Wine tasting leads Wood County couple to retirement plan

BY MIKE WARREN
 EDITOR

MILLADORE – When Rocky and Karmin Bolder's four children were all through graduating from Auburndale High School, their days of sitting on bleachers at sporting events were over. Little did the Milladore couple know their next pastime would also figure in to their retirement plans. "Once the girls went to college, I needed a life because we sat in a gym, so I finally met my husband again and we started touring wineries," explained Karmin Bolder, pertaining to how the couple's wine-making adventure began.

"The people that do wineries are very good at networking," Karmin told us, during our May 17 visit to The Empty Nest Winery. "We spent a lot of time in peoples' back rooms. We went to The Lil' Ole Winemaker in Wausau and we watched a video and he showed us how to make

Gov. Evers wraps up annual 'Pothole Patrol' tour in Marshfield

BY MIKE WARREN
EDITOR

MARSHFIELD -- Gov. Tony Evers used a May 13 visit to Marshfield to wrap up his annual statewide "Pothole Patrol" tour to help fix Wisconsin's roads.

"Good to be here and fixin' the darn roads," Evers told Hub City Times, as we spoke on South Cedar Ave. between Fourth and Fifth streets.

Evers also used the stop to discuss his administration's investments to improve local roads and highways across the state.

"In the last go-around with the legislature, we got shared revenue increased and also an extra hundred-million dollars in local road funds," said Evers. "So, we care about this. Everybody does. It's safety issues and it's economic issues for our state."

Last July, Gov. Evers signed a budget that provided significant investments in improving the state's roads and infrastructure, including $550 million to fund transportation projects underway or under development, $100 million for the Local Road Improvement Program, and $150 million for the newly-created Agricultural Road Improvement Program.

"Farmers have lots of equipment and they have to be able to be on the roads instead of having to detour thirty miles in order to get from one field to the other, so that will play a huge role, too," Evers told us.

Historic investments in Wisconsin's transportation infrastructure have led to the improvement of over 7,400 miles of roads and nearly 1,780 bridges since 2019, including more than 900 miles of road and more than 200 bridges last year alone.

"And the other thing I'm talking about this year too is that this last year ten people that work on the highways and these roads

Gov. Tony Evers levels off the hot mix asphalt he just used to fill a pothole on S. Cedar Ave., during his "Pothole Patrol" stop May 13 in Marshfield. Mayor Lois TeStrake, who was there to lend the governor a helping hand, heads back to the truck for more asphalt.

were killed," Evers added. "Whether it's a small municipality or a township or a city, or you're out on the super highway, they always block off the roads and have lights and all that. To think that ten people didn't go home, that's just wrong."

Gov. Evers has previously gone on "Pothole Patrol" tours during his time in office, including in 2019, 2021, 2022, and 2023, making this the fourth year in a row the governor has conducted his tour.

The governor was joined in Marshfield by representatives from the Wisconsin Department of Transportation and local public works officials, including the city's public-works director, Tom Turchi.

"We have about four-million dollars worth of street work going on this summer, with East 14th Street being one of the bigger total reconstruction projects. That's from Maple Avenue to Vine Avenue," Turchi told Hub City Times, prior to the governor's arrival. "And then we're working on Lincoln Avenue from 14th Street down to Airport Road to the south, as well as many other mill and overlay projects this year. We are also going to complete the Adler Road trail project from Sycamore Street to Weber Park this year. And we have a new subdivision coming to the city of Marshfield here starting this year. It's Green Acres Subdivision. It's going to open seventy-seven residential lots over the next eight or nine years."

That subdivision is taking shape east of Washington Ave. on a 21st Street extension. New roads within the subdivision will include Ironwood, Cottonwood, Basswood, and Aspen.

Don't hire storm chasers for property damage repairs

Fallen trees, like this one in Marshfield's Hillside Cemetery, were commonplace across central Wisconsin, following thunderstorms and at least two confirmed tornadoes, which hit the area May 21. Marshfield Utilities reported approximately 1,800 customers lost power at some point during the storms. City of Marshfield photo

FOR HUB CITY TIMES
MADISON – On May 21, severe storms throughout Wisconsin led some consumers to seek contractors to complete repair work as soon as possible. The Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP) recommends property owners be skeptical of door-to-door repair crews who use aggressive, high-pressure sales tactics to secure contracts after a storm.

