Two vie for seat on Highland Board of Fire Commissioners

By MARK REYNOLDS

On Tuesday December 12, Highland residents will have the opportunity to vote for one of two candidates who are seeking a five-year term on the Board of Fire Commissioners. Voting is scheduled from 5 to 9 p.m. at the Highland Fire House located at 25 Milton Avenue, Highland.

Stephen DiLorenzo is seeking re-election to the board. He was first elected as a Commissioner in 1998 and in the last 10 years has served in the position of Chairman.

DiLorenzo joined the Highland Hose Company in 1969 and has served as a Line Officer, Assistant Chief and as Chief of the department. He has worked on a number of committees and has been a Trustee for 25 years. He also served as the Grand Marshall for the department's 125th anniversary parade.

DiLorenzo said the fire department has been a big part of his life, saying, "it is in my blood. My father was a fireman, was a life member and a Commissioner, and I felt that I wanted to be a part of it," adding that his father-in-law, Gordon Bush, was also a Commissioner. "I guess it was in the making that I would be in the same company."

DiLorenzo is retired from his heating oil business that he owned for more than 40 years. He said he

Marlborough reviews two short-term rental proposals

The ongoing review of an application for Stralow Farm, a short-term rental on Lattintown Road, dominated most of the Marlborough Planning Board's December 4 meeting.

Owners Eric Stralow and Raven Burgos seek approval for a short-term rental cottage at 551 Lattintown Road. The 27.7 acre parcel is zoned rural-agricultural (R-Ag-1), and the two-room rental unit is what is commonly known as a "tiny house." There is also a private home and mobile home on the parcel.

The couple plan to rent the small unit to a maximum of four people. Patrick Hines, principal of MHE Engineering

Last week New York State Senator Michelle Hinchey [D-NY41] held a town meeting at the Hudson Ale Works in Highland. Assemblyman Jonathan Jacobson [D-NY104] joined her and together they discussed what legislation and issues they are presently working on.

Hinchey represents four counties – Greene, Columbia, half of Ulster County and northern Dutchess – 56 towns, 150 volunteer fire departments, 42 school districts and about 300,000 people.

Hinchey, who is in the middle of her second, two-year term, serves

Blue-Light Tree commemorates fallen officers

By ROB SAMPLE

About 100 people turned out for the Town of Marlborough's annual Blue Light Tree Lighting Ceremony, held Sunday, December 3 at Marlborough Town Hall.

This was the 11th year the town has hosted the event, which honors police officers who have given their lives in the line of duty. A total of 107 police officers have lost their lives in this manner from December 12 of last year to today. Accordingly, people who attended the ceremony hung 107 light-bulb-shaped ornaments commemorating these officers.

The annual event was first launched by Officer Curtis Fulton, who also served as emcee of the ceremony. As its name denotes, the tree's lights are blue when it is illuminated – a color that has traditionally been associated with police work.

Fulton pointed out that this tradition dates to early 1800s England, when Sir Robert Peel wanted the attire of police officers in London to be distinct from British soldiers – who wore red coats. “So, he chose blue, which was carried over to our country when the first municipal police department was established in New York City,” Fulton noted.

The term “thin blue line” also came into use to represent officers as a group – “men and women, your family, neighbors, maybe your sons and daughters, all members of the public, just like everyone here today, who put on a blue uniform, body armor, and appropriate tools and weapons, in order to stand in the gap serving and protecting both strangers and neighbors alike,” Fulton said.

Because of their service obligations, police officers must forego family celebrations, children's events at school, kids' sports, vacations, and other events. “This list could go on and on,” Fulton said. “The officers whose lives we honor tonight, however, have given up everything – with little or no thought of the consequences.”

Six additional ornaments were hung to commemorate the six officers who have died thus far in 2023 in New York State. These ornaments replicate the officer's shield with a thin blue line on a black background. They are designed and fabricated each year by Marlborough Police Officer Bruce Griffing and his family.

“This is the first year in New York that no officer died violently,” said Fulton. “All of our New York officers died from 911-related illnesses from when they participated in rescue efforts at the site of the two collapsed towers of the World Trade Center in New York City on September 11, 2001. One New Jersey trooper is included in our list as he was assigned to a New York post.”

Fulton also suggested that people throughout the town show their support for the police through a blue window candle, lights on a tree, or a porch lamp. “It's so important not to forget,” he said. “For it is remembering, however painful, that we bear the seeds of hope for a better tomorrow.”

of New Windsor and consultant for the Town of Marlborough, noted that the town's code-enforcement officer had no issue with its use as a short-term rental. Many of his and the board's queries concerned the sanitation system that the tiny house utilizes.

"In your application, it states that 'human waste is removed by clients,'" Hines noted. "I don't know how that is done and if that would be acceptable in Ulster County."

Burgos explained that toilet waste becomes encased in a moisture-proof, odor-proof container made from thick plastic. This then goes into a box for removal or disposal.

"We encourage guests to take it with them, but if they don't want to do that it is disposed of in our dumpster by our cleaning person for an extra fee," Burgos noted. "That entire fee is then paid to our cleaning person."

Board member Steve Jennison said the process differed significantly from the composting toilets commonly used in travel campers, and wanted to know which code in county and state regulations covered the type of disposal system Burgos described. "I'm only aware of the requirements for a composting toilet," he said.

Jennison also inquired whether the couple had obtained a letter addressing this topic from the Ulster County Health Department. "I don't have that but I will do whatever needs to happen to get it," Burgos responded.

Other questions for Burgos and Stralow stressed their need to clarify that the mobile home on the couple's property would not be used as a rental. The mobile home is vacant, Burgos noted.

"I submitted our bookings with our application to clarify that just the small unit is rented, and the mobile home is not," Burgos said. The couple has rented the tiny house for several years and is filing the short-term rental application because of a change in the town code. Burgos added that the couple usually rents to just two people at a time.

Board member Bob Troncillito noted that modifications are needed to the site's driveway. "It is very long and the Fire Department is requiring the applicants to put in a small turnaround at the end," Troncillito said. "A small knoll there will need to be taken out to create the turnaround."

Board member James Garofalo said check-in/check-out times, which are on the application, don't adequately

on 7 committees – Agriculture and Food (which represents more than 1,000 farms), Energy and Telecommunications, Environmental Conservation, Cultural Affairs, Tourism and Parks & Recreation, Finance, Transportation and Local Government. She requested to serve on these committees because they are of central concern for her district.

Hinchey said during her tenure she has had a hand in getting 69 bills signed into law, most recently designating March 8th as International Women's Day in New York State. When Hinchey took over the Agricultural Committee in 2021, she worked to support and protect the local food supply and agricultural related businesses (by about $5million). She said a recent bill that passed in the Senate requires state agencies to purchase New York State grown food.

