing awareness to the businesses."

Valk said putting out a directory would be a good step to promote all the local businesses.

During the board session, Amthor said about 80 people representing businesses from the Town of Shawangunk and Gardiner attended the event. "The response was really good," Amthor said. "We had about 15 or 20 more people than we expected. I spoke to all the businesses in town and they're happy we were able to put together an event like that. They're (GAB) going to have to recalibrate how the board was set up. Would Shawangunk be joining? Changing the name and things like that. We're well on our way. It's far from there, but we're going to get there."

Amthor said there are "well over 100 businesses" in the Town of Shawangunk. "Yes, you want to bring in new business but at the same time you have to support the businesses that you have," Amthor said. "That's what this organization will do. It'll give them support. I foresee having training on how to public speak, how to market, how to deal with difficult people. A lot of promotional things tying in with other chambers, too."

Lucia LaSpada, GAB president and co-founder of LACE Photo Media in Gardiner, said the association offers a variety of services to promote and assist local businesses.

GAB's website has a directory of local businesses, a listing of events and articles about businesses. Local writer Matthew Silverman writes a blog for the business association.

The GAB membership currently totals around 50 businesses, LaSpada said. She said at its height, the organization had 100 members.

"I really think this makes more sense to connect the two because the mission of Gardiner, Shawangunk and Wallkill is very similar," she said. "The vibe is very similar. You have the same scenery, a lot of the same mindset."

In other news, the board agreed to allow Watchtower Farms at 900 Red Mills Road to pave the roads near its complex at its own expense. The estimated cost to the group is about $1.4 million. Peckham Industries will do the work.

"They want this to last 25 years without repairs," Valk said. "It's more costly than what we would spend on roads. The town is contracting for the work and they're (Watchtower) reimbursing (us)."

Police Chief Gerald Marlatt announced that Sgt. Jesse Vail had resigned to join the Town of Lloyd police force. Marlatt said Vail had worked for the Town of Shawangunk for six or seven years. His last day of work will be June 20.

"We now have a vacancy for the full-time sergeant's position," Marlatt said.

"He's been an outstanding police officer," Valk said. "We're sorry to see him go."

The board unanimously approved police officer Nicole Brooks to a provisional appointment to fill Vail's spot pending the outcome of the civil service test. Marlatt said Brooks took the civil service test last week.

The board agreed to hire junior counselors Kaydence Vermilling ($14.45 per hour) and Angelica Lomangino ($14.25) and senior camp counselor Jonathan Avila ($16.25) for the upcoming summer camp.

Montgomery takes climate pledge

The Village of Montgomery has become the latest Hudson Valley community to take the Climate Smart Pledge.

According to climatesmart.ny.gov, the Climate Smart Communities (CSC) Certification program supports local governments in building a sustainable, balanced climate action program, one step at a time.

It begins with the resolution approved by the village board last week to pass the CSC pledge to join the program and become a Registered Climate Smart Community.

Trustee Randi Picarello, who introduced the resolution, said the village would be in “good company” with the village of Walden and Maybrook and the Town of Montgomery, which are already Climate Smart Communities. The towns of Shawangunk and Gardiner have also taken the pledge. The neighboring municipalities, she said, have a fair amount of experience in working on Climate Smart initiatives, and could offer assistance.

“It is my intent to engage residents that have the time and the resources and the knowledge to assist and we’re doing a lot of things right now that are doing some of this work anyway,” Picarello said.

Among the Climate Smart initiatives that could be realized include planting pollinator flowers and utilizing electric vehicle charging stations.

Mayor Steve Brescia said the CSC program has good intent, but wanted the authority to approve any allocation of village resources for the program. He said he once served on the green committee of the Orange County Legislature.

“They came out with some good ideas,” Brescia said. “They came out with some outrageous ideas too.”

Despite his concerns, the board voted 4-0 (with Trustee Walt Lindner absent) to adopt the motion as written, and to designate Picarello as the contact person to complete the process.

Fighting for the post office

Many of us who rely on the efficiency of the U.S Postal Service have been worried about its health for years. Now the very people entrusted with delivering our mail are sounding the alarm.

