PIONEER BAR AND GRILL, RUN-A-MUCK MERCANTILE Still Offer Affordable Fare in Midst of Crisis

By Eric Trent

etrent@chronline.com

Editor's Note: The Chronicle is working to assist local businesses suffering from the effects of the COVID-19 virus spread and associated government orders to close or limit commerce. There will be a feature on a local business in each edition of The Chronicle and at chronline.com moving forward. To be considered, email reporter Eric Trent at etrent@chronline. com. Additionally, The Chronicle will continue to offer its coverage of the coronavirus and its effects across the community, state and nation free outside of our paywall at chronline.com.

MOSSYROCK — For Mossyrock business owner Georgia Weigant, running and helping run small businesses is all she's ever known. She began working at the Pioneer Bar and Grill in Mossyrock ever since her family started it in 1973, which she eventually bought in the 1990s.

"It's the only job I've ever had," Weigant said.

But she's never seen business anything like it currently is with the coronavirus outbreak and restaurant restrictions. She never imagined anything like this would even happen. Who would?

"Never really thought about it before, not when they're telling you where you can go, what you can do and who you can see," Weigant said. "We all know to keep our hands clean and don't touch your face. I've been at the bar and grill 50 years and I've never had anybody sick. Thank god we're in a little town where you're not seeing it like you do in the city."

Nevertheless, the pandemic has had a rippling effect on her business. Weigant used to open at 6 a.m. and offer $3 breakfasts. The hamburger patties for some of the burgers she makes now cost $2 just for the patty. It's forced her to raise prices in order to counter the food costs.

Still, the restaurant is able to offer extremely-affordable options that are among some of the best deals in the county. The bar and grill's most popular items are its burgers, sandwiches and soups, and it runs daily specials. A deluxe burger with fries goes for $5.50, while a mushroom swiss burger sells for $7.50. Customers can get fish, fries and chowder for just $11.95 and a Philly cheesesteak can be had for $7.

"I absorb the food costs all the time, just like with the beer, I absorb it a lot," Weigant. "You just can't nickel and dime everybody. I look at things and say, 'Hey, do I mind paying that?' I just try to keep my prices down."

Weigant also has some of the cheapest fishing tackle around, as well. She opened the Run-a-Muck Mercantile three years ago, located just across East State Street from her bar and grill.

Most of her customers at the store and bar have been incoming fishermen traveling into town to try their luck at hooking some of the more than 400,000 triploid rainbow trout that were released into Riffe Lake in April. Riffe Lake reopened for fishing on May 5 after two months of statewide fishing closures due to concerns surrounding the COVID-19 pandemic.

"With fishing opened up I was able to start selling some tackle," Weigant said. "That's helped. But my business across the street is almost nil. Before I was robbing Peter to pay Paul, now I'm robbing Paul to pay Peter. Just trying to keep them both going."

Locals haven't been filling up the seats inside the bar and grill like Weigant had hoped when Lewis County moved into phase two of the state's four-phase reopening plan on May 22. The phase allows county businesses to allow in-dining customers with 50 percent or less capacity and table groups of five or fewer people.

But the customers just haven't been coming, Weigant said. And the ones that have been are either ordering to-go or eating at one of the outdoor tables on the porch.

Weigant is also struggling to find employees to work, she said, because potential employees are making more money on unemployment.

"So we're just kind of going with the flow," Weigant said. "Just trying to make it all work."

It's a situation that has put an added workload on Weigant, who spends a couple hours a day at the bar and grill and about 10 hours a day at the store, which is open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

It has helped that Weigant owns a few rentals around town, which has helped keep her businesses afloat. Most of that income is just being poured back into her businesses. No matter what happens, Weigant said, she's not closing her doors for anything.

"I'm going to keep my business open," Weigant said. "I'm not a quitter. At least I've got a little other income coming in. I'm not driving a new car or anything, I'm just trying to make it all work."

Reporter Eric Trent can be reached at etrent@chronline. com. Visit chronline.com/business for more coverage of local businesses.

DearAbby

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are not on the same page about helping with the grandkids. We moved here six years ago to be closer to my daughter, her husband and their two daughters. The older one is 9, and the younger is 6.

Although the 6-year-old has multiple physical challenges and developmental delays, our son-in-law thinks "we" babysit far too often. My intention is to help my daughter with the challenges that a special needs child presents to the family. Mostly, I am the one providing the care; my husband does the minimum.