When severe weather strikes, transient contractors follow close behind to solicit consumers in need. These traveling crews are sometimes called "storm chasers" and have been known to provide poor quality work or collect upfront payments and leave without doing any work at all.

Instead of risking your money and property by hiring strangers from another community or state, DATCP encourages consumers to ask for contractor recommendations from trusted sources such as friends, neighbors, and insurance agents. Do not let a traveling repair crew into your home, never agree to their offers before confirming they are permitted to operate in your area, and get your contracts in writing. Property owners with storm damage are encouraged to:

Make a list and take photographs of damages like missing shingles, cracks in walls, etc.

Call municipal officials to find out if a contractor holds the proper permits in their area, including for door-to-door sales.

Contact a local building inspector to check if the repair work requires a permit, and again to verify the work was completed adequately before you provide final payment. Obtain written contracts that specify exactly what work will be done, what materials will be used, a start and completion date, and warranty details.

Request and obtain lien waivers from any contractors hired for home repairs.

Keep copies of all receipts, contracts, correspondence, warranties, and written materials.

Wisconsin's storm chaser law aims to protect consumers and businesses by preventing insurance fraud. Contact the Office of the Commissioner of Insurance of Wisconsin at oci.wi.gov or (800) 236-8517 with questions about insurance agents, adjusters, or companies.

Contractors: Cannot promise to pay any portion of an owner's property insurance deductible; Cannot negotiate with an insurance company on behalf of a customer. Contractors can only discuss damages and costs with insurers with the customer's permission; Must ask if the requested work is related to an insurance claim before they enter into a contract; Must notify customers of their right to cancel the contract within three business days if the customer is notified that their insurer has denied any portion of the claim for work. For more information and consumer protection resources or to file a complaint, visit DATCP's Consumer Protection webpage at ConsumerProtection.wi.gov or contact the Consumer Protection Hotline at (800) 422-7128 or DATCPHotline@wisconsin.gov.

She also loved baking lemon poppy seed and banana bread and sharing it with her family.

She is survived by her children, Michael (Sally) Griesbach of Chili, Richard (Shelly) Griesbach of Marshfield, Linda Cox of Marshfield, Donna Griesbach of Loyal, Debra (Dan) Koeune of Arkdale, James (Dawn) Griesbach of Marshfield, stepchildren, Patti (Jerry) Sows of Oshkosh and Harry (Lori) Bentzler of Sheldon, step son in law, John Trunkel of Willard, and many grandchildren, great grandchildren, step grandchildren, and step great grandchildren.

Historic Preservation Month: Out & About

This week's clue: Home to the mayor's most-celebrated meal, this structure serves many purposes. Although most only visit once a year, people can see it anytime. Built by FA Felhofer, using lumber furnished by the R. Connor Co., this historic building is constructed using free-spanning trusses. Where in Marshfield am I?

Your task is to tell us the location of what is pictured. You will have one chance each week to either email us your entry at outandaboutmarshfieldhpm2024@gmail.com or put your entry in the box at the information desk on the second floor of the Everett Roehl Marshfield Public Library. Your entry must include 1) your name, 2) contact info (email or phone number) and 3) address of where the building, structure is located.

Deadline for each week's entries will be the following Monday at noon. No entries for the previous week will be accepted after that time.

All the shapes shown last week are by the Marshfield airport. And inside the terminal building there is a wonderful display called "Wisconsin's Flying Trees." While there is an actual tree nicknamed the "Flying Tree," the Rowan, this display shows how the logging business in our state helped the Allies win World War II. And like the Rowan's symbiotic relationship to the Alder tree, the plywood from Marshfield's Roddis Plywood & Veneer Company was used for the skin of WWII aircraft, such as the "Mosquito," the fastest airplane used in that war. The wood from Wisconsin supplied half of the wood products required by the Allies.

PUBLISHER'S LETTER

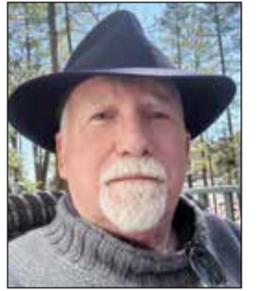

Rate Increases

Dear Reader,

The United States Postal Service recently announced another 10% increase in their rates effective July 14, 2024.

Since 2021, there have been five previous rate increases; this is the sixth.