"That just makes sense, it creates a circular economy, keeps our tax dollars local and it helps New York businesses, so for the first time ever there are purchasing thresholds for those state agencies," she said, pointing out that although the bill did not get through the Assembly, "the Governor loved the idea so much that she did it as an Executive Order and it is now starting to roll out."

Hinchey said the state has now approved free meals to all school age children in the state, picking up the ball after federal money dried up after the pandemic. She said this removes the stigma of not being able to pay, "because there are many families that are right on that line that may not qualify for the program, but being able to make sure that kids get food should not be something that a family has to worry about." Hinchey said a coalition was created to expand the free meals program, modeled after what Montana did a few years ago. Presently 81 percent of all New York State students are fully covered for free meals, "It's a huge jump forward and is really exciting."

Hinchey acknowledged that the Hudson Valley is facing a huge housing crisis and has led a fight in the Senate for the largest investment in upstate housing, "that our state has ever had." She said part of the investment is intended to fund a new program called the Small Rental Development Initiative.

"This actually creates funding support from the state to build apartment units of 20 or less, so long as they are affordable for the community," she said.

In addition, Hinchey has increased funding for the Restore Project that helps seniors, people with disabilities or those of lower incomes to afford home repairs.

Hinchey said we all owe a debt of gratitude to our First Responders and EMS workers, and she is seeking to secure $25 million to help fire departments purchase equipment and to fix up their firehouses.

Constituents complained loudly about Gov. Kathy Hochul's proposed plan that would allow public health officers to arrest people and hold them indefinitely in Quarantine Camps if suspected of exposure to a communicable disease.

News organizations have pointed out that this means everybody at anytime, with no need for proof of infection, no hearing, no magistrate, and no legal counsel for the accused, no due process – all that is explicitly required by the quarantine law.

Many have compared this to a dark period in our history during WW II when Americans of Asian descent were placed in internment camps in the western part of the United States. At the end of the war most of these citizens lost their homes and livelihoods simply because of their heritage. Hinchey said she will be reviewing the recent appeal that put this idea back in the public arena.

In a post meeting interview, Hinchey said, "One of the things I actually love about this job is the breadth of substance that we cover. I get to work on legislation from Utility Reform, to Agriculture, Environmental Conservation and Hospice; we get to do so much and we get in touch and learn about so many things."

Hinchey understands that in these town forums she will not always be able to cover everything that affects the lives of her constituents, or that directly intersect with her position as a State Senator, but people will still ask, "because they have so few opportunities to actually voice their concerns with their elected officials, which is why I feel doing town halls is so important."

Hinchey said town hall meetings inform her about what issues are most important to the people in her district; "things that we need to change, things we need to fix. That's the voice I want to be."

Hinchey heard her constituents loudly complain about the estimated billing that Central Hudson does, which often incorrectly calculates bills, with some that are thousands of dollars.

"The whole situation with Central Hudson is a travesty and it's important to know that we as Legislators are actually not legally allowed to lobby the Public Service Commission [PSC] or ask them for things as they are an independent investigative body," she said, adding that customers can contact Public Advocate Richard Berkley for assistance in getting a correct bill from the company. "I think people still need better transparency on their bills and just saying this is what you owe, period, deal with it, is not an acceptable answer from a utility company. You have to be transparent about why and how people are being charged. I don't think that's asking too much of our utility company."

Hinchey commented on her town hall style meeting.

"I'm always happy to be in Lloyd and always happy to do our town halls. I think they're really important... and after I heard thank you for the work our team is doing, everything from support for library funding to closing the digital divide, to agricultural support. We do it to be in the community to hear people's concerns and also to see things that we're doing that people appreciate and like so we can continue to do more of it."

Rain doesn't dampen Holiday Spirit at Milton Tree Lighting

By ROB SAMPLE

On and off rain limited the crowds but didn't chill the festive mood at the annual Milton holiday tree lighting, which took place on Sunday afternoon, December 3.

With a section of Main Street cordoned off for the festivities, visitors got a visit from Santa (aboard the Milton fire company engine) and enjoyed refreshments and music. Several vendors were on hand, and the town Recreation Department had an ornament-building booth for kids.

A "snow" machine sent suds and bubbles into the air, adding to the cheer. Indoors, the Sarah Hull Hallock Library hosted activities for kids and raffled off an assortment of gift baskets as a fundraiser. The Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts also staffed booths, as did the Marlboro Dukes youth football and cheerleading organizations.

"The crowd wasn't as big as what we usually see, but plenty of people came anyway and had a good time," noted Vivian Lanzarone, owner of Main Street's Vivian's Photography and one of the event's organizers.

Charlie Gent, owner of Rook Karate and Fitness on Route 9W in Marlboro, had a booth at the event for the very first time. He opened his business six months ago and now has 20 students.

"We had plenty of families stop by our booth and pick up schedules for our classes," said Gent, who was at the booth with his mom, Jennie. The 30-year-old Marlboro native has taught martial arts for the past 10 years. Among his accomplishments, Gent coached the winning team in the 2019 Bare-Knuckle Karate world championship.

Aboard the Milton fire company engine, "Santa" (Greg Lobdell) waves goodbye to visitors to the annual Milton tree-lighting ceremony on December 3.

Visitors were encouraged to bring outdoor-friendly ornaments to hang, and little Elina Stekas was there for the first time. She broke out into smiles as her mom, Anthoula Stekas, helped her hang a shiny metal placard with "Noel" in bright red letters.

Anthoula Stekas helps daughter Elina hang an outdoor-friendly ornament on the Milton holiday tree, at the annual tree-lighting ceremony December 3.

Sherida Sessa (center) of the Marlborough Town Board and its Recreation Committee, staffed a booth for kids to make holiday ornaments with beads. With her are her son, Jaxson (L) and his friend Caden Heavens.

This past weekend, the St Augustine School hosted a 'Flavor of the World' Christmas Market. The event was to help raise funds for a desperately needed new roof for the school.

A key part of the event was serving authentic international foods from 18 countries representing five continents: Beef Empanadas from Argentina, Poutine from Canada, Vegetable Lo Mein from China, Ropa Vieja from Cuba, Pollo Guisado from the Dominican Republic, Shepard's Pie from England, Chicken Adobo from the Philippines, Crepes from France, Brat Wurst from Germany, Baklava from Greece, Chicken Tikka Masala from India, Farfalle Alla Vodka from Italy, Chicken Pozole from Mexico, Chicken Tagine from Morocco, Paella from Spain, Manti from Turkey, Borscht from Ukraine and Pulled Pork with Mac and Cheese from the United States.

