Lemon Tree Cafe and Espresso Going Strong Through Community Support

VIKINGS: Owner Alicia Thornton Praises Mossyrock Community for Help During Coronavirus Pandemic

By Eric Trent

etrent@chronline.com

Editor's Note: The Chronicle is working to assist local businesses suffering from the effects of the CO-VID-19 virus spread and associated government orders to close or limit commerce. There will be a feature on a local business in each edition of The Chronicle and at chronline.com moving forward. To be considered, email reporter Eric Trent at etrent@ chronline.com. Additionally, The Chronicle will continue to offer its coverage of the coronavirus and its effects across the community, state and nation free outside of our paywall at chronline.com.

MOSSYROCK – Alicia Thornton's high school yearbook from the early 2000s is proof she was destined to be a business owner.

The Mossyrock resident wrote that her dream job was to own a business someday. At the time, she had plans to open a dance club.

"You know, because I was cool and 18," Thornton said.

But waitressing has been her favorite job since she was 16 and she soon realized that that's where her calling was. She began managing coffee shops when she was 19, for about the past 15 years.

Jared Wenzelburger / jwenzelburger@chronline.com

Owner Alicia Thornton and Barista Trina Wolfe pose for a photo outside the Lemon Tree Cafe Saturday afternoon in Mossyrock.

It was 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ years ago when Lemon Tree Cafe and Espresso on East State Street in Mossyrock came up for sale after being open just six months. She felt it was the perfect opportunity to move from coffee shop employee to cafe owner.

"I kind of got sick working for the man," Thornton said. "It was time to branch out and do what I wanted to do."

And waitressing is still her favorite job; something that's always been in her blood

"Don't get me wrong, there's some days where I'm like, 'I don't want to smile right now," Thornton said. "But I do it."

Business had been great for the past 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ years until the global coronavirus pandemic hit in mid March.

The first two weeks were excruciatingly slow. Thornton wasn't sure what would happen to her business if customers didn't start arriving.

"It was a little scary at times," Thornton said.

After two weeks, seemingly out of nowhere, it was like summer in Mossyrock, both in regards to weather and the amount of customers. Bouts of rain usually equals less business for Lemon Tree Cafe, but the weather has been mild and dry for the most part this spring and the customers have been arriving in droves.

"It's been really busy," Thornton said. "I think it helps that our community is so small. We have a lot of members in our community wanting to help, so they're coming in quite often to support. I think if we were in Olympia or something it might be a little different story."

The cafe serves breakfast and lunch only, with breakfast being by far its most popular. Everything is made from scratch, like the gravy on the homemade biscuits that runs for $6.50. The cafe even bakes its own bread for biscuits, sandwiches and toast. Mama's toast, which is a choice of bread with melted butter, a slice of tomato and pepper, is also among the most popular on the menu and goes for $4.25.

Although business has been good for Lemon Tree through community support, it's also been bolstered by the cafe's willingness to adjust. Burgers are now being offered daily instead of just being a weekly special. The cafe buys its meat locally from the Bear Ridge Smokehouse in Morton.

"We're trying to keep people in," Thornton said. "We sell a lot of burgers."

There is no dinner menu but some customers order lunch items, such as the burgers, for dinner. Some other local favorites on the lunch side include smothered roast beef and grilled guacamole turkey sandwiches.

"Those ones I'm proud of because I made those up," Thornton said. "We have secret sauces we put on there that are homemade in-house."

The cafe has a little bit of everything, offering a full espresso bar with Dillanos Coffee Roasters coffee, which is roasted in Sumner, Washington. It also offers milkshakes, along with an assortment of baked goods, such as pies, cakes and cupcakes, all of which are made from scratch.

Another plus for the cafe during these times is having a drive-through window, which also helped boost business the past three months. It's one of few restaurants in east Lewis County that offers a drive through, Thornton said.