Several labor unions associated with the Postal Service - the American Postal Workers Union (APWU) and the National Association of Letter Carriers (NALC) - hosted a town hall meeting recently urging the general public to rally behind them in an effort to save the region's local post offices.

From Rock Tavern to Bullville to Clintondale, the local post office has long been the hub of the community. That's where customers are greeted by cheerful, helpful clerks, and where the local letter carriers know each of their customers by name.

There are numerous stories: if an elderly resident didn't pick up yesterday's mail, the local carrier might be the first to guess that something is wrong. And there's the postmaster who keeps a list of subscribers to the local newspaper handy, and just might have an extra copy or two, in case one of the addressed papers doesn't come through.

That Normal Rockwell vision is fading. Post offices are often understaffed and mail is often delayed at remote sorting locations. It's not getting better.

Under the new "Delivering for America" Plan revealed recently by Postmaster Louis DeJoy, most pieces of incoming mail will never see the inside of their local post office. They will be sorted at the regional Sorting & Delivery Center (S&DC) on Enterprise Drive in the Town of Newburgh. Your local letter carriers will Lock him up!

After reading the recent indictment handed down against Donald Trump, no reasonable person could possibly conclude that Trump should ever again be put in charge of our national security. Not only did he claim that he could declassify documents just by "thinking" about them, but he then left them out for anyone to read. This is putting the nation's most closely guarded secrets at risk. It is traitorous, criminal conduct of the highest order and it was done solely for the ego gratification of a sick man. What's just as bad is the muted reaction of many in the GOP and the defensive reaction of others. Trump and his apologists must go.

The Shawangunk Dems and A Caucus

There has been much confusion in Shawangunk regarding the Republican primary and how that relates to the Democrats. I would like to clear this up. With challenges to positions within the Republican party, the town got permission from the Ulster County Board of Elections to hold a primary allowing them early voting as well as a designated day for Republicans only to vote.

The Shawangunk Dems only have to hold a caucus in which an officially registered Democrat MUST BE present in order to vote for a candidate. Candidates are nominated and voted on during that time. If there is a

I parked my truck next to the box of bees I had as a colony on the property, checked the landing board to witness pollen coming in, walked through the front door into the house under construction and climbed the step of planks up the scaffolding in front of the fireplace. My trowels were in a neat pile, clean, just where I left them a month ago, and the water buckets had settled out and the firebrick dust and cement wash was a thick layer of sediment on the bottom of the buckets.

Garcia was there ahead of me and had a brick batch of mortar almost ready with a fine consistency and with perfect moisture content. I took my small water bucket outside and washed it out and brought in clean water for my trowels and my hands. I don't wear gloves.

I looked at where we left off on the Rumford fireplace. The blacksmith had finally delivered the custom damper. The new damper was painted black and fresh looking, and it was set on the brick of the throat of the fireplace. I checked to see if the handle worked the opening plate well enough. The swiveling plate controlled the amount of air going up the chimney. Yeah, it worked, but the handle was too short. And, with the owner – who is also the financier – at my elbow, I took the opportunity for one craftsman to bitch and bitch about the craftsmanship of another craftsman of a different guild not present, as is the wont in the real world, and pointed out all my objections before moving forward, regardless. Not perfect, a little TOO tight, “the guy must be...”; we had a good laugh. It will work. We are moving on. Doesn't need this. Didn't need that. Redundant. And what the hell took him so long? Although I didn't care in the least, as the blacksmith's tardiness was my freedom to plant tomatoes and beans and squash. It all works out if your boss is understanding.

I dunked some firebrick in the fresh pail of water. The air bubbles escaping from the dry bricks sounded like the fizz of a drink as yet not invented. I had to concentrate now as I had not done this work in a long time, and I needed to lay out the smoke chamber and other incidentals, including how the owner wanted to attach the mantel. The best way to get started is to start.

I troweled out a band of mortar and set in the damper and tapped it here and there to get it level and in position. On the extension of this layer of fresh mortar, I fleshed out my dimensions and drew lines for the firebrick of the smoke chamber to follow. Bricks laid. Now some living room wall stone, now a couple matching corner stones at the edge of the fireplace. All good so far. We kept testing the damper's door to make sure it would not hit the brickwork when opening.