"It was packed yesterday and it is more packed today. It's amazing," she said. "It's been a blast. Everyone is so happy and it's been very successful."

Carole said the vendor and sponsor fees along with the 50/50 raffle go

Donna Stackhouse brought her hand-painted glassware to the event. She was invited by Carole Crimi Varoli after seeing her work at the El Paso Winery in Ulster Park.

"My husband uses a San See Laser machine for all of the woodwork, my daughter makes the earrings and I make the T-shirts, so it's a family affair and we're trying to make some money for the church," she said. "Some of our things go 100% to the church."

A crucial step towards safe water

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has put forth a proposal that mandates water systems to replace lead service lines within their control over the next 10 years. This proposed rule, if implemented, has the potential to be a transformative force in protecting public health and preventing the devastating consequences associated with lead exposure.

"There is no safe level of lead," notes Assemblyman Jonathan Jacobson. "The EPA's proposed rule will ensure that all children grow up lead-free."

The EPA warns that exposure to lead in drinking water can cause serious health effects in all age groups, especially pregnant people, infants (both formula-fed and breastfed) and young children.

Some of the health effects to infants and children include decreases in IQ and attention span. Lead exposure can also result in new or worsened learning and behavior problems. The children of persons who are exposed to lead before or during pregnancy may be at increased risk of these harmful health effects.

Adults have increased risks of heart disease, high blood pressure, kidney or nervous system problems.

Lead contamination in drinking water has long been a pervasive and insidious issue, posing severe health risks, especially to vulnerable populations such as children.

Communities have the right to trust that the water flowing into their homes is free from harmful contaminants, and the EPA's proposal represents a significant stride toward realizing this fundamental expectation.

The time for comprehensive action is now, and the EPA's bold move is a beacon of hope in the quest for a healthier, safer future for our communities.

Highland Fire District Election

The residents of the Highland Fire District can be better served by electing Jim Balint instead of a 30-year incumbent DiLorenzo.

DiLorenzo as chairman has done the following:

1. Spent $4,000,000 in the last three years on a ladder truck and three new pumpers. All the old stuff not good enough for Highland was bought by other FD to be used as first line apparatus, including several up the Hudson River in Greene County.

2. Spent $180,000+ on two new chief's cars and again they went up the river to be used as chief's cars with other FD. This included Chief Miller's accident car (75,000 miles).

3. Reason to replace Miller's car was that it was involved in a covered-up accident in New Paltz, where Miller was at fault. He crossed over the double-yellow hatch land delineation on Main Street in New Paltz which resulted in hitting a car broadside. That resulted in $6,000 damage to Miller's chief's car. Luckily neither his passengers nor the other driver were seriously hurt. And lucky for him, the supervising New Paltz cop who signed off on no

Living the dream in a field of garlic

TJ had a dream. He often spoke of it. The two of us held long conversations about the dream. In the dream he was planting garlic, lots of garlic, rows and rows of garlic, thousands, tens of thousands of heads of garlic. And in the dream each year the tens of thousands would double and he would be Mr. Garlic, King of the garlic growers. He wouldn't sell a single bulb until he had a hundred thousand!

Maybe ten years ago, TJ helped me plant a field of garlic and he got the bug and planted a small field of his own on a property his father owned off 17K. It was a small backyard plot, and the dirt was dark from years of decaying leaves and from being in a swampy depression. TJ ran landscape fabric and burned holes in the fabric to plant the cloves through, and he did a lot of things right, but the yard was shaded by large oaks and when it came time to weed the holes (even landscape fabric needs weeding) he lost out to distraction and the call of life for a young man. His crop was not a complete failure, but it was weak.

TJ bought a garlic planting machine from China. We couldn't read the instructions. They were in Chinese. That did not help. It did not work in our bony, stony soil and must have been designed for planting in sand. He sold it.

He tried planting in a nearby neighbor's field and worked his butt off planting, but once again the weeds were a determining factor.

He thought what he really needed was some bona fide Orange County black dirt. That was his real dream – to get some black dirt. Life went on. He got married, had a sweet baby, changed professions, became a land surveyor. Through it all, he kept alive his dream of growing garlic, of getting some black dirt and doing it right.

TJ called me early this summer. “Hey, I got some black dirt,” he said. “Want to come in with me and plant some of your garlic down there?”

He rented one acre of black dirt down one mile from Pine Island in the lower portion of the county's black dirt region about a mile from the Jolly Onion Restaurant, once a fixture of the region, now closed.

We discussed the specifics. I suggested he get the soil tilled right now and plant it in a cover crop so he can till the cover crop under a few weeks before planting. We had no way of transporting tractors and things, but he did get the landlady to mow the acre he was renting, and he talked a local farmer down there into tilling it and scaping off the thicker detritus. His investment was substantial. He started buying garlic to plant. Good stuff, German white and some German red. Expensive. He bought new landscape fabric to cut down on the possibility of cross contaminating pathogens between fields.

He was working his surveying job, studying for complete surveying creds and caring for a baby, so he had few open slots during the week to plant his field. He started planting early in October. Wednesdays were his days. His wife helped. They had their afternoons in the black dirt field. The sun was out. They ran their fabric, burned the holes, planted, thousand by thousand. Eleven thousand in all. All by hand. All on their knees.

By the time I got there, his first plantings were up and green and looking very impressive.

I have never spent much time in the black dirt. It's a mysterious place, full of onions and Polish people and mythology, Native American hunting grounds, and Jimmy Sturr's Polka Band.

Upland October planted Music hardneck garlic clove with 27 days of root growth.

The little field road to his one acre is on top of a black dirt road, hilled up from the drainage ditches, and it's like riding on top of a Dutch dike, water on both sides, and the landscape has the feel of the great potato field polders in the north of Holland where the water is pumped out of the fields more often than it is pumped on them. When I asked a black dirt farmer about advice planting in the black dirt, she responded, after a very difficult summer with our heavy rains, “get land that doesn't flood.”

We don't know if that little bit of black dirt, that little field with ditches on every side will flood nor how it will respond to a drought, but we are in it.

It's encouraging for America to find young people willing to put in the time and sweat necessary to live their dreams, especially in agriculture, the ficklest of maidens. Does TJ need to buy another garlic planting machine, this time with instructions in English? It might work in the black dirt. I'll keep you posted.

Choice

Americas have always had the freedom to make a choice, whether it be in their selection of religion, where they live, the foods, beverages, clothing or elected official they select.