"People really like that," Thornton said. "It's so convenient, with or without COVID-19. You can call in your order and don't even have to get out of your car."

The dining room did open when Lewis County moved into phase two of Gov. Jay Inslee's four-phase "Safe Start" reopening plan over Memorial Day Weekend. The cafe is currently operating at 50 percent or less capacity, with regards to the guidelines, which is 24 seats for Lemon Tree.

The first week was pretty slow with customers coming in to actually sit down and eat, but it is gradually picking up every day now. Thornton said people are starting to be more comfortable with dining-in at restaurants.

Lemon Tree Cafe and Espresso is currently open 7 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 7 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturday and Sunday. A full menu and prices can be found on its Facebook page.

DEAR ABBY: My 13-year-old son and I recently had a discussion that maybe you can help clarify. We are seeing more about trans people these days, and I'm not sure how to address

I don't want to offend anyone, but when you see a large male wearing pants, shirt, etc. but has pink hair and makeup, should I say "sir" or "madam"? My son says I should ask what pronoun they would like to be referred by, but I am not sure that's a polite way to find out. I know this is also intertwined with sexual preference, but it still doesn't mean it is clear-cut. What's the most polite way to handle this? - CONFUSED IN THE SOUTH

DEAR CONFUSED: You are confusing "preference" with "orientation." Preference implies that one's sexuality is a choice rather than something that is wired into our brains. People do not choose to be gay, straight or gender dysphoric. Gender identity is about who you ARE. Sexual orientation is about who you LOVE.

As to how you should refer to or address a large male wearing a shirt and pants while sporting pink hair and full makeup, I agree with your son. It makes sense to ask the person, who, I am sure, is fully aware that their appearance is "different." Asking the person's name may also provide a clue.

DEAR ABBY: All my life I have followed orders. I haven't been able to determine my own path. When I was young, I did what my mother told me. When I was old enough, I joined the Marines, and I did as they said. After I separated from the service, I did what my social group expected. After I had a child, I did what a parent should do to protect and provide. That took the next 35 years of my life.

I am 60 now, retired, and the master of my ship. Without "or-and I am adrift. They say find a passion, do what makes you happy. But I am not passionate about anything. I like many things but feel no passion.

Being alive makes me truly happy. I love every day God gives me. But what to do with these days eludes me. What shall I do? Can you help me? - FOLLOWING ORDERS IN THE EAST

DEAR FOLLOWING: Ralph Waldo Emerson said: "The purpose of life is not to be happy. It is to be useful, to be honorable, to be compassionate, to have it make some difference that you lived and lived well." Perhaps if you concentrate more on doing just one thing a day for someone else, you will discover the passion you are looking for. I can't promise it will work, but it may be a step in the right direction.

DEAR ABBY: I live in New England, where it is very gray during the winter. I was inspired by the bright colors of a local Mexican restaurant to redecorate my house. I feel happier with all the lovely colors, but my neighbors feel I am being culturally insensitive because I am not Mexican. I disagree. I think I'm being appreciative. What do you think? — APPRECIATING IN NEW ENGLAND

DEAR APPRECIATING: I'm glad you asked. I think you have certain neighbors who should mind their own business and keep their criticism to themselves. I also think that you adopted the color scheme you did as a compliment.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I lost our son to suicide a few years ago. We have never gotten over it. I have recovered somewhat and would like to resume having intimate relations, but she's not that far along.

I no longer feel there's any reason to continue on this earth. There is no point to my being here. I think about suicide daily. I have been told that if I were going to do this and hurt my family as my son did, I would've already done it.

My wife and I have been cast into a hell that's impossible to bear. There is no way to describe the pain, anger and sorrow we feel. I want to die because I feel the world would be a better place without my sorrowful self taking up resources. I have sought help ever since we lost my son, and have been taking all kinds of medication that I no longer want to take. Is there a way out other than my option? - BEYOND DEPRESSED

DEAR BEYOND DEPRESSED: Please accept my deepest sympathy for the tragic loss of your son. I cannot imagine the hell you and your wife are going through.