Every time I agree to watch the children, I feel huge stress because I know my son-in-law will complain about it. It's tearing me apart. Thank you for listening. Just writing this helps. — HELPING IN THE EAST

DEAR HELPING: I agree that parenting a child with special needs is challenging. You are a loving, caring mother and grandmother, but this is something your daughter and her husband have to reach a meeting of the minds about. The last thing she needs is dissension in her household. Counseling for them might help your son-in-law understand that your daughter's health might be compromised if she does everything herself. Some sort of compromise about your level of involvement could be key.

As to your husband, I'm not sure what more you think he should be doing. He agreed to move closer to your daughter so you could help her. It has to have been disruptive for him. Please give him points for that, because I do.

DEAR ABBY: I have a couple of weddings coming up, and I have a small dilemma. They are both in my husband's family and only a month apart. One is his brother's, and the other is his cousin's. My question is, can I wear the same dress to both weddings?

By Abigail Van Buren

about what people think, but I also don't want to be the subject of ridicule or scorn at a family event. I'll also add, it's not about financial concerns. It's just that it's a beautiful dress, and I really don't see the point in going out and getting another fancy dress. I worry about pictures at both weddings.

I normally

don't care

TIFUL DRESS IN THE MIDWEST DEAR BEAUTIFUL DRESS:

I guess I'm confused and could really use some advice. — BEAU-

You are not a Hollywood actress during awards season, who "must" have a radically different look for each ceremony. Your family weddings are special events, but there is no reason you can't use the dress you have in mind for both. If you're afraid it may cause a problem in wedding photos, consider accessorizing your dress differently for each one — gold jewelry for the first, silver for the second and a different colored shawl or wrap. I'm sure you can pull this off. Please write back and let me know.

DEAR ABBY: I've been friends with "Brenda" for nearly 40 years. We've had our share of tough times, but I've always been a good friend to her even though it felt one-sided. The last straw for me was a few months ago, when I had major surgery.

I didn't hear from her for three weeks, and when she did call, she talked about her life the whole time and showed no interest in how I was doing. Brenda has now had major surgery.
Two weeks have gone by, and I haven't called her. I want her to have a taste of her own selfish medicine.

I have been upfront with her in the past that she hasn't always been there for me. She apologizes but nothing changes. Am I being too sensitive about her lack of caring about anyone but herself? — OVER IT IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR OVER IT: I don't think so. But if you step back and review your relationship with Brenda, you will realize that it has always been this way. Perhaps it's time to reevaluate whether maintaining the kind of relationship you have with her is worth the effort because, after 40 years, she isn't going to change. Either accept her as she is or move on.

DEAR ABBY: My wife, "Cynthia," and I are a middle-aged couple who have been married four years. Shortly after our wedding, she suffered a stroke during a heart transplant. After she returned home from the hospital, a "friend" told her I was having an affair (I wasn't). Without telling me why, Cynthia threw me out of the house and returned to a distant state to be near her family. She had most of her belongings shipped there.

After I presented proof of my innocence a year later, we reconciled. The first couple of years of marriage were chaotic, and I know I wasn't perfect. But I did the best I could and stood by her throughout the medical ordeal.

Now, Cynthia is saying I should have to pay to have her items shipped back simply because I'm "the man." Abby, we have roughly the same income due to pensions. We have always kept our finances separate. I think she should pay to have her own items returned because she is the one who shipped them over there based on a lie. The money itself isn't the issue; it's the principle. I feel like this is a slap in the face. What do you think? — MR. NICE GUY

DEAR MR. NICE GUY: You shouldn't have to pay for anything "because you're the man." You didn't cheat, and you aren't responsible for the fact that Cynthia overreacted and ran away the way she did.

You say that until now you have kept your finances separate because you each have your own incomes. My advice is to refuse to be manipulated. Your wife should pay to have her belongings returned, just as she paid to have them sent away without verifying whether the story was true.

DEAR ABBY: When I was a child, my dad told me, "If it weren't for you kids, there are so many things your mother and I could have." What I remember most was the intensity in his voice.

When I was old enough to work, I had a job after school so I could pay for my own clothes although my family wasn't poor. My father repeatedly let me know I was "lucky" I didn't get taken out of school to help support the family. When I graduated from high school at 17, I immediately went to work, and I paid for my board.

I married at 18 to get out of the house and paid for my own wedding. It never even occurred to me to ask for help. When I ended up divorced, I worked my way through college. When I graduated, my mother had to make my father go to my graduation because he didn't want to.