In December 2021 President Joe Biden signed an executive order to end purchases of gas-powered vehicles by 2035. For many Americans who prefer their current gasoline or diesel-powered motor vehicle and had planned on replacing it with a similar model in the future, the President's order came as a shock. Their freedom of choice, which is the motivator of our capitalist system, was being taken away without our elected representatives in Congress passing legislation.

Last month, a group of nearly 4,000 auto dealers sent a letter to President Biden urging his administration to slow proposed regulations that would require that two-thirds of new vehicles sold in the U.S. be electric by 2032. They stated "electric vehicle demand today is not keeping up with the large influx of BEVs arriving at our dealerships prompted by the current regulations".

Some of our elected representatives in Washington are listening. On September 14, the House of Representatives passed H.R. 1435, the Preserving Choice in Vehicle Purchases Act. All Republicans and 8 Democrats voted for this bill. Unfortunately, our local Representative Pat Ryan noted NAE. The bill was received in Senate on September 18, over two months ago. Apparently, Majority Leader Schumer doesn't want to bring this bill to the Senate floor and force all the Senators to show the American electorate where their Senators stand. Next November, one-third of the Senators are up for election. Maybe that's the reason Senator Schumer is sitting on the bill?

As President Biden would say, "come on, man"!

Silence is deafening

The Israel-Hamas War has generated great emotions of anger, sympathy, condemnation and sadness. The cause unfortunately does not always rest on historical fact or empirical evidence.

One thing is crystal clear emphasized by silence that is deafening. Where are Saudi Arabia? Jordan? Egypt? Bahrain? Morocco? Iraq? Abudabi? Where is the humanitarian aid from these Arab countries?

The southern gate to Gaza is in Egypt under Egypt and Hamas control. Why didn't they get together, join with their fellow Arab Egyptians and provide an open, safe and direct process for Palestinians to use? Why did it take four (4) weeks for 80 truckloads of aid to go into Gaza from Egypt? Why couldn't they airlift? Parachute?

An answer is clear when you consider the evidence. No action to help or aid the Palestinians in Gaza by their own coreligionists by their own Arab brothers because those brothers are willing to allow the Palestinians suffer rather than give them support and aid let alone a safe exit path and temporary settlement.

It is easier to blame it on Jewish people.

Gaza was won in the 1967 war by Israel and handed over to the PLO in 2005. That was a huge gesture for peace by Israel.

The Palestinian rejection of the Oslo accords, the incompetence of Yasser Arafat as a PLO leader the takeover of Gaza by Hamas, the absence of any Palestinian opposition to Hamas from 2007 and the apparent nothingness by the Arab countries while Hamas armed, trained and solidified its terrorist policies are the essential and direct causes of the Gaza Palestinian conflict for which Jews are being unfairly attacked, vilified, threatened and blamed.

Look at the facts. The Arab silence speaks volumes.

Project 2025

People, there is a government-transforming project underway that is both eye-opening and extremely alarming. It is officially called the 2025 Presidential Transition Project. It's being organized by the Heritage Foundation. The project director is Paul Dans, Trump's former chief-of-staff at the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) along with two associate directors under Dans.

This project's fruition depends upon a Republican victory, be it Trump or some other GOP candidate, in the 2024 Presidential election. If that happens, the project would materialize. Its mission is to reshape the federal government to support Trump's Maga agenda. This means the President would be given broad executive power to remove from government (capitalizing on the baseless 'deep state' conspiracy theory) those non-elected federal bureaucrats who wish to sabotage the MAGA agenda; they would be replaced with personnel (whom I call blind loyalists) who share Trump's vision for America. These expansive executive powers include giving the President the authority to, in many instances, bypass Congress to formulate policy through the use of broad executive orders or what I call dictatorial edicts.

In his campaign rallies Trump has publicly asserted, if reelected, his second term will be one of revenge and retribution. He will exercise an authoritarian power grab and take control of the Department of Justice to go after his political enemies (those critical of his vision for America) in the FBI, the CIA and other government agencies. He will have them arrested and prosecuted. Trump echoes the aforementioned mission of the 2025 Presidential Transition Project.

This project 2025, in essence, drives a stake through the heart of our democracy and shreds our constitution. It does not allow for any healthy disagreement or debate on the issue stances of an ultraconservative government. In actuality it is a stark blueprint for authoritarian rule. Postscript: If you have a computer, I urge you to google the '2025 Presidential Transition Project' or go to its website at project2025.org. Check out the specifics. It is beyond alarming!

A confusing form of Christianity

I can't understand the Christianity of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Mike Johnson, who has told people to turn to Scripture to truly understand his perspective on the matters of the day.

As I recall from my days in Sunday School, Jesus was very concerned about the well being of children which is why he said things like, "... whoever welcomes a little child like this in my name welcomes me." I don't understand how Mike Johnson's Republican controlled House can tie aid to Ukraine and Israel to horrible treatment of children at the southern border. The immigration system needs to be fixed so desperate young mothers and their children have a decent federally funded place to wait for a fair asylum hearing that considers hunger caused by grinding poverty.

Separating desperate children from their parents or stringing barbed wire tied to floats down the middle of the Rio Grande river to trap and drown mothers with children certainly can't be seen as adhering to the teaching of Scripture. I guess the founding fathers making it unconstitutional to force religious beliefs on others through the law of the land were thinking about the possibility of somebody from the 'Church of What Jesus Would Never Do' coming to power and imposing cruelty on desperately poor children. American democracy is not threatened by treating desperate asylum seekers humanely, it is threatened by drowning barbed-wire-tangled children who have made an extremely arduous journey seeking American democracy.

GNSO celebrates the 'Season of Light'

The Greater Newburgh Symphony Orchestra (GNSO) will perform its beloved Holiday Concert on Saturday, December 9 at 4 p.m. at Aquinas Hall on the Mount Saint Mary College campus in Newburgh. The event has sold out in recent years, so patrons are encouraged to buy their tickets early. (Snow date is Sunday, December 10, 4 pm)

Commenting on the Season of Light program, Maestro Russell Ger says that "The lovely thing about holiday music is that no matter how often we have performed some of these pieces over the years, there always seems to be something new to discover. Beginning with Samuel Coleridge-Taylor's sumptuous fantasy on well-known melodies, we move to Corelli's touching Christmas Eve serenade from 1690, and then on to Pachelbel's beloved Canon (which is not technically Christmas music but sounds so fitting!)"

"Next," Ger continued, "we will hear an assortment of famous Christmas choral music, as well as the beautiful addition of a new and haunting Hanukkah song called Eight Days of Light. We expect this performance to bring down the house, as it has in the past."

One of the special elements this year is the inclusion of a troop of ten professional singers who will perform some of the most wonderful vocal music of the season. "These singers have sung on some of the most important stages in the USA with some of the best-known symphonies. The power of their combined voices with the full-throated roar of the GNSO will be something to behold," the maestro concluded.