Once I get going, I don't take breaks, preferring to push through to the end and get done and get out of there, and when I start saying “I think I have to go home and mow the lawn” the owners get a bit perturbed. LOL! But others take a lunch, and while they were sitting on the pile of cement blocks in the middle of the living room, I said, “I would take Zuckerberg in the Thunder Dome over Musk.”

That set the conversation ablaze.

“Zuckerberg has a couple black belts and just won rounds in a tournament.” “Musk claims training in martial arts too and street smarts! Ahahaha!” “Musk must have a hundred pounds on him.” “But I think Zuckerberg would have the stamina.” “I would watch it.” “I would watch it in a heartbeat, but I would never PAY to watch it.” “Wouldn't it be for charity?” “You kidding?” “Biggest, most ridiculous fight in history!” “I don't care. I really don't care. Let them at it.”

Then, of course, we talk about the stock market, a sure sign of a market high when plebians like us talk market. “Where is all this electricity coming from? Utilities are so underappreciated and ripe for consolidation. Look at PPL, it's down, near a three-year low and carries a 3.6 dividend.” “Look at Steel Connect.” “My ABEV hit its sell price. Sold half.” “It's so confusing right now.” “Yeah but when the VIX is this low, something cracks.”

I climbed down from the scaffolding and had Garcia hand me trowels of cement, just on the tip, while I crawled on my knees into the firebox and, working over my head, sealed the lower rim of the damper before it all dried too much. Cursing and awkward, I was starting to get hot and complained about the AC, of which, of course, there was none, and I had Garcia open a couple windows; and Moose, a carpenter of extraordinary strength, brought an electric fan into the room and plugged it in which was very unexpected and extremely kind, as I never expect my incessant complaining to produce anything.

We got the damper in, brought the smoke chamber up to the point of the tip inward and laid some nice stone across the lintel and into the corners of fireplace column. When the mortar is done, I'm done. To be continued God knows when. (That's just an expression.)

Town of Shawangunk Democratic committee

A worthy cause

The letter submitted by Elizabeth Case appearing in last week’s WVT identified causes worthy of grant funding. There are certainly many causes in need of funding and charitable giving. As a life long dog lover and Navy Veteran serving in WWII, Mickey would be first to agree that the Humane Society and American Legion are very worthy causes. In fact, Hattie Millspaugh Sadlier, Mickey’s great-aunt, gifted her father’s home to the Walden American Legion Post. The Town of Montgomery Ambulance Corps now occupies the property on North Montgomery St.

However, consideration of other worthy causes has nothing to do with seeing the Riverfront Park through to completion. The seeds to creating a waterfront park were planted many years ago when the 2012 Village Comprehensive Plan established the recreational goals of the Village following input from residents. “The Village of Walden is also pursuing efforts to create new public access points along the Wallkill River in the vicinity of Bradley Park and in other locations along this river. This Comprehensive Plan supports continuing efforts to enhance public access.”

NYS provided grant funding to many communities within the Hudson River Greenway and tributaries to advance the State’s goals of enhancing public access to waterways. This is how the Village’s funding priorities were established.

In 2016 the Village dedicated the future park to Mickey Millspaugh on his 90th birthday to recognize his decades of commitment to many causes in the Village. He was honored to receive the recognition. Family members traveled from Montana, Wisconsin, Connecticut and Indiana for the dedication ceremony and the family donated and installed a dock (which was later relocated to the Olley Park).

It is well known that Mickey unselfishly gave much of his time to the Village serving as a Village Trustee, Planning Board Member, Village Historian and frequently sharing his engineering skills.

Yes, Ms. Case, Mickey Millspaugh was a good man and for this reason the park should be completed.

need to report there for work, pick up your mail and then head out to pursue “the swift completion of their appointed rounds,” in the words of the unofficial motto of the postal service.

The changes, according to union officials, would begin in September in Newburgh, Cornwall, Cornwall on Hudson, Clintondale, Maybrook, Salisbury Mills, Rock Tavern, Wallkill and Beacon. The next phase, in February of 2024, would shift mail sorting away from Walden, Modena, Montgomery and Fishkill.

