PIONEER DAY!
Pages 10 & 11

President's Message

Summer at the Civic Center is an active time for all of us involved in keeping this wonderful old facility available for community use.

The V.F.W. apparently out performed their record fireworks sales of 1994 with this year's effort which will bring in between four to five thousand dollars of much needed operating capital. Three cheers to Wilma Haines and all of those who volunteered many hours to insure this was a successful effort.

Pioneer Day is just around the corner, August 5, and it appears that Tim Kezele and his volunteers will have a large and diverse number of booths for food, games, public information, trout fishing in the pond, entertainment on two stages, and in the gym, and of course the beer garden.

This one day celebration is started off with a parade from Key Center to the Civic Center, led by Grand Marshals Wally and Sally Cornman. Pioneer Day shows provide an opportunity for a large number of the community to enjoy the virtues of our Civic Center and the volunteers and staff who keep it running.

A last bit of good news comes in the form of a large donation. (A 960SF house), made by the Wall family of the Key Peninsula.

This home is in very good condition and will be auctioned off to the highest bidder next month at a special one-night auction at the Civic Center. The details are being finalized this week, but I can tell you that it is appraised at $70,000. It will require the successful bidder to have it moved to his or her own site this summer. The successful bidder will have to come up with about $15,000 in moving costs, in addition to his bid in order to actually claim his prize.

I have inspected the house and can assure you that this is a real find, and its donation by the Walls family will be greatly appreciated, as all proceeds will go to funding expenses and programs at the Center.

Finally, I would just like to invite you to attend an activity at the Civic Center or if you are so inclined, join us at our community board meeting, the second Thursday each month.
David Freeman,
President

PIONEER DAY PARADE GRAND MARSHAL'S

Wally and Sally Cornman

When the Pioneer Day Parade wends its way from Key Center to the Civic Center in Vaughn, Wally and Sally Cornman will be right up front as our Grand Marshal's. They will be riding in a Vintage World War II Jeep, in keeping with the Veterans's Theme.. Be sure to wave and say hello as they pass by!

Yee-Haw! Pioneer Day is here! We've been busy preparing an exciting day of fun for the whole family. The grounds are all spruced up, the fish pond is full of trout, the booths are all set up to serve you, and the Beer Garden is offering music and dancing for a great day!

The Parade will step out at 10 AM from Key Center, with Rhys Wood starting off the big event. Grand Marshals Wally and Sally Cornman will be in the lead, followed by a variety of your friends and neighbors, some costumed, some just having fun.

Valentine's Performing Pigs will show off their porcine charms at 5 PM in the Civic Center gym. There will be Karaoke in the Beer Garden so we all can hear some of the great singing talent we have here on the Peninsula. This year, no children will be allowed inside the Beer Garden after 9pm, but for a nominal fee, baby-sitting services will be available in the VFW Room. Shari O'Quinn will be keeping the kids busy with games, crafts, toys and fun.

I want to give special thanks to Tim Kezele for repairing the picnic tables and for trimming some of the large bushes around the Center. The tables are out by the playground, ready and waiting for you and your family to have a picnic. Tim still needs more volunteers for Pioneer Day, so give him a call if you can help out. His number is 884-4538.

We are moving the offices of the Key Peninsula News and the Facility Manager's office to the basement of the school building. I felt that this would make it easier for people to get to the K.P. News office, and since I am now the manager of the News as well as the facility manager, combining the two offices would be cost effective. The move will also free two more rooms in the main building that can be rented out. The move will be on August 7th. If you can come and help, call me at 884-3456.

Our next event after Pioneer Day is FLAVOR OFF FALL on September 30th. We still need donations for the auction. Anything that you have to donate in goods or services will be greatly appreciated. If you can donate, call Claudia Loy at Sunnycrest Nursery 884-3937.

Bingo will start again on August 23rd. We have a new Bingo machine, and along with the old one we will be able to play BONANZA blackout games. We're going to the packet-type of sales where you buy one of everything being played in one package. If you want to play more cards, they will be available.

Lila Garrison, my tried-and-true assistant manager, has decided she will not be returning when Bingo starts again. She and her husband John are expecting a baby in September, and I'm sure she will be keeping busy. She will be sorely missed! I'm looking for volunteers to help out at Bingo, and will choose a new assistant manager from those who apply. We do pay minimum compensation for these duties. Call me at 884-3456, if you would like to help.