I have never been able to shake the feeling that I don't have a right to anything, and I'm not good enough. My other siblings are a mess, too. How do I shake this feeling of not being worthy? — WORTHLESS IN FLORIDA

DEAR WORTHLESS: Children develop their feelings of selfworth from their parents. It appears at least one of yours was missing in action from the time you were little.

I don't have a magic wand, and I can't make the negative message your father implanted in your head disappear. On the upside, your upbringing made you independent, if only out of necessity. It may take help from a licensed mental health professional to make the scars from the way your father raised you fade.

Dear Abby is written by Abigail Van Buren, also known as Jeanne Phillips, and was founded by her mother, Pauline Phillips. Contact Dear Abby at www.DearAbby.com or P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, CA 90069.

Saving souls and solving crime

Cop teams up with vicar in 'Grantchester'

By Rachel Jones TV Media

What more do the people of Grantchester have to hide? You'd be surprised. Your favorite British crime drama is back again, and it's gaining momentum after some major changes. You can see the Season 5 premiere of "Grantchester" when it airs Sunday, June 14, on PBS.

The fictional show is set in the real-life town of Grantchester, England, characterized by rolling hills, countryside picnics, and, apparently, murder. Throughout the show's run, the picturesque town has seen some of the most gruesome murders and crimes imaginable. While Insp. Geordie Keating (Robson Green, "Strike Back") is on the case, he can't do it alone, and he relies on the town's vicar, Will Davenport (Tom Brittney, "Outlander"), to help him out. Geordie knows the value of an inside man who knows many of the town's secrets.

As the show returns for a reinvigorated season with new faces and characters, you'll see some of your old favorites still knocking around Grantchester. The reliable Tessa Peake-Jones ("After Louise," 2019) returns as the newlywed Mrs. Chapman, formerly Mrs. Maguire. Cathy Keating (Kacey Ainsworth, "EastEnders"), the inspector's wife, is also back, as well as the gentle curate, Leonard Finch (Al Weaver, "Colette," 2018).

Last season, we met Amelia Davenport (Jemma Redgrave, "Howards End," 1992), who is Will's mother, and she returns this season. Fans will meet two brand new characters in the upcoming episodes: Diana (Paula Wilcox, "Mount Pleasant"), Cathy Keating's mother, who brings some psychological elements to the story as she struggles with bipolar disorder, and Ellie Harding (Lauren Carse, "The Mallorca Files"), a reporter who becomes fast friends with Will – it will be interesting to see how their relationship develops and whether there is another love connection around the corner.

If you haven't been watching "Grantchester" from the beginning, you may not know that Will was not the original vicar of Grantchester. In fact, his face is practically new to the series.

The town's leading clergy was previously Sidney Chambers (James Norton, "Little Women," 2019), who left the show towards the beginning of last season. Chambers, who loved God, jazz and drinking, was the tour-de-force that gave the show its momentum. Broken after serving in the war, he learned tough and compelling lessons about faith and love and repentance. His character made the ultimate choice between his deep love for Amanda Kendall (Morven Christie, "The A Word") and the church to which he had planned to dedicate his life. We were crushed by his tear-jerking departure, but his exit made sense and allowed for new blood to be pumped into the show's ever-pulsing plot.

All these deep and brooding characters are actually based on those in the series of novels known as The Grantchester Mysteries, written by James Runcie. Like their television counterpart, the books are also set in the town of Grantchester and follow Canon Sidney Chambers in his crime-solving efforts. Published between 2012 and 2017, there are six books in the set, and interestingly, each book is actually made up of multiple short stories, much like the tales of Sherlock Holmes by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, but these mid-century tales have a lot more emotion driving their main characters.

The show that's grown from the rich soil of Runcie's books first aired in October 2014 and is produced by Masterpiece and Lovely Day. It features Diederick Santer ("Jane Eyre") and Rebecca Eaton ("Sherlock") as executive producers and has been met with high praise from both fans and critics, scoring an impressive 95% from Rotton Tomatoes.

It's safe to say the show is in good hands. With his excellent performances in both "Outlander" and "Call the Midwife," Brittney is the perfect choice to play the dreamyeyed Will and has successfully ushered in a new wave of intrigue and drama. This vicar is much younger than the last and represents a generational shift that was happening across Britain during the late 1950s. Will is not haunted by the war, and he starts off high on an ecclesiastical pedestal, perfectly positioned for a fall from grace. With so many avenues for his character to take, it'll be exciting to see where Season 5 of "Grantchester" takes him.