Russell Ger, in his most festive conducting attire, leads the Greater Newburgh Symphony at its holiday concert.

Tickets – Balcony $75, Center Reserved $60. General $50, Senior Citizen $30 – can be purchased at the door. Call 845/913-7157 or visit www.newburghsymphony.org. Students are admitted free to General seating.

HOLIDAY GIFT GUIDE III

Make life easier with these holiday entertaining tips

Meal Prep

Getting ahead on meal prep can mean more time spent with friends and family. If you're tasked with serving a big holiday meal, prep the main dishes a day or two ahead of time so you can just pop them into the oven the day of your holiday feast. You can also brine and season turkey, prepare your glaze and score the ham, chop veggies and pre-mix salad dressings the night before. Festive beverages can be batched in advance so guests can easily serve themselves, helping you stay calm and collected during your party. And of course, don't feel shy about asking friends and family to contribute a dish.

Have Dessert Ready

Whether you're throwing a holiday bash or expecting overnight guests, you'll be the host with the most if you have delicious desserts on hand. Fortunately, serving baked goods made with care and quality ingredients is easier than you think! Stick with the classics like Entenmann's – a 125-year-old brand with many delicious options to choose from. Powdered Pop'ettes will satisfy your guests' sweet cravings, Pop'ems Glazed Donut Holes are great for bite-sized snacking, and Baker's Delights Mini Crumb Cake has a rich and delicious homemade taste. Convenient choices such as these can keep you prepared for the night ahead should the doorbell surprise you with carolers or other visitors. They can also round out a buffet spread, help you end a multi-course feast on a sweet note or simplify breakfast for overnight guests. All you'll need to do is put the coffee on!

Plan a Game Night

If your overnight guests will be spending more than a night or two at your home, you can keep them happy and entertained with some activities that require very little planning but are a lot of fun. For example, you can organize a game night, which is a nice way to maximize your time together. Pick a few games that are well-suited for the size of the crowd and the age of the players. Remember, the best choices for a party are games that inspire conversations, teamwork and creativity. Or plan a movie marathon, picking some holiday themed crowd favorites in advance. You can simplify feeding your guests during these low-key activities by putting out some finger foods like crudité, popcorn, pretzels and donut holes.

4 ways to send holiday greetings on a budget

With a little twist on the classic tradition, you can save time and money while creating unique holiday greetings.

In a AmericanGreetings.com survey, 60% of Americans sent cards last year and 90% of people said they bring them joy. Here are a few tips to make this year's family greeting more special than ever before, even on a budget and time crunch.

Write a Personal Message

71% of people surveyed said personalization, such as adding a custom note, is their favorite part of cards. Make it unique by sharing memories from throughout the year that showcase favorite moments with specific family and friends.

Go Digital

Holiday cards can be a time-consuming task—but it doesn't have to be. Go the digital route with Pics & Wishes, a line of multimedia greetings from AmericanGreetings.com, where you can send specially designed ecards to loved ones. The app makes creating and sending heartfelt greetings extremely easy, personalized and affordable.

to your whole mailing list at once.

Create a Family Newsletter

Outdo last year's traditional greetings while keeping loved ones up to date by creating a family newsletter. With Pics & Wishes, you have the option to write a simple, personalized note or take your card-sending game to a whole new level. One way is by sharing the latest and greatest in your family members' lives in a fun, entertaining year-in-review letter. Plus, the easy-to-use app offers special accents for recipients to enjoy, such as decorative letterhead and cheerful holiday music.

Don't Forget Pets

People love their pets and often treat them like family. In fact, nearly half of Americans say they have signed their pet's name in a card. The annual holiday card is the perfect opportunity to include your furry friend in photos as an honored part of the family. Plus, recipients will also enjoy their inclusion, as 58% of Americans surveyed said they gravitate toward greeting cards that feature animals. Whether it's a cute, posed photo of your puppy or a candid of your cat, it's sure to bring a smile to your loved ones' faces. (StatePoint)

It's not too late to decorate!

Local Christmas Decor decorating specialist says simplicity and focusing on features are key to holiday decor success

There is still time to deck out your home or business for the holidays, says Patrick Carr of Christmas Decor of the Hudson Valley, a franchise member of the Christmas Decor network. The key, according to Carr, is to keep things simple and focus on your property's best features.

1. Identify your home's most attractive feature, like a porch, window, door or tree. Then, draw focus to that feature with holiday lights and garlands.

2. Inventory your existing holiday supplies for additional lights and three-dimensional decor items like stars or figures that will compliment your focal point decor.

3. Avoid using multiple themes and colors that draw attention away from your focal point. Think simple, clean, and classic. Less is best, in terms of both appearance and cost.

"Above all," says Carr, "don't panic. The holidays are a time to enjoy the company of friends and family. Use what you have on hand. Even the simplest decor of evergreen boughs, holly sprigs or pinecones can create a warm holiday welcome at your front door."

Christmas Decor of the Hudson Valley, based in Pine Bush, is a member of the Christmas Decor Franchise Network, the premier holiday lighting and decorating company in North America. Their trained holiday outdoor decorating specialists create glowing

Their full-service approach includes maintenance and repair of light installations and displays throughout the holidays and removal and storage of the lights and decor when the holidays are over. "When even the simplest of holiday decorating chores seem more stressful than joyful, services like ours can be a holiday game-changer," says

Carr. "There's still time to work with a professional outdoor holiday decorating specialist, but slots are filling up rapidly; it's important to act quickly before calendars are full."

Treat a nature lover to a special gift

The natural world is a wonder to behold, with awe-inspiring vistas and wildlife. Spending time in nature has been studied and reported on by a number of medical professionals. The general takeaway is that enjoying time in the great outdoors has been linked to everything from improved mood to reduced risk of disease. Just a little bit of time in fresh air and sunlight can improve well-being by a significant margin, which is perhaps why nature has inspired so many devotees.

If there is a nature lover in your family, use that interest as inspiration when holiday shopping this year. Here are some nature-related gift ideas.

- Binoculars: Bird watchers or other animal observers understand that wild animals can become skittish around people. It's best to view them from afar, and a good set of binoculars makes it easier to do so.

- Mounted camera: When the GoPro camera came on the scene many years ago, it revolutionized the way amateur filmmakers could document their adventures. The GoPro and its model evolutions continue to enable people to capture photos and videos both on land and underwater. With a head-mounting strap and some additional accessories, adventurers will be unencumbered by the camera. Similar mounting devices may be available for Android- and Apple-based phones and cameras as well.