The unions fear for the safety of employees who must traverse Route 17K or the Newburgh Beacon Bridge in vehicles not designed for long-distance travel. Customers may be concerned with further delays potentially caused by bottlenecks at the regional S&DC.

As for the local newspaper, we may no longer have the luxury of bringing papers to the aforementioned post offices but may soon be bringing them to Enterprise Drive, along with the tubs of papers with out-of-state addresses.

The postal service maintains that the affected post offices will not be closed, but will remain open for other services like the selling of stamps and shipping products, taking passport photos and for the acceptance of packages to mail. All facilities can anticipate a reduction in staff. At places like the City of Newburgh Post Office on Liberty Street, where lines can be long and where there’s already a shortage of window clerks, there’s a fear that further delays will result.

And there is cause to wonder if these changes will eventually lead to further cuts and closures. The elegant brick post offices in Walden and Newburgh are both nearly a century old. Once the staff has been whittled down, will they be declared surplus and placed on the market?

If you are concerned about these possible changes, contact Congressman Pat Ryan at patryan.house.gov/contact.

Whatever changes that do come should not take us by surprise.

SUPERINTENDENT’S MESSAGE

Dear Members of the Valley Central Community,

It is truly an honor and privilege to serve as your new Superintendent of Schools. Over the past six months, I have had the opportunity to meet with countless students, staff, families and community members. I am deeply moved by the warm welcome and the outpouring of support. I have visited classrooms, had lunch with students, attended school and athletic events, met with partner organizations, led professional learning and analyzed multiple types of data. Thank you for sharing your ideas, concerns, joys and pride in our District. Your voices have helped us plan for the future. We will continue to support all students in successfully achieving academically, socially and emotionally, provide extracurricular opportunities and foster caring learning environments where students are at the center.

On behalf of the Valley Central School District, I would like to offer my sincere thanks to the community for its thoughtful consideration of our 2023-2024 budget. We worked diligently to create a budget plan that both meets the needs of our students and is mindful of the impact to taxpayers. I feel very fortunate to be a part of a community that values education and places their trust in us to guide the next generation of the Valley Central community.

Please be reminded the Board of Education adopted a resolution on May 22, 2023 to close the High School/Middle School campus to use and occupancy by the public for the summer in order for the capital improvement project that is underway to proceed without interruption and to ensure the health and safety of the public. This will be the second phase of construction for the redesign of the entrance and exit, bus lanes, traffic lanes, walkways and sidewalks in front of both buildings. The High School/Middle School campus will be closed beginning midmorning on June 25 through August 20. The closing includes all grounds including athletic fields, tennis courts and track, as well as the pool. Gates will be installed at both the entrance and exits of the complex for the time period that the campus is closed. We appreciate the cooperation of the community and look forward to the completion of this capital project.

Summer is a great time for students to read for fun and strengthen their love for reading. Please encourage your children to read daily over the summer months.

I would like to wish our 2023 graduates much luck and success in the journey ahead, and all of our District families a safe and enjoyable summer!

Your Proud Superintendent,
Evette Avila

Clinton Street Car Show to benefit Food Pantry

Plans are underway for the 2023 Clinton Street Car Show, which will take place in the Village of Montgomery on Sunday, September 17 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. This year, the event will benefit the Montgomery Food Pantry, which serves the ongoing urgent food needs of residents in the Town of Montgomery and surrounding areas.

The Montgomery Food Pantry will receive all proceeds from the event, including entry fees, donations and more to help ensure area residents are not left hungry. The event marks a new community collaboration between the organizers of this popular longtime event and the Montgomery Food Pantry, which has been serving the community for decades.

Event coordinators are seeking the support of area businesses and residents through sponsorships and donations. The Montgomery Food Pantry has established the Montgomery Food Pantry Fund at the Community Foundation of Orange and Sullivan to accept donations at https://cfsny.fcsuite.com/erp/donate/create/fund?funit_id=2485 until July 15.

Village of Montgomery Mayor L. Stephen Brescia said that the new partnership between the Village's Clinton Street Car Show and the Montgomery Food Pantry is a perfect example of what can be accomplished by simply talking with neighbors and exploring new opportunities.