We haven't been left totally in the dark about where the show will go from here, however. We're seeing more of Geordie and Cathy's dynamic relationship as Cathy settles into her new job. In fact, everything seems to be "settling in" as Will becomes comfortable with the town and its residents, gaining their trust and learning their stories. But when everything appears to be perfect within the town of Grantchester, you know there's trouble brewing behind the scenes.

PBS has hinted that this could be the show's darkest season yet. However, the show has always been great at using humor to cut the tension. We're predicting that, with what we've seen from Will and Geordie's relationship so far, this season could be one of the most entertaining, too.

Even if you haven't been a diehard "Granchester" fan (like some of us), now is the perfect time to get yourself hooked. Watch Davenport and Keating team up to solve some twisted murders on the idyllic British countryside. Tune in Sunday, June 14, for the premiere of Season 5 on PBS.

A scene from "Crossing Swords"

By Jessica Gosse TV Media

"Crossing Swords"

From the creators of "Robot Chicken" comes this new stop-motion adult comedy series, premiering Friday, June 12, on Hulu. It's set in the dark ages, and Nicholas Hoult ("Tolkien," 2019) lends his voice to the lead character, Patrick, a peasant who is thrilled when he finally gets a chance at his dream job: working as a squire at the royal castle. Unfortunately, Patrick is quickly disheartened as he learns that the royals he has spent his life idolizing aren't nearly as great as he imagined. Between discovering the queen's sex dungeon (aka "the fun dungeon") and being told by the king that "execution is a sometimes treat," it becomes increasingly clear to Patrick that his beloved kingdom is in complete shambles. Luke Evans ("Beauty and the Beast," 2017), Seth Green ("Family Guy") and Adam Pally ("Indebted") also lend their voices, and you can catch all 10 episodes of this hilarious series when they premiere this Friday.

"Into the Dark: Good Boy"

Emotional support animals have become more and more common, and on Friday, June 12, Hulu "celebrates" pet appreciation week with this most recent installment of the "Into the Dark" horror anthology series. Judy Greer ("Kidding") stars as Maggie, a woman who suffers from severe anxiety, and as a result, decides to get an emotional support dog to help ease her stress. She soon finds herself more relaxed but is unaware that her new dog has begun killing anyone who brings stress to her life. From her doctor (Elise Neal, "Logan," 2017) to her boss (Steve Guttenberg, "Police Academy," 1984), no one is safe from this unsuspecting yet vicious dog that would scare even Cujo.

Remember when we our favorite shows only aired once a week? Remember running to the kitchen for snacks during commercials, hoping you didn't miss anything important? Watching this series during its original run was both exhilarating and agonizing - the weekly cliffhangers were real killers, but the wait made the payoff extra sweet. "Lost" aired on ABC from 2004 to 2010, and every episode of its six-season run left viewers with more questions than answers and craving the next installment. Now, though, all 121 episodes are streaming on Hulu, and you can (and should!) watch them at whatever pace you want, but be warned: it's a tough show to turn off. For those of you young enough not to have absorbed the details of the show simply by being alive at the time of its initial run, I'll give you a quick rundown of the premise. The series begins with a plane crash. Survivors of a downed passenger jet are stranded on a tropical island, but it becomes clear early on that this island is far from normal. As the stranded passengers fight to survive in this strange new place, leaders emerge and interpersonal conflict begins to threaten everyone almost as much as their wild surroundings. Drama, comedy, science, magic, time travel, survival – there really is something for everyone in this show, and the series does a great job at fleshing out its main characters

Judy Greer in "Into the Dark"

with backstory and dramatic turns. The show stars Matthew Fox ("Party of Five"), Evangeline Lilly ("Ant Man and the Wasp," 2018), Josh Holloway ("Colony"), Jorge Garcia ("Hawaii Five-0"), Naveen Andrews ("Instinct"), Yunjin Kim ("Mistresses"), Daniel Dae Kim ("Hawaii Five-0"), Terry O'Quinn ("Castle Rock") and many others who come and go, playing characters who you will love or hate, many of which will break your heart. Created by superstar director/producer J.J. Abrams, "Lost" is an essential piece of television history that you don't want to miss.