- Waterproof hiking boots/shoes: Taking the road less traveled often means going on foot. Trailblazing is made easier with durable, waterproof footwear that can go from the trail to the mountainside more readily.

- Motion-capture trail camera: Another way to watch wildlife is to do so from a motion-capture trail camera that can be set up by a nesting area or along a path frequented by local wildlife.

- First aid kit: It's always important to keep safety in mind when enjoying nature. A well-stocked first aid kit is a great way to give the gift of good health and safety.

- Camping gear: When sleeping out under the stars or at a campsite, a tent, ground cover, sleeping bag, backpack, camp stove and other gear can make the experience all the better.

Holiday gift ideas for the artist in your life

Creative individuals and resident artists are continually honing their crafts. This holiday season could be the perfect opportunity to tune into these artistic pursuits and give something that lets artists take their creativity to the next level.

Supplies gift basket

Each artistic pursuit requires its own array of materials and tools to perfect the craft. For example, painters will rely on canvases, oils and paintbrushes to create masterpieces, while those who engage in ceramics may need bisques, clays and firing tools. A mix of supplies can fuel upcoming projects.

Museum or exhibition visit

Purchase tickets to a museum that has always been a favorite for the gift recipient. Entry to a local art installation or exhibition also figures to be a hit.

Lessons

Classes with an artistic master can help artists hone their craft. Masterclass.com offers annual subscriptions or monthly sessions with the best instructors in their respective fields. Local artists also may be willing to serve as mentors or instructors, and sessions with these people also can make perfect gifts.

Shopping experience

Many artists also are entrepreneurs who sell their wares to others. You can help promote that passion by funding an online shopping website or paying for table or booth fees at area craft festivals and other vendor events around town.

Display their art

If an artist you know has a particularly beloved piece of art, arrange for a professional framing or purchase a high-end display case. This way the artwork will remain pristine for others to enjoy in the years ahead.

Gift cards

Though gift cards may seem impersonal, they can be the means by which an artist is able to purchase supplies or travel to art shows to sell their offerings. Don't discount the utility of gift cards come the holiday season.

Artists can benefit from gifts that help to propel their creative pursuits.

The classic holiday party playlist

The late Aretha Franklin said, "Music does a lot of things for a lot of people. It's transporting, for sure. It can take you right back, years back, to the very moment certain things happened in your life. It's uplifting, it's encouraging, it's strengthening."

The power of music is strong and a playlist to complement the holiday festivities is a must have.

"Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas (1943): This is a song written for Judy Garland for the MGM musical "Meet Me in St. Louis." Many artists have covered it, including Frank Sinatra and Sam Smith.

"Run Rudolph Run" (1958): Written by Chuck Berry, and first performed by him, the song is a 12-bar blues. It's similar in style to Berry's popular "Johnny B. Goode."

"It's the Most Wonderful Time of the Year" (1963): Recorded by Andy Williams for his first Christmas album, this song is a celebration of holiday gatherings with friends and family.

"What Christmas Means to Me" (1967): Stevie Wonder's recognizable tenor shines through on this song that shares all the traditions that help make Christmas merry and bright.

"Happy Christmas (War is Over)" (1971): John Lennon and Yoko Ono released this song in 1971. Though it's a protest song against the Vietnam War, it has since become a Christmas standard.

"Santa Claus is Coming to Town" (1975): Bruce Springsteen's rocking version of this song is one no holiday playlist should be without.

"Do They Know It's Christmas?" (1984): Written by Bob Geldof and Midge Ure, this song was recorded to raise money for famine relief in Ethiopia. It features Band Aid, a supergroup made up of popular Irish and British musical artists.

"All I Want for Christmas Is You" (1994): Love it or loathe it, Mariah Carey's song is one of the few modern Christmas songs to enter the esteemed Christmas music canon. It also helped pave the way for Carey to be forever tied to Christmas.

"It's Beginning to Look a Lot Like Christmas" (2011): Several artists have recorded this song, which was written in 1951. Jazz standards artist Michael Bublé made it his own in 2011.

Curating a holiday party playlist can start with the above songs, and the list can then be customized with more tunes that help make the season magical.

FRESH CHRISTMAS TREES FOR SALE

Consider these tips as you look for the perfect Christmas tree

- Measure the area where the tree will be placed. There should be enough room around the tree for families and their guests to sit around it. The home interior experts at Better Homes & Gardens recommend leaving a minimum of six inches between the top of the tree and the ceiling. If a tree topper will be added, make sure the top of the tree is at least 12 inches from the ceiling. Measure the area before leaving to buy a tree so it can fit nicely into the room.

- Try the shake test. Anyone who has purchased a fresh-cut Christmas tree is undoubtedly familiar with the shake test, an effective way to measure the dryness of the tree. A slight shake will produce some fallen needles. If the needles are brown and few and far between, then the tree likely is not overly dry. However, a lot of falling green needles indicates the tree is already drying out, which means it could shed quite a bit and lose its looks before Christmas Day.

- Pick a tree with a symmetrical look. Trees are living things, so it's unlikely that buyers will find a perfectly symmetrical tree. However, a tree that's misshapen or already has some sagging branches won't make for an awe-inspiring addition to a home decor scheme.

- Find the trunk (if you can). A trunk that's visible through the branches indicates the tree does not have dense branches, which will be necessary if homeowners want to dress the tree with ornaments. If it's hard to find the trunk because of all the thick branches and green needles, then the tree is likely pretty healthy.

- Test the needles. The home improvement experts at Lowes note that needles should be flexible but still snap when bent sharply. Avoid trees with needles that are already losing their color and can easily be pulled off.

Town of Crawford

TOWN OF CRAWFORD
NOTICE OF REFERENDUM ON THE CONSOLIDATED TOWN OF CRAWFORD

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on December 12, 2023, a combined election (also called a referendum) will be held at which the registered voters of the Town of Crawford are entitled to vote to determine whether the following referendum measures are approved or rejected:

Shall the Village of Crawford Be Incorporated Pursuant to the Elector-Initiated Petition?

Shall the Newly Incorporated Village of Crawford Be Simultaneously Consolidated With the Existing Town of Crawford To Create the Consolidated Town of Crawford Pursuant to the Elector-Initiated Petition?

The Elector-Initiated Petition states that its purpose is to consolidate the Town with a Village to be incorporated to give the Town greater flexibility and authority to provide services to its residents, and to allow greater economy and efficiency, while protecting against the wasteful proliferation of overlapping governments by authorizing the Town to exercise the powers of a village while continuing to operate as a town. The Petition is a combined petition as it seeks to form a village only with the simultaneous consolidation with the Town of Crawford. Non-consolidation would defeat the purpose of the Petition by creating an overlapping and redundant government. Because a single government will continue to exist if the referendum is approved, the Petition states that consolidation will prevent future financial burdens to the Town and its taxpayers that would occur if a new government were incorporated without consolidation.