Because you can't get the thought of suicide out of your mind, it is very important that you receive more help than I can give you in a letter. Your doctor should be put on notice about your issue with your medications.

Also, a group that might be helpful for you and your wife is the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention. If you contact trip to the supermarket, I nothem, they can refer you to a local support group for people who are surviving a loved one's suicide. The website is afsp.org. If, however, you feel you have reached a point where harming yourself is imminent, I urge you to call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 800-273-8255. Please don't give up.

DEAR ABBY: My wife of 38 years passed away a year and a half ago. My ex-wife, to whom I was married for 14 years, and who is the mother of our adult kids, is single again after four failed marriages. She's making overtures about getting together again. She is assertive, likes to spend and was very jealous.

At my age, I could use the help, but it would require selling my house and moving several states away. She's really pushing, but I'm just not sure. It would be nice to have someone around because I am lonely. She is a neat lady, but I just don't know. Help! — PROPOSITIONED IN THE MIDWEST

DEAR PROPOSITIONED:

Surely you can find someone to fill your loneliness other than a woman vou divorced for at least two solid reasons. I have four words of advice for you: When in doubt — DON'T! Your common sense is fueling your ambivalence. Please pay attention to it. At most, maintain a long-distance friendship with her.

DEAR ABBY: During a recent ticed a couple in their 50s who were shopping for produce. The woman picked up eight different avocados before selecting one. (I counted.) The man touched three different bags of oranges before placing one in their cart. This was repeated with each item they shopped for!

I considered asking them to stop touching the food, but I didn't want a confrontation. How would you have handled this? Can you please encourage your readers to minimize what they touch for the sake of public safety? — CONCERNED SHOPPER

DEAR CONCERNED: I would have handled it by talking about it to the store manager. In California, signs are posted asking customers to please handle merchandise as little as possible, and shoppers are encouraged not only to wear masks and practice social distancing while shopping for groceries, but also to wear gloves.

Once you bring your groceries home, you should wipe them down, and ALWAYS wash your hands thoroughly for the recommended 20 seconds.

Taking down Wall Street

Season 2 of Showtime's 'Black Monday' returns Sunday

By Amelia Ellis

fter the first season's finale Aended with a long-lost father falling to his death, audiences have been waiting for the absurdist comedy "Black Monday" to return and clarify all of our unanswered questions. Though we were able to get some satisfaction earlier this year, Season 2 came to a screeching halt thanks to COVID-19 slowing down production.

Fortunately for viewers, the remainder of the 10-episode season premieres Sunday, June 28, on Showtime.

On Oct. 19, 1987, Wall Street saw its worst stock market crash in history. No one is sure exactly why it happened, but creators of the "Black Monday" series, Jordan Cahan ("Marry Me") and David Caspe ("That's My Boy," 2012), have proved that they can make a spectacle out of it.

With a colorful and complex cast of characters, the first season was a look at the year leading up to the infamous crash. Audiences kept up with veteran stockbroker Maurice "Mo" Monroe (Don Cheadle, "Avengers: Endgame," 2019) and his attempt to buy out his very rich fiancée's jean company. We also witnessed Dawn Darcy (Regina Hall, "Shaft," 2019) struggle to earn workplace respect despite being the most capable employee, and, of course, the survival of aspiring broker Blair Pfaff (Andrew Rannells, "A Simple Favor," 2018), whose MBA thesis and intellect are being used for underhanded business deals, unbeknownst to him.

This season, a betrayed Mo has been knocked from his throne. After his apprentice, Blair, discovered that Mo had been using him since the day they met on the trading floor, Blair and Dawn plotted to have him fired.

But now, Mo is back.