"Nearly ten years ago, the car show committee began its mission to create a brand and a very special annual event that is now recognized throughout the region," said Brescia. "Having the food pantry benefit from this new partnership is the real success story for our community, particularly when food insecurity remains a significant problem."

Montgomery Food Pantry Board Chair Judy Gridley said the Clinton Street Car Show will have a definite impact on promoting awareness of the pantry to the community it's been serving for more than 40 years.

"We hope to make our community aware of our commitment to reconstructing the self-esteem, self-sufficiency and dignity of our clients through nonjudgmental compassion and care," said Gridley. "Through food, financial donations and our dedicated volunteers, we can provide not only sustenance but also hope to those we are honored to serve. As always, we are so thankful for the support of our community!"

All models and years of domestic and imported cars are welcome to participate in the show. Cars must be registered by noon on the day of the show. Registration is twenty dollars, and parking spaces will be designated on a first come basis. Organizers expect up to 125 cars to be displayed on Clinton Street for the public to view.

Wet birds DO fly!

Despite some iffy weather and ominous clouds, the New York Air Show drew thousands to Orange County Airport this past weekend Ground displays, like this Navy helicopter, were a big attraction.

Kent Pietsch turned his engine off at 6,000 feet and glided his plane to a stop at the feet of Orange County Executive Steve Neuhaus.

A volunteer found a novel way to dry off the chairs soaked by Saturday morning rain.

The main attraction, the Navy's Blue Angels needed a minimum ceiling of 10,000 feet in order to fly. By mid afternoon on Saturday, they had just enough. Sunday's show would start early in order to beat the rain.

Valley Central celebrates 2023 commencement

Valley Central Class of 2023.

By NADINE CAFARO
ncafarotcnewspapers.com

This past rainy Saturday, Valley Central High School held their 65th annual commencement. Friends, family and loved ones gathered in the high school’s gymnasium to celebrate the class of 2023. Despite the rainy day, the bleachers were packed, and everyone was still ecstatic to watch the ceremony.

At 10 a.m., audience members rose to watch Valley Central students slowly march toward their seats to “Pomp and Circumstance.” After a performance of the Star Spangled Banner by senior class choir members, the Pledge of Allegiance from Senior Class Dean Brian Quinn and an Invocation from Senior Class President Azaziah Marshall, everyone returned to their seats. Codi Rumsey, Valley Central’s 2023

salutatorian, then gave a speech. Rumsey explained how important her support system was to her.

"Every person needs a support system who helps to build them up into the person that they are today. I encourage you all to take the time to thank everyone who has helped you on your journey," said Rumsey.

Following this, Valley Central High School Principal Russell Burns gave a presentation of awards, noting that this year students received a total of $103,026,265 in scholarships and awards. He also recognized the new members of their National Honor Society, as well as honoring retirees, faculty, senior class advisors, administration and more.

Up next, Valley Central Valedictorian Femi Yusuff gave his speech, earning a standing ovation from the crowd.

"The actions of even just one person now affects all of our lives, and if you want to survive, do not sink the ship. Do not be the worst version of yourself, do not make the wrong decision," said Yusuff.

There were then words from Principal Burns, Superintendent of Schools Evette Avila and Board of Education President Joseph Bond. All wished well for graduates, with Avila specifically mentioning this was her first graduating class.

She also mentioned that this class uniquely went through unprecedented times, and because of their commitment, they persevered.

"You will go down in history for being resilient, using technology in new and innovative ways and overcoming many complex obstacles. You have succeeded and are here today because of your commitment," said Avila.

Then, teachers Stephanie Hernandez and David Miller announced the name of each graduating student as they received their diploma.

After turning their tassels, they threw their caps up high and walked out to "The Masterpiece" to greet their families and celebrate.

Wallkill graduates celebrate the end of high school

By ALBERTO GILMAN
agilman@tcnewspapers.com

Wallkill Central School District faculty and staff, Board of Education members, administrators and families celebrated 249 brand new graduates under an overcast sky on Friday, June 23. The Class of 2023 completed their high school journey with many going to high ranking colleges and universities, entering the workforce or joining military service. A combined total of 126 awards and scholarships were presented to students within this graduating class for academic achievement, service and other leadership areas and school initiatives.