If the referendum is approved, the incorporated village will be known as the Village of Crawford, having the same boundaries as the Town of Crawford, which will be simultaneously consolidated with the existing Town of Crawford to form the Consolidated Town of Crawford, which will have the same boundaries as the existing Town of Crawford.

The referendum election will be held on December 12, 2023, between the hours of 8:00 AM and 9:00 PM, at the Town of Crawford Senior and Community Center, 115 State Route 302, Pine Bush, New York 12566.

The Combined Petition for a Consolidated Town of Crawford may be examined at the Town Clerk's office, Town Hall, 121 State Route 302, Pine Bush, New York 12566, during normal business hours. The Town Clerk may be contacted by email at townclerk@townofcrawford.org or telephone (845) 744-2020. Frequently Asked Questions and other information is also available on the Town's website at www.townofcrawford.org.

CHRISTOPHER TOMLINSON,
Defendant.
-X

At a term of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, held in and for the County of Orange, at Goshen, New York on the 30th day of October, 2023.
ORDER FOR PUBLICATION
Index No. EF010620-2017
The above named parties were divorced pursuant to a Judgment of Divorce dated November 12, 2019. On or about July 17, 2023, Plaintiff filed an Order to Show Cause with this Court seeking an Order directing Defendant to cooperate with the sale of the former martial residence and to further cooperate with executing necessary documents to effectuate such sale. Since such date Plaintiff has been unable to effectuate service upon Defendant, despite due diligence in attempting to locate and serve Defendant. As such, and upon oral motion made before this Court on October 25, 2023, it is hereby

ORDERED, that the Order to Show Cause in the above-entitled action be served on Defendant CHRISTOPHER TOMLINSON, by publishing the same together with a notice and description of the real property the relief sought affects title to, in the TIMES HERALD RECORD, a newspaper in the English language and in the WALLKILL VALLEY TIMES, a newspaper in the newspaper in the English language, such newspapers being those most likely to give notice to the defendant, once in each four successive weeks; and it is further ORDERED, that being satisfied by the underlying testimony and evidence provided to the Court by Plaintiff, the Court is dispensing with the requirement of mailing a copy of the pleadings to Defendant, as due diligence has not produced a residence at which Defendant would receive mail; and it is further ORDERED, that upon compliance with such publication, this matter is scheduled for an 20 inquest before this Court on December 20, 2023 at 10:00 a.m.

EO 1988 and EO 1990, and the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA).

The project is to be located along Moodna Creek, between the Creek and County Route 32/Mill Street (41.433906, -74.052528). The proposed scope of work consists of the installation of a 400 linear foot soldier pile and lagging wall on the lower portion of the embankment, plantings and erosion control matting on the mid portion, and drainage features on the top. A cofferdam will be temporarily installed to assist with the installation of the lower portion. Currently, the erosion of the embankment has caused the collapse of a private drive and threatens the structural integrity of a private and public road, posing a threat to property and safety in the area.

This action would take place within the 100-year floodplain. Alternatives considered include: 1) no action or 2) the proposed alternative to stabilize the embankment. FEMA has determined that the stabilization of the embankment with the soldier pile and lagging wall, plantings and drainage improvements as described above will create the most suitable outcome. Potential floodplain and wetland impacts are anticipated to be temporary during construction and minimized through best management practices and conservation measures incorporated from resource agency recommendations and required regulatory permits.

Comments about this project, potential alternatives, and floodplain impacts may be submitted in writing within 15 days of the date of this publication to: FEMA Region 2, Attn: Environmental Planning and Historic Preservation, 26 Federal Plaza, New York, NY, 10278 or via email to FEMAR2COMMENT@fema.dhs.gov. If substantive comments are received, FEMA will evaluate and address the comments as part of the environmental documentation for this project. #113361

brings to the job of Commissioner his management skills, "and a commitment to the public."

DiLorenzo said he has attended a "tremendous" number of seminars and classes relating to fire fighting work.

"Whenever something new comes down from the state [regulation] I always try to stay on top of it and I think I have a lot to offer," he said.

In the last three years the department has purchased a ladder truck, three pumpers and two chief vehicles. DiLorenzo said the ladder truck cost $1.3 million and collectively the 23 pumpers hit $3 million. The two chief cars were $90,000 for a total of $4,390,000.

"Every two years we try to buy one and rotate them down. The two weren't totally worn out but one was 10 years old and the other was 12 years old, and we try to keep them dependable for the guys," he said. "The three pumpers that we sold were each over 25 years old [1994, 1996, 2001]," saying the department realized significant savings by buying the new ones all within one year.

Several years ago, two fire department's budgets included a total of $130,000 that was supposed to be used for an assistant to the chief but was not filled. Instead, it went into the General Fund, and was spent on some major repairs needed at Station #1, roof issues, work on a generator and a replacement of an outdated alarm system at Station #2.

"It wasn't spent frivolously, but on things we had to do," DiLorenzo said.

Separately, the Commissioners hired a full time secretary, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., starting in January 2023 at about $70,000 in salary and benefits.

"It's making life so much easier for the Commissioners and a difference for the Chief, DiLorenzo said.

DiLorenzo estimated the Fire Department's budget for 2023 is $1.3 million. He said they do receive some revenues from the Town of Lloyd, the Ambulance Service, and from Verizon. He said for fire service, residents are paying about $113/$1,000 of assessed valuation so for a home assessed at $350,000 pays $395 a year.

DiLorenzo said he is proud of the Highland Hose Company.

"I've talked to a lot of fire departments and people tell me that we set the standard for a lot of different things that we do," he said. "Are we the best at everything? I think we are and a lot of department look up to us and we have good relationships with all of our neighboring fire departments." He singled out Chief Peter Miller for helping to create, "a much better relationship with the City of Poughkeepsie than we ever had. I just think the department is well run; it's not all me; there is no "I" in team. I am really proud of what we do and what we've accomplished."

James Balint is running for the Board of Fire Commissioners. He joined the fire service in 1978, has been a member of two companies, was a Captain in his old company, is an Interior firefighter in Highland and is President of the Hose Company. He keeps track of medical issues as it relates to the department, supported moving the LOSAP program down to the 855 level. This is a program that provides a monthly or regular cash award (varies by location) after serving a specific number of years with a volunteer fire, rescue or EMS department.

Balint is not in favor of staying with First Care for the physical exams for its members. He said the physicals they have received from the Mid-Hudson Regional Hospital in Poughkeepsie, "are much more intense. We have to put an air-pack on, run on a treadmill. I think the physicals at First Care are going to miss things."