"Gulabo Sitabo" (2020)

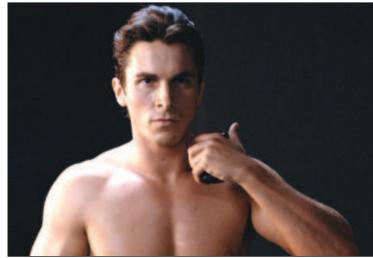

Due to the closing of theaters during the coronavirus pandemic, Western Bengali director Shoojit Sircar ("Pink" 2017) has teamed up with Amazon for the release of his latest film, "Gulabo Sitabo," premiering on Prime worldwide on Friday, June 12. In the city of Lucknow in the northern Indian state of Uttar Pradesh, an elderly landlord is desperate to get his young tenant to move out, by any means necessary, so that he can finally sell his mansion. Amitabh Bachchan ("Black" 2005) and Ayushmann Khurrana ("Article 15" 2019) star as the warring men, each determined to bring the other's dreams crashing down (sometimes literally) around them. The film's title comes from a form of puppetry that originated in Lucknow wherein a pupeteer improvises salacious jokes revolving around two women, Gulabo, a weary housewife, and Sitabo, her husband's young mistress. There are some who might dismiss this comedic drama upon remembering they are not one of the nearly 500 million Hindi speakers on the planet, but this film is worth it - check out the hilarious trailer before deciding to skip it to avoid reading subtitles. The scenery and language may be unfamiliar, but many of us know what it's like to deal with having a total jerk for a neighbor.

"Knives Out" (2019)

On Friday, June 12, you can stream this Oscar-winning whodunnit, one of the best films of 2019. Writer and director Rian Johnson ("Star Wars: Episode VIII: The Last Jedi," 2017) assembled a phenomenal cast for this film, including Daniel Craig ("Spectre," 2015) as mysterious detective Benoit Blanc; Christopher Plummer ("Departure") as dead patriarch Harlan Thrombey, whose suspected murder Blanc is investigating; Chris Evans ("Defending Jacob") as Thrombey's scornful grandson; and Ana de Armas ("Blade Runner 2049," 2017) as Thrombey's doting nurse. As Blanc investigates Thrombey's death, it becomes clear that all is not as it seems, and everyone has a different idea about what happened that night. Jamie Lee Curtis ("Halloween," 2018), Michael Shannon ("The Little Drummer Girl"), Don Johnson ("Watchmen") Tony Collette ("Unbelievable"), LaKeith Stanfield ("Uncut Gems," 2019) and more also star in this starstudded masterpiece.

"Child's Play" (2019)

This remake of the 1988 movie of the same name is available for streaming starting Friday, June 12. Mark Hamill ("Star Wars," 1977) provides the creepy voice for Chucky, a hightech doll that becomes increasingly self-aware, and ultimately goes on a terrifying murderous rampage. Aubrey Plaza ("Parks and Recreation") stars as Karen Barclay, a mother who recently moved to a new apartment with her teenaged hearing-impaired son (Gabriel Bateman, "The Dangerous Book for Boys"). She gives him the doll as an early birthday present, and before long, their nightmare begins. At first, Chucky comforts the boy and helps him make friends, but soon things get violent, and Karen finds herself defending her son from murder suspicions and running from a homicidal doll. Tim Matheson ("The West Wing") and Brian Tyree Henry

Christian Bale stars in "Equilibrium"

("Atlanta") also star.

"Equilibrium" (2002)

On Sunday, June 7, you can stream this classic dystopian action film starring Christian Bale ("Ford v. Ferrari," 2019) as John Preston, a man who begins to question the rules of his futuristic society. It's post World War III, and Preston lives in a totalitarian state where everyone is expected to take a daily injection of a drug that suppresses all emotion, as emotionality is said to be the root of all war. He is part of the elite force known as the Grammaton Clerics, law-enforcement officers trained in a martial art known as gun kata, a sophisticated fighting method that incorporates firearms for extreme lethality. His job is to track, catch and punish people who violate the state's rules about feelings - he decimates small enclaves of resistance fighters who dare to read, listen to music, have families or even love. Preston's world is upended when he discovers that there's a traitor in his midst, and must execute his mentor. This and the actions of others close to him send him spiraling, and cause him to question everything he has ever believed. It's an action-packed and touching emotional journey, and one worth revisiting time and again. Sean Bean ("World on Fire"), Taye Diggs ("All American"), Emily Watson ("Chernobyl"), William Fichtner ("Mom") and Angus Macfadyen ("TURN") also star.