Here's my monthly list of things the Civic Center needs:

1. A riding lawnmower with a grasscatcher.
2. Carpeting for the news room, Whitmore Room and the gym balcony and foyer.
3. Logs to line the parking lot.
4. Volunteers for Pioneer Day and Bingo.

If you can help us get these things, let us know.

We're having another "Ladies Night" on August 12th. WEST COAST MALES will be appearing at 8 PM in the gym of the Civic Center. Tickets will be $10.00 pre-sale and $12.00 at the door. Must be 21 to attend. Beer and wine will be for sale on the premises.

We want to have the Health Department come here to give the class for getting health cards for food handling. We need to have a minimum of thirty (30) people to have the class, so if you know of anyone who needs a health card, have them call 884-3456 for more information.

Please come and join us for this month's events. We look forward to seeing you!

Historical Society Set To Meet

The Historical Society is set to meet on August 26, 1995 for a meeting and picnic.

Mark the fourth Saturday on your calendar for a museum visit, meeting and picnic social. The Key Peninsula Historical Society invites new and old members to a 12:00 noon social.

For more information call 884-4538. Museum hours are Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m.

Cider Fest '95

Where is the summer going? August is here, which means that October 14 is not that far away. The committee continues to prepare for the big event...are you? We are counting on biggggggg pumpkins and lots of apples this year. Plans are mushrooming for lots of fun things for children and adults. Plan on marking your calendar for this big event in Key Center. Those who are interested in a booth should contact Barbara Granquist at 884-4163 or Claudia Loy at 884-3937.

Public Auction To Benefit The Civic Center

A golden opportunity comes along very seldom. So what you are about to read may present a significant occasion for you and the Key Peninsula Civic Center will become the beneficiary!

On August 25, 1995 at 7:00 p.m. a public auction will be held in the gym at the Key Peninsula Civic Center. The purpose is to auction off the 948 square foot single story residence pictured above to the highest bidder. The residence must be moved off its present location to your property within sixty (60) days.

The proceeds from this auction will go to the Civic Center General Fund, to underwrite public programs, make needed repairs to the Center's two buildings and procure much needed building accessibility improvements.

A detailed prospective bidders package is available on request from the Civic Center Manager. You may either call the Civic Center at 206/884-3456 or make your request by mail to the Key Peninsula Civic Center at P.O. Box 82, Vaughn, WA 98394, and the packet will be mailed to you. A public site inspection date will be provided with a map to the property.

Don't let this golden opportunity to buy a quality residence at a bargain price while benefiting your Civic Center.

Stoke's Auction House will be handling the auction.

KPCCA Board Meeting Minutes, July 13, 1995

The meeting was called to order by President Dave Freeman. The minutes of the June meeting were corrected to read Shari O'Quinn suggested the self-guided garden tour, and they were approved as corrected. There was no Treasurer's report in her absence.

BINGO: Irene told the board of a second machine that could be purchased for $800, which would add versatility to the games that can be offered to players. The machine could be paid for in small monthly payments, and the Bingo funds could handle this. It was msc to purchase the machine for $80 with monthly payments of $66. The motion was amended that after a three month trial period, we re-evaluate the situation to see if we want to keep the machine. The amendment also passed.

SKATING: There will be skating every other Friday for the rest of the summer, starting July 14th. If a skate night needs to be rescheduled, notice will be given.

MANAGER'S REPORT: Paint and primer are needed for the railing of the fish pond and around the windows of the Whitmore Room. The windows of the Whitmore Room also need to be reglazed. A work party will be held at 6:30 pm on July 21st to work on the windows. Wiring near the pumphouse needs to be covered, and the concrete posts to protect the furnace need to be set. The community service workers are doing lots of odd jobs to get ready for Pioneer Day.

FLAVOR OF FALL: Claudia has enlisted the help of Vicki Henschel for the auction. Donations are still needed for this event.

PIONEER DAY: Tim Kezele and Laura Mosely have 22 booths rented. There will be children's activities and baby sitting available. A 40-piece band will be in the parade. Anyone interested in helping with this event may attend the committee meetings each Tuesday at 7 pm in the Historical Museum. Volunteers are needed to work in the beer garden. A big thank you to Tim for repairing the Centers' picnic tables.