He's sporting a new hairstyle and avoiding prosecution for the crimes he committed back in Season 1. Meanwhile, Dawn and Blair have some demons of their own to battle. Dawn continues to fight for respect in her field, despite owning her own brokerage firm. She is also plagued by paranoia, fearful that Mo will come back to undermine her.

Blair is working with his new wife, Tiff (Casey Wilson, "Happy Endings"), to blackmail politicians into deregulating banks for their own benefit.

We also cannot leave out the colorful Keith Shankar, portrayed by none other than Paul Scheer ("The Good Place"). We are happy that the show's creators wrote him $down \, off \, the \, edge \, (literally) \, and \,$ kept him around for Season 2. He finds himself hiding out in the same Miami hotel as Mo in this install-

While it's unlikely that we'll be seeing any more of Rod "The Jammer" Jaminski (Bruce Dern, "Mr. Mercedes"), since he fell to his death last season, the show's plot is so outrageous that anything is possible.

Season 2 dives deeper into character backstory. It explores the creation of Mo's firm, The Jammer Group, and the relationship between Mo and Dawn. Any character that got what they wanted in Season 1 is also getting everything they have coming to them as a result.

There were a slew of recurring and guest appearances during Season 1, and some of those familiar faces have returned for more hijinks and underhanded deals. We'll see more of Tuc Watkins ("One Life to Live") as Congressman Harris and his wife, Corky, portrayed by June Diane Raphael ("Grace and Frankie").

Playing the president of the African-American Scholarship fund, Marcus Wainwright III, is Dulé Hill ("Suits"). Finally, Patrick Fabian ("Better Call Saul") will make a showing as New York's Gov. Putnam.

While this series is obviously a work of fiction, you may be surprised to learn that the historical backdrop is completely factual. The stock market crash of 1987 was, in fact, the worst crash Wall Street has ever been through. But are the overly dramatic responses to the crash in the show's pilot episode simply a satire of America's obsession with money?

Not at all. The crash caused legitimate existential panic.

Though the American economy was able to rebound fairly quickly - the Dow Jones recovered from its 22.6% loss in about two years - it took decades for countries such as Australia and New Zealand to about 15,000 jobs were lost in the financial sector alone.

To this day, no one knows exactly why the stock market crashed. Speculations swim around about computer trading, which began in the 1970s and made a huge upgrade to the SuperDOT program in 1984.

The show's tension acknowledges conspiracies that Wall Street's failures and successes are all based on the shady deals and wild recover. In terms of unemployment, lifestyles of brokers and investors alike. Not unlike the film "The Wolf of Wall Street" (2013), Showtime's series both villainizes and glorifies the financial sector.

In fact, perhaps one of the biggest reasons why "Black Monday" resonates with viewers is because of the world's current economic climate. COVID-19 has brought unemployment in the United States to incredible levels. Many high-profile Wall Street investors conveniently bought or sold their shares before the pandemic hit, and experts have been waiting for the next financial crash to occur as part of a predicted 10-year stock market cycle. But after watching Mo's rise and fall, we have to wonder if it's truly an economic pattern or simply the principle of "what goes around comes around."

If you haven't done so already, dive into the hilarious series "Black Monday." You can watch the midseason premiere when it airs Sunday, June 28, on Showtime.

Birgundi Baker and Alex R. Hibbert in "The Chi"