This announcement coincides with severe deterioration in the USPS's performance; simply put, the mail is often late. These rate increases affect individuals sending mail as well as newspapers delivering the news. The rate increases have grown to a crisis. Your voice is needed, to ask Congress to place a moratorium on any rate increases, effective immediately. Mail is a vital service to all Americans and provides information that cannot be transmitted digitally. The USPS's price increases have been so aggressive that mail volume is declining, which creates a death spiral: Each rate increase reduces the mail volume, making another rate increase necessary, leading to still more volume declines.

Consider the following:

First Class Mail Stamps

24 percent increase since 2022; another 7.8 percent increase scheduled for July 14, 2024.

Periodical Mail (Paid Newspapers)

Periodical postage increase for July 2024 will be about 5-7 percent increase since January 2024.

EDDM (Free Newspapers)

11 percent increase for community newspapers; the rate increase means newspapers are paying about 33 percent more for postage than three years ago.

Many newspapers rely on the mail to deliver local news to big, medium-sized and small communities alike. We depend on the Post Office and need it to succeed, but not at the cost of our ability to continue serving our readers.

For easy reference, following is contact information for your Senate and Congressional representatives, as well as State Senate and Assembly members. Please call them or leave a message on their constituent website. Ask them to put an immediate stop to postal rate increases that affect all of us. This action will help stabilize local news in your and our communities and preserve the stewardship that the print medium has had in helping our communities to stay strong, dynamic and filled with character.

Honoring Marshfield's 150th

NOMINATED BY JANE WROBLEWSKI

Patricia Stuhr, a daughter of the late John and Margaret Bloczynski, is a Marshfield native. She attended St. John's and Sacred Heart Catholic Grade Schools and Columbus High School. After graduating from Columbus, she began her college education with one of the first classes at the "new" University of Wisconsin-Marshfield/Wood County Campus. Two years later she transferred to the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, where she earned a Bachelor of Science degree in art education.

Patricia taught art for 14 years at the elementary, middle, and high school levels in Oakfield. Additionally, she developed and taught an art program for the Waupun and Fox Lake Correctional Institutions for 11 years. While teaching she went back to school and earned her Masters and Doctorate Degrees at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. During her studies, she taught courses at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Her doctoral thesis was focused on contemporary Wisconsin Native American visual culture and artists, multicultural art education, and the arts in integrated curriculum.

After completing her doctorate, Dr. Stuhr moved to Ohio State University (OSU) to become a teaching professor and later served as chair of the department of art education. In 1999, she received a Fulbright Award to teach and research at the University of Art and Design in Helsinki, Finland and was appointed as an honorary guest professor at Shandong University of Art and Design, Jinan, China.

The National Art Education Association (NAEA) named Dr. Stuhr an NAEA Distinguished Fellow for her significant contributions to the field in multicultural/cross-cultural studies. In 1999, she received the National Edwin Ziegfeld Award from the United States Society for Education through the Arts for her significant work and contributions in the areas of multicultural and cross-cultural research in art education. In 2008 she received the NAEA Woman's Caucus June King McFee Award for her contributions to art education and issues of social diversity.

In 2011, Dr. Stuhr left OSU to serve as the Dean and CEO of the University of Wisconsin-Marshfield/Wood campus. During her tenure she was well known and loved by faculty, students, and members of the Marshfield community. She attended almost all the University's extracurricular events that happened in town, from sports to theater. She often stopped to talk to the students and supported them in any way that she could. Because she was an active member of the Marshfield community, it wasn't uncommon for Patricia to be in the local stores and have one of the town residents call out, "Hey Dean!"

In her role as Dean and CEO, Dr. Stuhr built up the campus in both big and small ways. She secured funding needed to build student housing and a new STEM building.

She helped to develop a four-year degree program and partnered with the Ho-Chunk Nation to provide an Educators' Certification Program to train apprentices to teach the language to a variety of age groups. She worked with local artist, Clyde Wynia, and he created a sculpture of a Marauder, the school mascot, for the campus. She had rails put in the aisles in the Helen Connor Laird Theater, making it easier for visitors to access the building. In 2014, Patricia helped plan yearlong events celebrating the 50th Anniversary of the campus. Dr. Stuhr retired from her position in June of 2015.

When asked about her time at the University, Dr. Stuhr shared that she feels that everyone should give back to their communities. Patricia lives that sentiment. She has volunteered for many community organizations since returning to Marshfield. She has been a member of the Medical College of Wisconsin Advisory Board for Central Wisconsin, Central Wisconsin Arts Network, Central Wisconsin Higher Education Consortium, New Visions Gallery Board of Directors, Marshfield Area Cultural Fair and the Marshfield Area Chamber of Commerce & Industry Crystal Apple Selection Committee, and she continues to volunteer for the Marshfield Area Community Foundation, Rotary, and the Chestnut Center for the Arts.