NEW BUSINESS: A letter seeking a grant has been presented to Key Bank to obtain some of their obsolete computer equipment. We are looking into applying for a grant to replace the windows in the Whitmore Room. Vicki Henschel has volunteered to help with the grant writing.

Dave Freeman will inspect the house to be auctioned. He will visit the property on July 22nd and take pictures, assess what the house would be worth, what it could be "sold" for and what the Center could realize from its sale.

Camp Easter Seals has offered grant money to help us bring our restrooms up to standards for disabled patrons.

Shari O'Quinn reported she will have an activity center at Pioneer Day for small children to introduce our Indoor Park. All proceeds from this will go toward the purchase of equipment for the Park. Indoor Park starts the first Tuesday in October.

Ladies' Night will be on August 12th. Mike Salatino has tickets.

The Ciderfest is scheduled for October 14th in downtown Key Center from 10 am to 3 pm. There will be a polka fest that evening at the Civic Center, and the Lions plan to have a dinner before the dance. Dave and Shari will get a committee together to research having a booth to sell hotdogs, etc.

Tim and Claudia volunteered to start working on the garden tour to be next June. Tickets and maps will be sold and refreshments will be at the Center. Possibly some historical aspects can be incorporated into the tour.

Other ideas were: Having programs getting senior citizens and children together; movie nights; board game nights, and possibly a Holiday Home Tour.

The meeting adjourned at 10:05 pm.

Meet Your Neighbors

The Vaughn Post Office is the place where residents meet to talk and get their mail. The quaint little building is the news center for the community, as well as a convenient place to mail letters and packages. Run efficiently by Postmaster Joanne Clark, with help from her new postmaster relief, Elise Cantwell and rural carrier Sandy Crawford, it is the epitome of small, rural postal stations all across America.

Postmaster Joanne has been working for the postal service for 11 years, beginning at Burley as a part-time clerk working on assignment in various post offices, and as an exam specialist in Tacoma.

She didn't really know the area or the people when she came here, but her husband played slow-pitch baseball at Volunteer Park for years. Over the years she says she learned a lot from longtime residents and maps. "I learned to read maps," Joanne said "because there are no signs at the intersections. We are the greeting center of Vaughn. Where am I? And how do I get somewhere else? are the most asked questions! I have enjoyed my time at Vaughn and my customers feel like friends."

Elise Cantwell started work here on April 15, 1995 as Postmaster relief. She works Saturday and Monday, and fills in when needed. She heard about the opening through a family member who works at the Port Orchard Post Office.

"I enjoy working in a small community," Elise says, "You have a chance to get to know everyone." Elise is working towards a career in the Postal Service.

Sandy Crawford has worked as a rural carrier for the Post Office for many years, and three years ago became our full-time rural carrier. She enjoys her work and the small community. She provides postal service, too.

Postal hours are Monday through Friday 8:00 a.m. - 12:00 and 12:30 p.m. - 4:30 p.m. and Saturday, 9:00 a.m. - 11:00 a.m. and closed Sunday, now that the automatic lock works right! Joanne didn't know that the timed lock wasn't working, and everyone thought the Post Office was open on Sunday!

Editor:

Each year, as most of us celebrate Independence Day with our families, a few people in our community donate their time by helping work the fireworks stands, one in the parking lot of the Key Center Tavern and the other at the Texaco station on the corner of Elgin-Clifton and Wright-Bliss.

This annual event is a cooperative effort between the Key Peninsula Civic Center and the V.F.W. Post 4990 and Ladies Auxiliary. All profits are used to support the Civic Center and numerous community programs sponsored through the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Thanks to the cooperation of Fire District 16, the season started on the 25th of June with a fireworks demonstration at the Civic Center. In addition to providing a show for the audience, everyone got a reminder on the safe use of fireworks with the help of Girl Scout Troop 83 passing out fliers.

The 1995 season again was a success. Chairmen Cy Young and Wilma Haines with co-chairmen Wally Cornman and Robert Blum want to extend their deepest appreciation to all the volunteers who helped work the stands. Special thanks to the proprietors of the Key Center Tavern and the Texaco station for allowing the use of their property.