By Jessica Gosse TV Media

"The Chi" Season 3

From Emmy winners Lena Waithe ("Master of None") and Common ("Selma," 2014), this Showtime series is now in its third season, which premieres Sunday, June 21, on Hulu. The show is a coming-of-age drama and follows families living on the south side of Chicago. The tough nature of their neighborhood means that even the smallest decisions can have life-or-death consequences. At the end of Season 2, many life-altering decisions were made: Despite his constant resistance to gang life, Brandon (Jason Mitchell, "Straight Outta Compton," 2015) let a mobster "sponsor" his food truck; Emmett (Jacob Latimore, "The Maze Runner," 2014) and his pregnant girlfriend, Tiffany (Hannaha Hall, "Chicago Med"), made amends; and best friends Kevin (Alex R. Hibbert, "Moonlight") and Jake (Michael Epps, "Chicago Fire") took completely opposite routes in life as Kevin decided to start going to private school and Jake began dealing drugs. Season 3 gets off to a rousing start as Kevin and his sister Kiesha's (Birgundi Baker, "Black Lightning") lives are suddenly changed by their mother's wedding, and Jake's estranged big brother, Trig (Luke James, "Star"), returns. This season also sees Waithe step out from behind the camera for a story arc and features "Real Housewives of Atlanta" star Kandi Burruss in a recurring role.

"Clemency" (2019)

Academy Award nominee Alfre Woodard ("Luke Cage") turns in a stunning performance as Warden Bernadine Williams in this emotional drama, which joins the Hulu lineup on Tuesday, June 22. Working on Death Row has had a serious psychological impact on Williams, not only because of the morbid nature of the job but because of the constant negative response she gets from the media, not to mention her husband (Wendell Pierce, "Suits"). Despite all of this, she manages to maintain composure throughout her career, but as she prepares to execute another inmate, she develops an emotional connection and must come to terms with her inner demons.

"XX" (2017)

The horror film genre gets a new twist in this unique film coming to Hulu on Monday, June 22. Rather than one long horror flick, this film features four different horror stories, all of which are written and directed by women. The first story is "The Box," which sees the deterioration of a family after an old man on a train shows a little boy the contents of a peculiar box. The second is "The Birthday Party," in which a woman finds her husband dead on the day of her daughter's birthday party, but rather than call the police, she tries to hide the body in various ways so as to not ruin the party. "Don't Fall" is the third, and it follows four friends on a camping expedition in the desert who come across a cave with an ancient painting depicting an evil spirit. The final segment is titled "Her Only Living Son" and features a mother and son who struggle with the revelation that he is, in fact, the spawn of Satan and must choose between his mother and his evil father.

"Charlie's Angels" (2019)

Catch Kristen Stewart ("Twilight." 2008), Naomi Scott ("Aladdin," 2019) and Ella Balinska ("The Athena") as the latest generation of the mysterious millionaire Charlie Townsend's (Robert Clotworthy, "Ancient Aliens") super spies, aka Angels, in this feminist action film coming to Hulu on Thursday, June 25. Now an international operation, the Townsend Agency is led by John Bosley (Patrick Stewart, "Star Trek: Picard"), who has teams of Angels all over the globe, each one led by their own personal Bosley. This team's Bosley is played by Élizabeth Banks ("Mrs. America"). Sabina (Stewart) and Jane (Balinska) recruit engineer Elena (Scott) to be their third Angel when it's learned that she wants to expose her boss, Alexander Brock (Sam Clafin, "Me Before You," 2016), who plans on mass-producing an energy conservation device that can cause fatal seizures. Elena must learn the art of being an Angel and work with the team in order to stop him.

"Sorry to Bother You" (2018)

This unusual and provocative film is streaming now. Lakeith Stanfield ("Knives Out," 2019) stars as Cassius "Cash" Green, a call center employee trying to work his way up the corporate ladder, and his journey is weird and winding. Tessa Thompson ("Westworld"), Danny Glover ("Lethal Weapon," 1987), Steve Yeun ("The Walking Dead"), Terry Crews ("Brooklyn Nine-Nine) and Armie Hammer ("Call Me By Your Name," 2017) also star in the film, which takes a hard, absurdist view of capitalism and racism, culminating in a standoff between corporate powers and a new horse/human hybrid group that is hell-bent on upending the system. If you're looking for something different, interesting, thought-provoking, funny or impeccably well-made, this is a film you cannot miss.