The Wallkill Class of 2023 were in their freshman year during the first year of the pandemic and were not able to experience several school events and class activities together during that year. Upon the return to in-person instruction, the class resumed academic and athletic events, seeing friends and working on their assignments looking towards the end goal of graduation their senior year.

Brian Masopust, Principal, welcomed those in attendance to the commencement ceremony on the Wallkill field and congratulated the graduating class on making it to the special celebration. "Graduating from high school is an achievement that should elicit great pride. You've all worked very hard to make it to this event, and I'm honored to be a part of it with you tonight," said Masopust. Superintendent Kevin Castle, Assistant Superintendent for Support Services Brian Devincenzi, Board of Education President Joseph LoCicero, Board of Education members and other respective members of the district staff and administrators were recognized and applauded during Masopust's opening remarks. With the weather at bay, Masopust jokingly shared that Castle and LoCicero forfeited their time to make remarks to ensure the graduates received their diplomas before any rain, which was met with laughter and applause from the crowd.

"Speaking at the Wallkill Senior High School graduation is an immense honor and one that I do not take for granted. As I reflect on our last four years together, there's no doubt that the class of 2023 is special. Every class in high school has standouts, but rarely, schools are blessed with a class that combines talent, work ethic, kindness and compassion for each other and the community as a whole. At last year's commencement ceremony, I encouraged the graduates of the Class of 2022 to create a disciplined work ethic, embody kindness and empathy and push themselves out of their comfort zones. It's clear that you've [graduates] already built the foundation in those areas," said Masopust. "I leave you with this ancient Irish saying that my family shared with me the night I graduated from high school, on this field 19 years ago. May the road rise up to meet you. May the wind be always at your back. May the sun shine warm upon your face, the rains fall soft upon your fields and until we meet again, may he hold the keys to your success in the palm of your hand."

Benjamin Buchalte, National Honor Society President, Salutatorian Joseph Wagner, Valedictorian Colin McCartney, President of Student Government Association Hannah Stewart and Senior Class President Marco Martini were all welcomed to the podium to share personal remarks and to hopefully bestow some wisdom to their fellow classmates.

"Class of 2023, congratulations. It may seem surreal, but you have successfully made it through every test, quiz and essay that high school had to offer. Not only that, but you've all made memories that will stick with you for the rest of your life," said Buchalte. "Being here at this moment is bittersweet. How lucky we are to have friends, teachers and memories that makes it so hard to say goodbye. Eighteen years of memories and experiences went by in the blink of an eye. If your teen years have taught you anything, cherish the time you have on this Earth. I encourage all of you to dream big. Dream bigger than you can imagine." Buchalte was accepted to and will be attending the University of South Carolina in the fall.

"As we celebrate our much-awaited high school graduation, we [graduates] should acknowledge the love, support and guidance of all the people that contributed to our journey," said Wagner. "While it's only been four years, it's now starting to feel like I've known many of my classmates my whole life. Now, we [graduates] will finally be able to pursue our passions. I hope that as we move on to this new part of our lives, we always put our best foot forward and stay Panther strong." Wagner will continue his academic studies by attending Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute this coming fall semester.

"Often, people think of the valedictorian as the smartest kid in the school. In some cases that can be true; however, there's a lot more that goes into it. I believe that there are smarter people than me in this crowd. People that can fix car engines, create beautiful works of art or can write like an accomplished author. Who's to say those people are any less smart than me? Everyone has their own skills, and everyone here is just as smart as me in their own way. That's what makes today so great. Everyone has made it to this point, everyone has accomplished amazing things, and today everyone is celebrated," said McCartney. "I will never forget any of you or this place, and neither should you." McCartney will be attending Syracuse University this coming fall.

"Everyone has their own skills and everyone here is just as smart as me in their own way. That's what makes today so great. Everyone has made it to this point, everyone has accomplished amazing things and today everyone is celebrated." Valedictorian Colin McCartney.