Dr. Pat Stuhr has a distinguished record of achievements in the field of art education, an equally important record of improvements made at the local university campus and continues to contribute the city's well-being as a volunteer and advocate for the arts and education. As such, it seems only fitting that Dr. Patricia Stuhr be named to Marshfield's 150, Heroes and Leaders, Past and Present register.

Community gardens offer gift for Marshfield gardeners

FOR HUB CITY TIMES

MARSHFIELD -- Registrations are now being taken for raised beds at the Marshfield Area Growing Together Community Garden sites. Vegetable gardening is a healthy activity to save money and eat nutritiously at home. There are eighty raised beds at three garden sites in Marshfield; Church of Christ on Felker Avenue, Good Shepherd Lutheran Church on McMillan St. and First Presbyterian Church on Lincoln Avenue. Some beds remain available at both Good Shepherd and the Church of Christ sites.

Marshfield Area Growing Together Community Gardens are celebrating their 16th year providing residents with raised beds in which to grow their own vegetables and save money. These fenced-in sites are in sunny locations, have water sources and rich compost with pathway mulch provided for all gardeners. Many gardeners return year after year.

"Participating in our Marshfield Community Gardens is a great way to supplement my diet with organically grown, fresh produce. It gives me, not only a sense of accomplishment and community, but also lots of joy," said Kathy Brunette, a returning gardener at the First Presbyterian site.

The community gardens benefit the Marshfield area in many ways, including improving access to organic fresh food, serving as sites for restoring and building health, and as places to learn gardening skills and build relationships. Britany White, a young mom gardening at Church of Christ last year recalled, "The thing I love about gardening is watching my harvest grow step by step into its full potential. I also enjoy taking my child with me and letting her help water the plants because toddlers always want to help and it teaches her how to care for plants she can benefit from. A generational gift so to speak."

Instruction in Square Foot Gardening and vertical gardening techniques is provided, as well as tips on proper watering during drought conditions and how to create rich compost of your own. In addition, Master Gardeners are available to assist gardeners with questions and concerns during the gardening season.

Returning Community Gardeners are asked to make a $20 donation for each four foot by eight foot compost-filled bed reserved. This year, the community garden program is offering beds to new gardeners at the Church of Christ site for $10 each. Donations cover about half of the operating expenses with grants and contributions as additional funding sources. The Garden Committee is grateful to the three local churches for their continued hosting of the garden sites and to Marshfield Area

Donations are gratefully accepted to keep this program running smoothly, as well.

Spencerama Royalty float appreciation event

FOR HUB CITY TIMES

SPENCER – A celebration was held May 16 at Spencer High School for those that helped with the new Spencerama Royalty Float.

The 2024 Spencer High School “Geometry in Construction” and “Advanced Metals” classes, under the instruction of Mr. Klimmer and Mr. Stuttgart, designed and constructed the new float that will be decorated and ready for the Spencerama parade on June 9. As a “thank you,” those class members were given an ice cream party by Spencerama Royalty and their supporters.

“The Spencerama Royalty Float was a great project for our Geometry in Construction class to work on,” said Jared Klimmer, tech. ed. instructor. “We worked through the design process and how it was going to look. The students did an estimate on what materials would be needed and what the cost would be. It took teamwork to get all of the different components assembled individually and then to get them put together for the final product. There were issues along the way that took some problem-solving skills and the students did great with that. It will be awesome to see the float get used and to think this class built it as it goes through different parades. We would like to thank the Spencerama Royalty for this opportunity and trusting us to work on this project for them,” Klimmer added.

The trailer for the float is being donated for use by Marshfield Glass.

Current (2023-24) Spencerama Royalty include: Miss Spencerama – Hannah Schreiner; Junior Miss Spencerama – Brooklyn Van De Hei; Lil’ Miss Spencerama – Sophia Felix

Organizers are currently accepting entries for the 2024-25 Spencerama Royalty that will reign starting June 8 during Spencerama. Please email questions to: Spencerama.Royalty@gmail.com.

Members of Spencer High School’s “Geometry in Construction” and “Advanced Metals” classes start to put the finishing touches on the new Spencerama Royalty float, which will be used for the first time in the Spencerama parade June 9.