"Life In Pieces" Seasons 1-4

All four seasons of CBS's family series "Life In Pieces" come to Prime on Sunday, June 21. This series follows the hilarious antics of the Short family as they live their lives in Los Angeles. Each episode is divided into four vignettes that feature different family members from the three generations of the (ironically) large Short family. Patriarch John (James Brolin, "The Amityville Horror," 1979) and matriarch Joan (Dianne Wiest, "Passengers," 2008) are retired and very invested in the lives of their kids and grandkids. Their adult children include Greg (Colin Hanks, "The Good Guys"), Heather (Betsy Brandt, "Breaking Bad") and Matt (Thomas Sadoski, "The Newsroom"), all of whom have partners and children. As a family, they face all of the ups and downs that life throws at them, and we get to see everything from family therapy, parenting crises and fertility issues to cooking fiascos, mid-life crises and teenage hormones. Also starring Zoe Lister-Jones ("New Girl"), Dan Bakkedahl ("Space Force") and Angelique Cabral ("Undone"), you can catch this heartwarming and fun series when it joins the Prime lineup this Sunday.

"Pete the Cat" Season 2 Part 1

Based on the popular series of children's books by New York Times bestselling author James Dean and adapted for television by Jeff Marsh ("Phineas and Ferb"), catch the first part of Season 2 of this animated series when it debuts Friday, June 26, on Prime. The children's show follows a cool musical cat named Pete who loves exploring the world and trying new things. Each episode sees Pete and his friends face all sorts of challenges that kids can relate to, and music is used to teach kids how to stay optimistic and to teach them important life lessons. Rising child star Jacob Tremblay ("Good Boys," 2019) lends his voice to the eponymous cat and is joined by a star-studded cast that includes former Disney star Alyson Stoner ("Cheaper

Kevin Costner and Jay O. Sanders in "JFK"

Daniel Radcliffe stars in "Guns Akimbo"

By the Dozen 2," 2005) and impressive musical figures Elvis Costello, Diana Krall and KT Tunstall.

"Guns Akimbo" (2020)

Daniel Radcliffe ("Now You See Me 2." 2016) stars as video game developer Miles in this action film that joins the Prime lineup on Friday, June 26. Seemingly safe and anonymous, Miles takes joy in belittling any internet trolls he can find on various forums. He gets himself into trouble when he stumbles upon Skizm, an online criminal organization, and makes the mistake of humiliating a number of its members. As a result, Nix (Samara Weaving, "Ready or Not," 2019) has Miles severely beaten, and his ex-girlfriend/love of his life Nova (Natasha Liu Bordizzo, "The Society") is kidnapped. When he wakes up, Miles finds himself in one of Skizm's murder games with a gun taped to each hand. Now, Miles must fight to the death against Nix in order to save not only his life but Nova's as well.

"JFK" (1991)

This classic conspiracy thriller from Oliver Stone is available for streaming now, and if you haven't seen it yet, it's worth a watch. Kevin Costner ("Yellowstone") stars as Jim Garrison, a fictional version of the real-life district attorney in New Orleans who put Louisianna businessman Clay Shaw (played in the film by Tommy Lee Jones) on trial in 1966 for conspiring to kill President John F. Kennedy. The film follows Garrison as he pulls at threads and unravels conspiracies surrounding the infamous assassination, and as he gets closer to what he hopes is the truth, he finds that both his life and his sanity are in grave danger. The film won two Oscars, and includes some incredible performances by actors like Kevin Bacon ("City on a Hill"), Gary Oldman ("Darkest Hour," 2017), Laurie Metcalf ("The Conners"), Joe Pesci ("The Irishman," 2019), Sissy Spacek ("Castle Rock"), Jack Lemon ("Glengarry Glen Ross," 1992), Walter Matthau ("Grumpy Old Men," 1993), Jay O. Sanders ("Manhunt") and many more. Dive into this mind-bending biographical drama, it may just convince you to question what you think you know.

Jimmy Kimmel Live

комо 11:35 р.т.