The Vaughn Union High School Reunion Committee thanks you and the Key Peninsula Civic Center Association for ensuring that we were able to hold a very successful reunion at the Civic Center on June 16, 1995.

We would like to donate a check in the amount of $400.00 in recognition of our appreciation for the assistance accorded us.

All former Vaughn Union High School attendees were happy to once again be able to meet in the surroundings that brought back such fond memories.

We, the Committee, thank the Civic Center Association for the generosity shown.

Editor:

I want to thank everyone who participated in the landscaping of the two new fire stations; Station #3 at Home and Station #5, at Wright-Bliss and Hwy. 302.

We think that there were about 75 people helping with the planting. It was gratifying to see people drive up with plants, and with their families to help plant them. They asked where they could be of help, and then just pitched right in. This was a real community effort. These are the communities' Stations and the people were proud to put the finishing touches in place.

Mary and Fred Ramsdell and Al Yanity were there all day. Ron Quinsey couldn't make it (he was the original force behind the 'planting day' activity), but he had good representation in his mother and her friend who were there the whole day.

Sunnycrest Nursery supplied a lot of the plants. Even though it was a hot day, the plants were well watered and are looking good. A watchful eye will be kept on them, particularly during these dry days. When other stations are built I know that we can count on the Community to help again.

I know there are people that have not been named, but their names were recorded and all will be acknowledged.

A Big thanks from a member of the team.

If everyone sent in a dollar,
Just think of what we could do!
We could paint this grand old lady,

And fix the plumbing, too!
We could fix all the broken windows

That let the rain come through.
We could fix the ceiling tiles in the gym,

Before they fall down on you!
We could buy a riding lawn mower,

To keep the lawns well groomed.

We could buy the paint to paint the gym

And inside of the Whitmore Room.

We could buy pots and pans for the kitchen

So you can cook a meal.

All, if you just send a dollar -

It sounds like you'd get a good deal!

Old Timers' Day Coming August 19

Do you know what a steam donkey is? How about a "one lung" motor? Does a skidder do anything for you? If none of these terms rings a bell, you owe yourself a day off from chores and yardwork to head down to Longbranch on August 19 to participate in the annual Old Timers' Day festivities. Just 22 miles south of the Purdy Bridge, these terms "will come to life" for you. They are part of the logging industries jargon and will be on display for all to see.

The day starts off at 10:00 a.m., with the flag raising ceremony con-

Vicki Coen and son Andy in the double handsaw competition that earned them second place at the 1993 Old Timers' Day festival. This competition ... and many others ... will be featured again at our 1995 festivities. Photo by Hugh McMillan ducted by the local V.F.W. Post. Immediately following is the Old Time Loggers' Show. This is truly an experience. All sorts of logging contests are scheduled. There will be small chain saw bucking as well as large chain saw bucking. Pole climbing is always a favorite. Climbing and topping is something to see. Competing loggers race to the top of a pole and slice off the top and direct it to a target on the ground - without touching it with their hands. Besides working with power saws, there will also be single and double handsaw bucking contests. Events will feature lady loggers as well as senior loggers.

Old Timer's Day is the annual fun day presented free to all who attend, and is sponsored by Key Peninsula Community Services, the local Food Bank and Senior Center. It also doubles as a major fund raiser for the year to raise money to continue the programs of the Food Bank. During the day there will be all sorts of family activities; Rides for the kids, arts and crafts booth, continuous entertainment, delicious hamburgers and cold drinks, an auction, and to top off the days' events, a giant raffle at 8:00 p.m. Raffle tickets will be on sale throughout the day for only $1.00 each. This year's lucky winner will be the recipient of $1,000 in cash. That's right - cash! Second prize is $500 in cash. Third Prize is the ever popular shopping spree in the market of your choice. This year the spree will be worth $250. The auction will feature many items donated by local merchants and will feature everything from haircuts to you name it.

If you want to step back into history for a day, head to Longbranch on August 19. When the sun starts to set, you'll know what a steam donkey, a "one lung" motor and a skidder are. You'll be glad you came.

Olalla Bluegrass Festival Announces Lineup

"Kick the City Off Your Shoes!"

Organizers of the Olalla Bluegrass Festival are delighted to remind bluegrass fans that the '4th-Ever' event will take place Saturday, August 19th at the Olalla Little League Field. With music starting at 11 AM, folks can plan for a full day of great music, terrific food and good family fun.