Balint said physicals need to be exercise-driven and more challenging because being in shape is important when fighting fires.

Balint acknowledges that spending is always an issue.

"It's the what, when, where and how of the need at a certain point," he said.

Balint was asked about the department spending more than $4 million for trucks and vehicles in a relatively short amount of time.

"It might be [but] did we wait too long to pull the trigger, that's the key question right now," he said. "It's easy to second guess things like that – did we wait too long, was it because covid was going on?"

If elected, Balint believes, "there has to be better justification for things. Did we get a good price for the pumpers, yes, but what is the plan and have more meetings about it and what is the plan and our next step down the road."

Balint said of immediate concern is replacing the Rescue Truck, but much of this will fall upon the next generation of firefighters when consideration of new trucks comes up in 25 years.

On the $130,000 that was not used to fund a position for the Chief, Balint said he does not know why it was not returned to the taxpayers but the department this year hired a much needed full time secretary.

Balint said when he announced his run for the Board of Fire Commissioners, he did receive some criticism, "but this is a Democracy and I am entitled to run for a position. I am not running for Chairman of the Board because that position is elected every year by the five fire commissioners, someone they feel is the best choice for chairman."

THE CAR CORRAL

John Smith's 1929 Ford Roadster

I met up with John Smith at a local car show in Kingston back in October. John, whose hometown is High Falls, was there with his 1929 Ford Roadster replica that he built himself. John said that took approximately 11 ½ months to complete.

John's Roadster sports a 383 Stroker engine with 525 horsepower. It has a 350 Turbo Automatic Transmission. The color of the car is Molten Orange Pearl. He has had the car since 2016. It has 13,000 miles on it since built. John's nickname for his Roadster is "Scary Fast," because on the second day after it was built, he opened it up, acceleration wise, and lifted the front wheels off the ground, also known as popping a wheelie.

I asked John what his best moment with his car was to date and he advised the first time he was able to drive it after being built. He said he loves to drive his Roadster to the sounds of 50's & 60's Rock and Roll music. John enjoys supporting local car shows and being with friends talking about cars. He said his best buddy to cruise with is George Nielson.

What was happening in 1929:

1929 marked the end of a period known in American history as the Roaring Twenties; The Great Depression (1929–1939); Herbert Clark Hoover was the 31st President of the United States; The St. Valentine's Day Massacre on February 14; The first Academy Awards, also known as the Oscars, were presented; The Broadway Melody, a musical, was the most popular movie of the year; Emil Jannings was the first winner for Best Actor in the Academy Awards for his roles in The Last Command (1928) and The Way of All Flesh; Charlie Chaplin was at the top of his movie career.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Lady Dukes welcome new coach, new starters

By MIKE ZUMMO

Things are going to look similar on the court for the Marlboro girls' basketball team this season but will look different on the bench.

The Dukes have only lost two players – Ella Leduc and Lillie Drivas – from a team that compiled a 13-8 record last year, earning the second seed in the Section Class B tournament and advancing to the semifinals. Additionally, Matt Murphy has taken over as head coach from previous coach Gary Trapani.

The Dukes will return two key seniors in Hannah Pumbo and Leah Gunsett, and juniors Gabby Murphy, Lily Sullivan and Isabella Seager. Freshman Nalyah Campbell also returns.

The Dukes' goals this season will be to be competitive every minute of every game and wear teams down with their speed and defense.

The returners will be joined by three new sophomores: Marley Lanzoni, Gabby Alvarez and Ellie Beaulieu.

"If our girls continue to work hard and push past their comfort zones, then they will put themselves in a position to do something very special this season," Murphy said.

They will have more of a sectional challenge this year as the New York State Public High School Athletic Association has gone to sixth classes, which will move the Dukes into a new Class A.

The Highland Huskies, who will be coached by Michael Geller, entering his fourth season, will remain in the new Class B.

The Huskies will enter the season losing four players from last year's team: Kayleigh Kaplan, Emma Thompson, Addie McDowell and August Trombetta.

However, there are eight players returning from a team that went 12-6 last year and earned the fourth seed and a home game in last year's Section 9 Class B tournament.

returners that also includes Sam Calahan, Danica Valente, Navya Ruparelia, Deanna Barry, Lexi Pavese, Marisa Piegari and Emma Hanlon. Newcomers include Logan VanZandt, Keira Bishop, Ciara Teamer and Sierra Wiser.

"I am very lucky to coach this team,"

Geller said. "Our goal is to compete for both the division and sectional titles. We will have to change our style a little bit from last year. If the newcomers quickly adjust to playing at the varsity level and we are peaking at the right time, I think we have a good chance of being successful."

Highland's Danica Valente drives the ball as S.S. Seward's Adrianna Joy defends during a non-league girls' basketball game on Feb. 17 at Highland High School.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Plenty of room for improvement for local teams

By MIKE ZUMMO

It was a difficult season last year for area boys' basketball teams, as neither the Highland Huskies nor the Marlboro Iron Dukes put together enough wins to qualify for the Section 9 tournament.

The Iron Dukes entered last season short on experience and struggled to a 3-17 overall record in the final year under longtime coach Mike Koehler.

This year, Ryan Brooks takes over on the Iron Dukes' bench looking to turn the Iron Dukes' fortunes around.

Last year's seniors Prince Owens, Devin Dirago, Tamir Bass, Seth Torres and Jason Price graduated off last year's team; Miles Brooks, Christopher DeNatale, Matthew Ciarimboli and Tom Benfer return from last year's team.

"Our goal is to be in contention to win our division and make the sectional playoffs," Brooks said. "We want to build great team chemistry and play as a unit on both ends of the floor."

The sectional landscape is going to look different as the New York State Public High School Athletic Association will advance to six classifications this year, putting the Iron Dukes in the new Class A.

The Highland Huskies, however, will remain in Class B under the new alignment, and they will enter the season with a young core, and with 23rd-year coach Mike Milliman closing in on 200 wins.

The Huskies have lost Jeremy Angelone, Dylan Durandis, Davien

Leath, Jakob Bishop and Matt Dubois. Returning are juniors Reid Berean, senior Josh Bishop and sophomore Michael Koehler.

New to the team this year will be juniors Rafiq Reid, Leland Dubois, Aden Goudreau and Michael Forzano; and sophomores Nick Forzano, J.J. Eliassaint, Michael Grant and Sam

Ellis.

Milliman said the team's young nucleus will look to improve each day, working on the fundamentals, hustling and teamwork.

"This is an exciting situation, working with young and eager players," Milliman said. "It's going to be fun."