He may not know what day of the week it is, but Jimmy Kimmel offers up just as many laughs filming his late night talk show from home. Kimmel's unabashed dad-humor and socially-distant interviews make for a down-to-earth brand of silliness.

Will Ferrell and Rachel McAdams in "Eurovision Song Contest: The Story of Fire Saga"

"Eurovision Song Contest: The Story of Fire Saga" (2020)

If you're wondering why the words "Eurovision Song Contest" sound familiar, I'll help you out: It's the extravagant European music contest (similar to "America's Got Talent") that put ABBA on the map in 1974 when they won the contest with their hit song "Waterloo." Although this year's Eurovision contest is unfortunately canceled, on Friday, June 26, you can get a taste of the contest in this comedy that plays on the stereotypes surrounding the event when it premieres on Netflix. Will Ferrell ("Anchorman: The Legend of Ron Burgundy," 2004) and Rachel McAdams ("The Notebook," 2004) star as aspiring Icelandic musical duo Lars and Sigrit, who are thrilled when they are given the opportunity to represent Iceland in the Eurovision Song Contest. While McAdams may not be known for her musical abilities, Ferrell has been known to sing in many of his roles and was even in the 2005 film production of the Broadway musical "The Producers." They are also joined by a cast of particularly musical individuals including Pierce Brosnan ("Mamma Mia," 2008), Dan Stevens ("Beauty and the Beast," 2017) and pop star Demi Lovato ("Camp Rock," 2008). Don't miss this hilarious yet heartfelt film that shows it's never too late to fight for your dreams.

"Nobody Knows I'm Here" (2020)

Jorge Garcia ("Lost") delivers a stunning performance in this moving film that premiered early this year at the Tribeca film festival and makes its Netflix debut this Wednesday, June 24. In his childhood, Memo (Garcia) was praised for his beautiful singing voice, but being on the chubby side, he was never allowed to be the star and was often hidden backstage to sing while a more typically attractive boy lip-synced on stage. Now, Memo is practically a hermit, living on a remote Chilean island with his uncle, hiding himself from the world as he was always taught to do. When a young woman enters his life and hears him singing, she feels the need to share his talent with the world. Not knowing about the trauma of his youth, she posts a video of him singing on YouTube. When the video goes viral, Memo finds himself suddenly thrust into the spotlight that he both craves and fear's.

"Eric André: Legalize Everything"

Eric André takes center stage in his first-ever Netflix stand-up comedy special, premiering Tuesday, June 23, on the streamer. André has had roles in the animated comedy "Disenchantment" and the 2019 live-action remake of "The Lion King," as well as on sitcoms such as "Man Seeking Woman." Mostly, though, André is known for the hilarious and bizarre humor he brought to his Adult Swim series "The Eric André Show." It's this odd sense of humor that he brings to the stage in "Legalize Everything," and, as the title suggests, he comments on some controversial topics, like sex and drugs and, most importantly, fart jokes. Be sure to tune in as André provides a hilarious perspective on many interesting topics, including his unusual obsession with Ranch dressing.

"Athlete A"

Sexual abuse is never easy to talk about, and too often the issue has been swept under the rug. Thankfully, that stigma is beginning to change, and more abusers are being held accountable. Netflix has been shining a light on some of the most well-known offenders in powerful documentaries and docuseries such as "Jeffrey Epstein: Filthy Rich," and they're doing it again with "Athlete A," which is set to premiere Wednesday, June 24, on the streamer. The new series looks at what has been called the biggest sexual abuse scandal in sports history: the case of Larry Nassar. Nassar was a sports doctor who worked predominantly with gymnasts and was known for being the best, having worked with numerous Olympians, specifically the USA Gymnastics team. Despite an overwhelming number of complaints by his patients and their parents, Nassar's longtime abuse of young women only came to light in 2016, when the Indianapolis Star reported on it. This documentary follows the reporters who broke the story and features interviews with some of Nassar's victims, including NCAA champion gymnast Maggie Nichols. Not only does the film shine a light on Nassar's crimes but also the treatment of gymnasts in general, and the culture that allowed him to get away with this for so long.