The festival has become known as one of the best single-day bluegrass events in the Northwest, as this year's lineup will confirm. As usual, some of the regions' favorite bands will headline the event, including Cruisin' Timber (from all-around Puget Sound), Who's Driving and Lonesome Doves (from Seattle), Great Northern Planes (Portland), Out of the Blue (Salem, Oregon), and Rural Delivery, the hometown band from Port Orchard. Out of the Blue won the regional title in the Pizza Hut Bluegrass Showdown in February and will represent the Pacific Northwest at the International Showdown in Owensboro, Kentucky this fall.

Olalla's own Cowboy Buck and the Kitsap County Old Time Fiddlers will open the show, and there will be plenty of parking lot pickin' throughout the day.

In addition to a full day of music guaranteed to 'Kick the City Off Your Shoes', there will be an abundance of good country food, a crafts fair, old-time craft demonstrations, history exhibits, environmental displays, a berry pie contest and a variety of children's activities including pony rides, face painting, bubble making and a kids' parade.

Admission is $6.00 for adults, $3.00 for kids ages 6 - 12 and seniors over 65. There is a $1.00 per car charge for parking. The Little League Field is located on Olalla Valley Road approximately 1 mile south of Mullenix Road.

For additional information or directions to the Festival, Please call Charlee Glock at 305-0374 (days) or 857-5604 (evenings and weekends).

Small Businesses Need To Know

by Bob Eberle

Complying with federal and state regulations concerning chemicals in the workplace can be a real burden to a business struggling in today's market place.

Many small businesses make two big mistakes: First they believe the regulations do not apply to them because they are too small. In fact, OSHA's Hazard Communication Standard applies to any business that uses hazardous chemicals and has at least one employee. Also, EPA type Dangerous Waste Regulations regulate any business that generates 220 lbs (apx 25 gal) of hazardous waste in any month and sometimes as little as 2.2 lbs (apx. 1 quart) a month. Even those businesses under the 220 lbs waste limit are not "unregulated". They are "Conditionally Exempt", which means there are certain conditions they must continually meet in order to remain exempt. Secondly, many businesses believe that because they met requirements of the Hazard Communication Standard several years ago, they have everything "under control". Unfortunately, when programs are not regularly reviewed and updated to track with regulatory changes, those companies who believe they are in compliance are often shocked to find they are at the wrong end of an environmental inspection.

Inspectors will cite businesses not only for practices that do not comply with the regulations but also for lack of documentation such as training records and for missing required paper work.

The plain fact is that the regulators consider the big operators to be pretty much in compliance by now. Like tumbleweeds rolling downhill, more regulatory time is now available to take a closer look at smaller businesses.

The prudent approach for all businesses is to analyze their programs and update them as soon as possible. Contracting for outside help with this process can often be more cost effective and provide greater confidence than trying to do it all themselves. The cost of compliance is generally a lot less than the cost of being tagged for non-compliance.

Additional information may be obtained by calling 1-800-366-0939.

MARITIME CENTER OPENS

The Thea Foss Waterway Maritime Center opened its doors with a gala celebration sponsored by J. M. Martinac Shipbuilding on Saturday, July 15th. Over 400 delighted guests experienced the rich diversity of our maritime heritage through exhibits and live demonstrations of such maritime skills as boat building, knot tying, net mending and decoy carving. Featured artisans included veteran Gig Harbor fisherman Donald Gilich and Tacoma master boat builder Mike Vlahovich. Tacoma's Deputy Mayor cut the ribbon on the facility and commended this effort to rebuild the future by honoring the past.

The Maritime Center hosts changing exhibits on Puget Sound's on-going maritime heritage, with special emphasis on the region's cultural and environmental history. Special events in upcoming months will feature local artisans demonstrating a variety of maritime crafts and skills. Guided tours of the Thea Foss Waterway aboard the historic tug boat Joe explore the past, present and future history of this dynamic urban waterway.

Center hours: Thursday, 11 am - 3 pm and Saturday, 1 - 5 pm. Admission to the Center is free. For information call 206 / 272-2750.