Hollywood Game Night

KING 7:00 p.m.

The always-funny Jane Lynch hosts as celebrities try to help contestants win cash prizes playing goofy party games in this light-hearted series. The award-winning show challenges players to games involving pop culture, wordplay, physical stunts and more.

VICE

SHOW 8:00 p.m.

This hard-hitting documentary news series continues its first season on Showtime in this new episode. This year, the correspondents have covered radicalized women reviving ISIS, the rise and fall of WeWork, families reunited by the ACLU and COVID-19.

"Press Your Luck" host, Elizabeth Banks

Press Your Luck

комо 9:00 р.т.

Elizabeth Banks hosts this revival of the 1980's game show in which three contestants juggle the risk of pressing their button to spin on the show's "Big Board" to earn big bucks, but risk hitting the Whammy, which could take all their earnings in one go.

I Know This Much Is True

нво 9:00 р.т.

Don't miss this mini-series' penultimate episode, as the story of brothers Dominik and Thomas Birdsey (both played by Mark Ruffalo) comes to an end. Despite pushback from the people around him, Dominik fights to have his twin released from an asylum.

Star Trek

AMC 1:00 p.m.

A young James T. Kirk (Chris Pine) is recruited to Star Fleet, where he and his crew battle Nero (Eric Bana), a Romulan out for revenge. This reboot of the iconic sci-fi franchise also stars Zoe Saldana, Simon Pegg and Zachary Quinto.

Mixed-ish

комо 9:00 р.т.

Long before Rainbow Johnson (Tracee Ellis Ross) became a doctor, she and her parents moved from a hippie commune to the suburbs. Bow recalls her childhood, growing up mixed-race in 1980s middle-America, in this comedy spinoff series.

Zachary Quinto stars in "Star Trek"

20 Wednesday prime time

кіко 8:00 р.т.

With help from superstar athletes Rob Gronkowski and Venus Williams and their celebrity friends, two teams take on utterly outrageous and incredibly difficult feats of athleticism, ranging from kicking field goals to soccer drills and "human bowling."

American Housewife

комо 9:00 р.т.

Katie Otto (Katy Mixon) may not be a perfect mom, but that's the way she likes it in this comedy. She and her husband, Greg (Diedrich Bader) are determined to instill good old-fashioned values in their three kids as they raise them in a wealthy suburb.

Venus Williams in "Game On!"

The Good Liar

нво 9:20 р.т.

A British conman (Ian McKellen) makes a recently widowed woman (Helen Mirren) his next mark, planning to manipulate her out of her millions. But it turns out he isn't the only one who isn't who he claims to be, and a game of cat-and-mouse ensues.

Man on Fire

AMC 10:00 p.m.

Denzel Washington and Dakota Fanning star in this hit action film based on the novel by A.J. Quinnell. When his 9-year-old charge is kidnapped, a bodyguard goes on a rampage to get her back. Christopher Walken and Mickey Rourke also star.

NETFLIX this week

Dr. Mirtha Marci in "Lenox Hill"

By Jessica Gosse TV Media

"Kipo and the Age of Wonderbeasts" Season 2

Back in January, viewers were introduced to Kipo (voiced by Karen Fukuhara, "The Boys"), a curious girl living in a post-apocalyptic world filled with giant mutant creatures in Season 1 of this animated comedy series from Netflix and Dreamworks. Now, Kipo and her team of misfits return for all-new adventures when Season 2 premieres on the streamer on Friday, June 2. Season 1 saw Kipo trying to return home to an underground burrow where the humans have been forced to reside since the Great Mutant Outbreak, but now she discovers the burrow is in trouble. Scarlemagne (voiced by Dan Stevens, "Downton Abbey"), a mute mandrill, has managed to take complete control of the humans using fear and mind control. It's up to Kipo and her friends to rescue everyone, but when past secrets are brought to light, Kipo's life changes.

"Da 5 Bloods"

On Friday, June 12, don't miss the premiere of this new war drama from Academy Award-winning director Spike Lee ("BlackKklansman," 2018). Comrades in arms and veterans of the Vietnam War, Paul (Delroy Lindo, "The Good Fight"), Otis (Clarke Peters, "Harriet," 2019), Eddie (Norm Lewis, "Scandal") and Melvin (Isiah Whitlock Jr., "The Good Cop") head out on one more mission in this thrilling film based on the screenplay by Danny Bilson and Paul DeMeo. Accompanied by Paul's son (Jonathan Majors, "When We Rise"), who is troubled by the men's mission, the team returns to the still-ravaged land of Vietnam in search of buried treasure, as well as the remains of their squad leader (Chadwick Boseman, "Black Panther," 2018), who was killed in action.