"I am eternally grateful for this place [Wallkill High School]. I'm grateful for the people I've met, for the relationships I've made, for the opportunities I've been given, the teachers I've learned from, just the overall experiences that I've gained from Wallkill," said Stewart. "We [graduates] all have the power to not let our uncertainty keep us stagnant. We have the power to keep pushing forward and experience life the way it was meant to be experienced.

One moment at a time." Stewart will continue her education overseas as a member of the incoming class at the University of Glasgow.

"Not having a phone allowed me to live in the moment and interact with our amazing class. It allowed me to discover the uniqueness within all of you, the Wallkill Class of 2023 comprised of athletes, scholars, musicians, performers, some of you even a combination of all of these, and many will pursue these passions throughout college. Never forget these passions and hold them close to your heart," said Martini. "In the words of Ferris Bueller, 'Life moves pretty fast; if you don't stop and look around once in a while, you could miss it.'" Martini also took the opportunity to thank his father, Newburgh Town Justice Jude Martini, during his remarks. Martini will continue his academic journey at Cornell University this fall.

Once all remarks were made, Masopust welcomed Castle to the podium to confirm the students as high school graduates. Once confirmed, administrators presented diplomas to the eager 249 graduates. Once all diplomas were given, tassels were turned, caps were thrown in the air and applause rang out, thus concluding the journey of these students.

Students pause and embrace their teachers along the walk to the field.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Initiation of Remedial Investigation Activities, Former Southern Landfill and Associated Waste Disposal Areas at the Former Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh and New Windsor, New York.

The United States Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) is distributing this notice to inform the community of a Remedial Investigation (RI) that will be starting in July 2023 within the Former Southern Landfill and associated waste disposal areas at the Former Stewart Air Force Base (AFB) in Newburgh and New Windsor, New York. The RI is being conducted under the Formerly Used Defense Sites (FUDS) Program in accordance with the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA).

The purpose of the RI is to assess potential impacts from Department of Defense (DoD)-related activities, which occurred at the former AFB between 1947 and 1970, determine if there are any sources of DoD-related chemicals at the Site, and conduct risk assessments to evaluate potential risks to human health and the environment. Historical records indicate the waste disposal areas contain household garbage from Base housing, wastes from food preparation facilities, construction and demolition debris, spent practice shell casings, incinerator ash, and industrial wastes associated with base and aircraft maintenance. The RI will collect soil, groundwater, surface water, sediment, and soil gas; the samples will be sent to off-site laboratories for analysis. Analyses will include a wide range of chemical classes in addition to physical parameters to characterize the nature and extent of potential chemicals at the Site and conduct the risk assessments.

The preliminary phase of RI sampling activities is anticipated to start in July 2023 with an expected duration of approximately five weeks. The data from the preliminary phase will be evaluated for data gaps, and if they are found to exist, supplemental phase(s) of RI sampling will be conducted in late-2023 or early-2024. The combined dataset will be used to prepare a RI Report which will include the risk assessments. The results of the RI will be incorporated into subsequent steps of the CERCLA process including a Feasibility Study, Proposed Plan, and Record of Decision. There will be multiple opportunities for public involvement and input throughout the CERCLA process. Reports will be available for review at the public repository for this project located at:

Newburgh Free Library
124 Grand Street
Newburgh, NY 12550
(845) 563-3600

Elaine Jean Nixon

On June 11, 2023, Elaine Jean Nixon passed away at the age of 90, after a long illness. Elaine was the proud mother of three children, Steven Nixon of Middletown, NY, Suzanne Nixon of Ashburn, VA and Glenn Nixon of Montgomery, NY, and the grandmother of eight grandchildren and eight great grandchildren, all whom survive her.

Elaine Jean Nixon was born on October 5, 1932 to Walter and Gertrude Peterson of Leonia, NJ. A graduate of Leonia High School, she was the spirited Captain of the Varsity Cheerleaders and, with her beauty capturing all, the Homecoming Queen. She attended the Berkeley Secretarial School in NY and after graduation, worked as a secretary for the P. Lorillard Company in New York.

Elaine was married to Robert A. Nixon, Esq.,

Attorney of Law, for 49 years, who predeceased her in 2002. Pregnant with her first child Steven, she became a stay-at-home mom, way before the term existed and was honored. When her children were teenagers, she went to work for her husband's law firm, Robert A. Nixon, Esq., as the Executive Secretary until his death.