Committee Report On The Old Vaughn High Reunion

The Reunion committee members met at the home of Frances Kinkaid to discuss the past reunion and to finalize the financial report. From remarks and letters of thank yous of former classmates, it was declared a success. Approximately 260 classmates attended. We were especially proud to have the former principals and teachers as honored guests. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Art Skurdall and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Miller. Mrs. Ruby Graham, a former school board director, was also a special guest. Gifts went to the oldest class present, the class of 1919, Mary Mills Anderson and Ruth Haines Parker. Class of 1921, Elsie Bill Olson. The longest married couple present, Virginia Froehlich Kovack and husband, Charles Kovack. Student from the greatest distance was Lloyd Tachell from Oklahoma. Classmates also came from Alaska, Texas, Montana, California, Nevada, Idaho and Oregon. Former student with most children went to Marc Jobb and wife, Betty (5).

After expenses were paid, a balance of $515.00 was left. The committee voted to donate $400.00 to the Key Peninsula Civic Center for use of the building and $115.00 to the Key Peninsula Historical Museum for staying open for old classmates to see the old school pictures and history of their hometowns.

It was a fun night for all the old Vaughn Eagle students. The committee members consisted of Chet Dadisman, chairman, Frances

This "model" student is wearing the original sweater and skirt Joyce Niemann wore when she was a cheerleader. (The shoes belong to Shirl Olson)

Kinkaid, Jane Van Slyke, Bill Hipp, Sherman Edwards, Shirley Olson, Millie Niemann and Joyce Niemann. The reunion was well worth the effort put forth for all the laughter, reminiscing, trying to remember old friends names and getting reacquainted in the old Vaughn High Gym.

As of present plans, the next reunion will be the year, "2000". The committee wishes everyone to still be around to attend.

Volksmarch A Soggy Event

Less than 100 hardcore Volksmarchers attended the annual KP Lions Volksmarch at Penrose Point Park on July 8th and 9th. "The heavy rain, wind and thunderstorms deterred even the most dedicated walkers from this increasingly popular event," said Mike Coffin, KP Lions 1st Vice President, "but our Lion volunteers stood their ground. Next years' annual Volksmarch will prove to be better than ever, drawing marchers here from across the US and Canada. We've already placed our order for better weather."

A Most Marvelous Muster

Story and photos by Hugh McMillan

Clockwise: John Schmidt Jr., John Glennon of Key Peninsula, and Colin Percell of Scappoose, Oregon, on KFPD's 1919 American La France. "Wayne's Team" and 1619 (ret.), Becky Tjossem, J.J. Frame, and Michelle Bearden on 16-0, "Benjamin Franklin" and Bob Fearnough, Portland's steamer pumps water for Seattle's new ladder, Key Peninsula Lions Judy Coffin, Marie Rock, Shirley Rettig, and Treva O'Neal run the beverage garden, KFPD's ladies first place winning bucket brigade team, D. D. Kerkes, Karen Lunore, Michelle Bearden, Kathy Schmidt, and Annie Way.

"When the story of this year's muster spreads, as it will," said Key Peninsula Fire Department's Bob Fearnough who spearheaded this year's event, "every muster fan within driving distance will want to participate."

KP firefighters are already planning 1996's muster. "Same time, same place," said Fearnough, "and we expect it will be at least twice as big as this year's."

Friday afternoon through Sunday, 14-16 July, Volunteer Park played host to firefighters and antique firefighting equipment from throughout the Northwest.

They came from Vancouver, B.C., Boise, Idaho, Portland, Beaverton, Linn and Benton Counties, and Mt. St. Helen, Oregon, and all over Washington.

Most of them were members of fire muster competition teams and brought their own antique fire equipment. Some restorations of aged equipment were described by participants and guests as "works of art."

Tacoma rolled in with its 1948 Mack, Model L, triple combination fire engine.

The City of Portland, Oregon, brought its beautifully restored 1911 horse-drawn

It seems that sometimes the imports to Washington cause more than their share of problems. I'm not talking about Hondas and Toyotas, but the biological invaders that take over their ecological niche, like scotchbroom, blackberries, slug, and tegenia agrestis, better known as the common aggressive house spider. We're lucky in the Puget Sound region not to have poisonous snakes, and we have also escaped the most common injurious spiders, the black widow and the brown recluse. The common aggressive house spider (also known as the hobo spider), is our most venomous, and it was first reported in Washington in 1936, presumably imported through one of the ports. The hobo spider is 1/2 to 3/4 inches long, a nondescript brown in color, with a herringbone stripe on its abdomen. It is found inside and near houses in any season, except winter, with most bites reported during late summer.