Nonprofits conference coming to Marshfield

FOR HUB CITY TIMES

WISCONSIN RAPIDS -- Registration is now open for a new Mid-State Technical College conference on nonprofit leadership. Called “Spark! Igniting Passion in Nonprofits,” the conference is aimed at helping central Wisconsin’s nonprofit enthusiasts achieve personal and professional growth through passionate conversation. The event is set to take place on Thursday, June 20, at the College’s Marshfield Campus. All skill levels are welcome.

Spark! will feature a conference opener by Ted Melby from Mid-State’s Workforce & Economic Development division, a keynote address from Jeremy Fojut from MARS Solution Groups, a panel discussion and two breakout sessions. During the breakout sessions, attendees can choose from Board Development, Marketing and Fundraising themes or mix and match topics.

The focus and programming for nonprofit enthusiasts is unique to the central Wisconsin area, and only a few conferences within the state support nonprofit leadership development for all skill levels and organizational impact.

Many local nonprofit organizations rely greatly on dedicated volunteers to carry out their mission, according to Ashley Winch, executive director at Marshfield Area United Way. “Our organization is excited to see a learning opportunity like the Spark! conference being offered to our area nonprofit organizations,” she said. “From board development to diversifying revenue streams to creating an impactful online presence, there are focused sessions that can benefit all nonprofits.”

“We heard our community expressing a need for nonprofit development, and we’re thrilled to help meet that need in central Wisconsin with the Spark! nonprofit conference,” said Mid-State’s dean of the Marshfield Campus, Dr. Alex Lendved. “This event is designed to empower and uplift nonprofit organizations at every stage. With engaging breakout sessions, an inspiring keynote speaker and panel discussions, we aim to ignite the transformative potential of nonprofits, ultimately strengthening our communities.”

Spark! is coordinated by Mid-State’s Workforce & Economic Development division. Funding has been provided by nonprofit supporters in the central Wisconsin community, including premiere sponsor Forward Bank and lunch sponsor KerberRose.

The conference fee is $95. Register and explore the schedule of sessions at mstc.edu/spark-conference.

4K, Kindergarten and 1st Graders took a trip to Stevens Point on Monday. They went to UWSP and had a presentation on the planets and constellations. After that, they visited the Stevens Point Fire Department where they learned about the equipment used. They even got to see the firefighters slide down the pole in the station! Students then went to a park for lunch and were able to play at the CASH Park. It was an awesome trip with awesome students!

The Middle and High School Spring Concert took place May 15th 2024 in the Central Gym. This concert showcases all the hard work and effort put in by the students through the school year.

Friday May 17th was the spring art gallery show at Granton. Each semester the Granton high school art students put on a gallery show as their final exam. They prepare their projects from the semester for display. This includes writing art tags, writing an artist statement and mounting all their work for display. The day of the gallery show they will set up their area along with a K-8 grade of artwork. The gallery show was open from noon to 4pm. During this time the students are near their artwork to answer questions and talk about their artwork with fellow students and community members.

The 8th grade students have worked hard to make sure that every Veteran on two honor flights will all have mail for their mail call. The Kindergarteners jumped on board too and helped the 8th graders with their writing and drawing. Afterwards we all enjoyed playing at recess.

Granton State Solo Ensemble was a major success with 2 firsts, (one even receiving a PERFECT score!!!), and five 2nds.

- Results are as follows:
- Emma Woller Soprano Solo: 2nd
- Emma Woller MT Solo: 2nd (1 point away from first!)
- Tori Seif MT Solo: PERFECT SCORE!!

wine and we started to make wine. We did it with another couple for a couple years and then COVID hit and we bought them out," Bolder added. "We opened this past December. Probably the December prior to that we decided, 'Yeah, we're going to do this. We're going to put a building up and we're going to look at retiring.'"

The couple learned and practiced how to make wine and toured other wineries for five years before officially opening The Empty Nest on Dec. 1, 2023.

"She had a book and we would just, as a husband and wife, we'd open it up and say, 'Okay, let's go to these three wineries this Saturday,' so we would do that," Rocky Bolder recalled. "And by seeing a fair amount of wineries, from the monster down at Wollersheim to someone's garage and everything in between, she just got the idea that, 'Hey, we could do this.' I dug my heels in a little at first until I wrapped my head around, 'Okay, is it a retirement gig? Okay.' And after seeing a lot of these different places and seeing them successful, it was basically an 'If you build it, they will come' type of a thing, because the other thing we noticed by seeing these places was ages," Rocky added. "Soup to nuts. Young people to older people and everything in between."