She will be remembered for her love of her children and grandchildren and her amazing ability to nourish her family with home cooked dinners, seven days a week, served at 5 p.m. precisely, for decades. Taking after her mother, she was a talented artist and enjoyed needlepoint, ceramics, painting and interior decorating.

The family will be having a private funeral and celebration of life. In lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be made to Hospice of Orange and Sullivan Counties, Inc., hospiceoforange.com in her name.

Arrangements were made by Millspaugh Funeral Directors.

AROUND THE VALLEY

Audubon winning video taken at Shawangunk Grasslands

The National Audubon Society announced the winners of the 2023 Audubon Photography Awards. Now in its fourteenth year, the contest features stunning work from professionals, amateurs and young people that highlights the beauty of birds and the joy of capturing them through photographs and videos. The Video Prize celebrates the dynamic movement and unique behaviors of birds interacting with their habitat. This year, the state-endangered Short-eared Owl took home top prize.

Video Award Winner Steven Chu described the story behind the shot:

"I've spent the past four winters setting out every free moment to document Short-eared Owls. They survey the grasslands for voles close to sunset, but many times the birds don't come out at all or are too far away. On this day, at the end of the trail, I heard an owl call. I saw another fly quickly to the first. The birds locked talons and cartwheeled downward, releasing each other just before hitting the ground. I'd never seen this before. It was my lucky day!"

Photo and video award winners and honorable mentions will be featured in the Summer 2023 issue of Audubon magazine.

The quest for adventure

Pine Bush grads weather the storm

By NADINE CAFARO
ncafaro@tcnewspapers.com

Though their graduation time moved up to 4 p.m. due to inclement weather, on top of getting rained on anyway, the Pine Bush 2023 graduating class still sat on the Thomas F. Loneragan Field in blue and gold gowns waiting patiently to throw their caps high in the air.

Nearly 400 Pine Bush students walked across the stage last Friday for their annual commencement. Faculty members, administration, Board of Education members, family and friends gathered on the football field with umbrellas to watch the ceremony unfold.

After seniors walked to their seats on the field while the concert band played “Pomp and Circumstance,” Senior Class President Jackson Schultz led with the Pledge of Allegiance. Following this, Pine Bush Principal Aaron Hopmayer and Superintendent of Schools Brian Dunn provided some remarks.

“This is the quest and the adventure that I most want to wish you my very best in terms of your success, your bravery, and your courage,” said Dunn.

Pine Bush seniors were met with cheers as they walked out onto the track to “Pomp and Circumstance.”

Hopmayer followed, encouraging the students to never stop learning or caring.

“Do not be tied to outdated ideas. Be curious, be open minded, be humble. Learn from your successes and your failures. Learn from others and learn from yourself, and finally, never stop caring,” said Principal Hopmayer.

After the introduction of honor graduates from Hopmayer, which included the top 30 students in the class, Salutatorian Colby Zupetz made a speech. He encouraged his fellow classmates to find their passion and follow it.

“If there’s anything I want all of you to take away from today, it is the lesson of living a life worth living. Have fun and do things with a burning passion. When you take time to do the things you love, you’ll find yourself a lot happier,” Zupetz stated.

After this, six recipients, including three community members, one staff member and two seniors, received principal awards. Following this was the second honor graduate address from Valedictorian Rebecca Magnetico.

“It’s time to add new characters to our story and maybe even change the setting. It’s okay not to know the right way to write this next section, or even the title of the novel you’re trying to create for yourself, because you are in control of the pen and paper,” said Magnetico, who compared the next stages of their life to storytelling.

After this, Magnetico led the class in turning their tassels, and soon after, the 2023 senior class eagerly grabbed their diplomas as their names got called.

After the ceremony, the students walked off the field to “Fanfare Medley” and arrived near the front of the high school to greet their loved ones and celebrate the momentous day.

Family, friends and faculty lined up along the track to greet the graduating Class of 2023.

Pine Bush graduates used umbrellas and wiped the water off their seats to get through the rainy ceremony.