Almost 60 species of spiders have been reported to cause some symptoms when humans have been bitten, but the hobo bite is significantly more serious than most. The bite itself may be painless, but soon an area of redness forms, often blistering, and then a central ulcer forms under the blister. If this area is large enough, the skin may not heal, in some cases requiring a skin graft. One half of those bitten also develop general symptoms such as lethargy, headaches, nausea, and weakness. The treatment is symptomatic, keep the wound clean and the patient comfortable. If the bite doesn't seem to be healing properly, then it's time to see a doctor.

Although early August is not quite back to school time, it's definitely back to school physical time. Every year our Tuesday Well Child Clinics are full at the end of the month, so beat the rush and bring you student in early.

Ode To Home

by Stanley Paul

While resting by the old boat ramp that enters Von Gelden Cove, my thoughts return to my boyhood days, before I started to roam. They razed the dock where the freighters berthed, where we played and had such fun. The old town hall and the country stores have vanished one by one.

I used to think, as a growing boy, of the ones who built this place. Now they are gone, just like the town, there is hardly even a trace. They had a plan, of a beautiful land, of a world where men are free. To go through life, expressing their views, in peace and harmony.

Three families set out in a homemade boat, to pursue just such a dream. They came across this beautiful cove, so peaceful and serene. The trees so green, like a painted scene, seemed to welcome them ashore. They started a town and called it Home, to relish evermore. I hope to see it come to pass, that we fulfill their dreams to live in peace and harmony, to me, that is what it means.

Portland's ancient steamer, fueled with burning wood, ran up its boiler pressure and served as the sole source of water atop Seattle's 125 foot ladder 7 which shot a stream of that water to delight everyone. "A marriage of young and old," said a Canadian firefighter.

Many participants described Volunteer Park as the, "finest site for a muster," they'd ever seen.

For two long exciting sun-soaked fun-filled days, the smoke eaters vied for trophies and awards. The friendly contests involved everything from bucket brigades to fast on-the-run hydrant hookups supplying roaring engines where crews blasted targets over in timed-to-the-fraction-of-a-second tiffs.

KP Lions ran a beer and soft drink garden to slake thirsts of sun-parched contestants and spectators and food could be had from several vendors.

Key Peninsula firefighters walked off with first place awards in the women's bucket brigade, and the men's and women's motorized pumper competitions, and second place in women's motorized hose wagon.

Key Peninsula also received the coveted "Most Original" trophy for its 1919 American La France fire engine.

America's first fire chief, "Benjamin Franklin" (played to perfection by Howard Krick of Salem, Oregon), gave a moving eulogy for the four Seattle firefighters lost in the Pang fire. "At the close of his talk," said KPFD's Chief, Gary Franz, "the sirens of dozens of rigs opened in what can only be described as a mournful wail of sadness. It was very touching."

Bob Fearnough praised KPFD's

Erik Clement as, "the absolute king pin in placing all the equipment and making sure that everything operated smoothly."

Fearnough went on to say, "there's no way to thank the many volunteers who made the muster such a success," adding, "if you didn't see it happen, it's because the many people who made it happen did it so inconspicuously."

"We'd like to have seen more attendees from the general public," said KPFD's Deputy Chief, Fred Ramsdell, "this is an event for everybody, not just firefighters."

At a critique attended by about 20 interested people, all present agreed that for next year's muster, we will spread the word that everyone is welcome to attend and that the show is free of charge.

As festivities were coming to a close, an Oregon lady summed it all up: "It was a most marvelous muster."

Fire Department's New Phone System

Beginning the end of August, the Key Peninsula Fire Department will begin a month-long pilot program with their telephone system in an effort to streamline information requested by the public, according to District Secretary Kathy Hale. The phone system, purchased two years ago, is capable of routing calls, entering voice mail to leave messages, and giving burn ban information, just to name a few. Some of the system's capabilities have not been implemented to this point because the Department did not want to take away the personal touch of a "live" voice answering the calls. After working with the telephone phone company, the Department feels that they have come up with a system that will maintain that "personal touch." During the month trial, public input on the system is both welcome and wanted.