Jorge Garcia in "Nobody Knows I'm Here"

"Crazy Delicious"

Have you ever watched "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory" (2005) or "Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory"

(1971) and sat there thinking, "I wish Wonka's entirely edible main room was real?" Well, it may not be entirely chocolate and candy, but that room has become a reality for the contestants of the new cooking competition "Crazy Delicious," which comes to Netflix on Wednesday, June 24. While most cooking shows feature an impressive pantry or mini grocery store where the chefs get their ingredients, "Crazy Delicious" takes things in a zany new direction and features an entirely edible set that's designed like a magic forest, and that's where contestants must forage for their ingredients. Hosted by comedian Jayde Adams ("Good Omens"), the series puts the chefs through three rounds, during which they must impress judges Carla Hall ("The Chew"), Niklas Ekstedt ("Saturday Kitchen") and Heston Blumenthal ("MasterChef Australia") with their magical creations if they want to win the coveted Golden Apple.

hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison

TV Media

Q: Did they make a sequel to "The French Connection"? Was it also based on a true story?

A: Yes and no. There was, indeed, a (much less celebrated) sequel to the Oscar-winning action classic "The French Connection" (1971). However, it was a completely fictional continuation of the exploits of tough-guy cop Popeye Doyle.

The first film was based on a real case, first recounted in a book by Robin Moore. And for extra authenticity, the real-life narcotics detectives who inspired Doyle (played by Gene Hackman) and his partner Buddy Russo (Roy Scheider) served as consultants on the original.

The film ends (50-year-old spoiler alert) with one of the villains escaping back to France, which happened in real life."French Connection II" (1975) begins with Doyle following him there, which did not happen in real life.

The sequel did reasonably well at the box office but was nothing like the hit the original was. It also received nothing like the same critical praise.

The original took home five Oscars, while legendary film critic Roger Ebert said at the time that the sequel was "confusing" and came "disturbingly close" to making Doyle look like "a clown."

A big part of the problem, he said, is how unreal the plot is. It's completely unbelievable that the New York police would send him, on his own, to France to chase a bad guy. Putting him in that context makes him look like "an awkward, confused, highly visible American."

Q: I know shows like "Wheel of Fortune" and "Jeopardy" film upwards of four shows per day. How many do "Let's Make a Deal" and "The Price is Right" film?

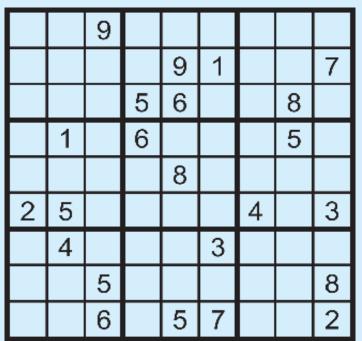

A: Fewer. "Let's Make a Deal" shoots three shows per day, while "The Price Is Right" generally shoots two.

The main reason for the difference is pretty obvious: time. "Jeopardy" and "Wheel of Fortune" are half-hour shows, while "Let's Make a Deal" and "The Price Is Right" are both an hour long.

both an hour long.

However, you have to also figure that the longer shows need to spend a bit more time on pretaping crowd work. They all do it, if only to keep the crowd busy while things get set up, but "Price" and "Deal" require a whole lot more audience participation – crowd members have to jump around, squeal and, you know, play the game.

Sudoku

The crowds for "Jeopardy" and "Wheel," on the other hand, don't have to get up to much besides cheering (politely, in "Jeopardy's" case) and, once per episode, shouting the show's name in unison (in "Wheel's" case).

Logically, this shooting schedule also means less downtime for the "Price" and "Deal" crews. Their shows air the same number of episodes per week as the shorter shows but produce half as many per day.