"Lenox Hill"

In the midst of a global pandemic, many people are now more grateful than ever for the hard work and dedication of those on the front lines, especially those in the medical field. In a perfectly timed release, Netflix is set to premiere its new docuseries, "Lenox Hill," on Wednesday, June 10, a show that follows the lives of four doctors as they work at the eponymous long-standing New York City hospital. Located on the Upper East Side, the acute care facility has been a part of the community for over 150 years and offers all sorts of patient care, from neurology and gynecology to sports medicine and pediatrics.

"Pokémon Journeys: The Series"

Continue the mission to catch 'em all in this new Pokémon series coming to Netflix on Friday, June 12. Joined by his new friend, Goh (voiced by Daiki Yamashita, "My Hero Academia"), and, of course, his trusty sidekick, Pikachu, Ash Ketchum (voiced by Sarah Natochenny, "44 Cats") continues on his quest to become a Pokémon master by traveling the world in this animated series. Together, the friends cross many regions of the world in search of new Pokémon as research fellows for Prof. Cerise's (Ray Chase, "One Punch Man") laboratory. Along the way, they encounter old friends and battle old foes, like the infamous Team Rocket, on their mission to be the very best.

"The Woods"

Netflix brings another one of Harlan Coben's bestselling mystery novels to life in the premiere of this six-part Polish series on Friday, June 12. It's been 25 years since Pawel Kopinski's (Grzegorz Damiecki, "Schindler's List," 1993) sister disappeared after walking into the woods, and Kopinski is still grieving. When human remains are found in those woods and declared to be that of a male homicide victim, a connection is found between the victim and Kopinski's sister. With this new evidence, he becomes convinced that his sister could still be alive, but soon some long-kept secrets begin to come out and tear Kopinski's life apart. The series flips between the investigation in 2019 and the summer of 1994, when Kopinski's sister went missing, and explores the impact that secrets and loss can have on a person.

TV Media

Q: How many hosts have they had on "America's Got Talent"? It seems like they change every

A: It only seems like they change hosts every season, probably because the show's so breezy and quick – it sweeps into our lives at the end of spring and is gone before the summer is over.

That said, there certainly have been a lot of hosts - five of them across 15 seasons.

Hostina institution Reais Philbin started the cavalcade when the show launched in 2006. But he was gone by Season 2, when a different sort of hosting great stepped in - Jerry Springer. He lasted two seasons before passing the mic to the longest-standing host, actor-rapper-comedian Nick Cannon.

Eight seasons later, Cannon gave way to supermodel and reality host Tyra Banks, who did two seasons before actor and retired football player Terry Crews stepped in. And that's where we are today.

Neither Crews nor NBC has made any statements about his future beyond the current season (his second), but if he signs on for just one more, he becomes the second-longest host in the show's history, though he's a long way from Cannon.

Q: Does the success of the new "Jack Ryan" TV series mean an end to the Tom Clancy movies? I was hoping for more.

A: Fortunately for fans such as yourself, there was more to Tom Clancy's body of work than just Jack Ryan. Clancy's other super-stoic hero, John Clark, will get a film of his own later this year "Without Remorse," dué out in October.

Ryan, the analyst who becomes a reluctant field agent who also reluctantly becomes president (in the books, though that has yet to happen on screen), is Clancy's most famous character. A lot of that is due to the various film and TV productions, in which megastars Alec Baldwin, Harrison Ford, Ben Affleck, Chris Pine and now John Krasinski have played the famously humble hero.

But former Navy SEAL and CIA field agent John Clark has appeared in nearly as many books as Ryan. The characters are part of the same fictional universe, and in fact Clark was also portrayed by some big-name stars in two of the Ryan films: Willem Dafoe in "Clear and Present Danger" (1994) and Liev Schreiber in "The Sum of All Fears" (2002).

The \dot{n} ovel \dot{m} Without Remorse," published in 1993, tells Clark's origin story, before he meets Ryan, and the ordeal he goes through to become a darker sort of hero.

The news for fans gets even better, because the upcoming film is intended to launch a series of John Clark films with "Creed" (2015) star Michael B. Jordan in the lead.