Once Rocky and Karmin decided to move ahead with their plans, they quickly realized they needed to put up a new building. After the core facility was built, the family finished off the interior themselves, sourcing all of the wood from the woods on their 80-acre property. The wood on the front of the bar was left over from when the couple built their nearby home 24 years ago. They still have some landscaping to do, and would someday like to add an overlook along the pond adjacent to the winery, which currently features some outdoor seating.

Besides 18 varieties of sweet wines, The Empty Nest also has six dry wines. They also serve pizza, pizza fries, pretzels and cheese and sausage trays.

As for entertainment, free Bingo is offered every Thursday night from 6 to 8 p.m. Sundays feature various craft and paint parties. Live music is featured throughout the summer. The facility – which can hold up to 80 people – is also available for corporate events, bridal showers, Christmas parties and more.

"Tell us what you want and we'll see what we can do for you," says Karmin.

The business also has a website and Facebook page. Current hours are Thursdays from 4 to 8 p.m., Fridays from 2 to 8 p.m., Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Sundays from 11 to 5.

And so far, so good, says the couple.

"We always set a goal and we've met that goal every weekend," Karmin told us.

Meanwhile, the Merrill natives still work their fulltime jobs. Rocky is a 29-year veteran of the Portage County Sheriff's Department, where he is currently the Superintendent of the Juvenile Detention Center. Karmin is currently a cardiology nurse at the Marshfield Medical Center, where she's worked for 30 years. Retirement, they say, should come within the next year to two.

Three of the couple's four children – Kaleb, Hannah and Rachel – work at the winery periodically. Ben, the oldest, lives in Randolph about two hours away. Hannah, a Ph. Ed. teacher in Marshfield, is living at home while she saves for a house of her own. Kaleb and Rachel are nearby.

But even when they are not in the winery helping out with a special event or during a busy weekend, you can always find them watching over Mom and Dad. On the wine label, they're the four birds perched above the couple under a heart amongst the branches of two trees, high school sweethearts who have once again found each other – not in a noisy high school gymnasium, but in that not-quite-empty nest on Smokey Hill Road in Milladore, as their game plan for retirement begins to play itself out.

Dons dominate Panthers in regional semifinal

BY MIKE WARREN
EDITOR

MARSHFIELD – The Columbus Dons used a six-run fourth inning to cruise past the Pittsville Panthers 12-2 in five innings, in a Div. 5 regional semifinal softball game, played May 22 at Marshfield Fairgrounds Park.

The Dons scored twice in the first inning and three times in the second, to grab an early 5-0 lead.

After Pittsville scored a run in the top of the fourth inning, Marshfield Columbus sent eleven batters to the plate in the home half of the fourth, en route to a six-run inning.

The Panthers extended the game by scoring a run in the top of the fifth inning, avoiding playoff elimination on the 10-run rule. The extension lasted just two batters, however, as Columbus scored the winning run in the bottom of the fifth. Shelby Spata led off the inning with a base hit, then ended up at third following a stolen base and passed ball. She scored when Akousa Yeboah laid down a bunt and Pittsville pitcher Lana Vollert went to first with the throw instead of holding Spata at third.

Spata had the big day offensively for the Dons. The Columbus centerfielder went 3-for-4 with two singles and an RBI double, and she also reached on an error. Ashley Weiler went 2-for-3. Yeboah drove in two runs. Sam Casperson had an RBI double. Cienna Adler and Rhya Dieringer also recorded base hits for the Dons, who picked up their 17th win of the season and advanced to the regional finals the following day.

Akousa Yeboah was the winning pitcher. She held the Panthers to two runs on five hits over five innings, walked three and struck out five.

Shelby Spata, seen here in a 13-3 win over Spencer May 6 in Marshfield, went 3-for-4 and drove in a run, in the Dons' 12-2 regional semifinal win over Pittsville on May 22 at Marshfield Fairgrounds Park. Lucky Shot Media photo

Columbus scored twelve runs on nine hits, left six runners on base and recorded three errors. Pittsville managed two runs on five hits, stranded eight base runners and committed four errors. The Panthers end their season 7-11.

Ken Hastreiter steps down from leadership role

FOR HUB CITY TIMES

MARSHFIELD -- Starting and running an actively growing company for over 35 years is no small feat. Earlier this month, Ken Hastreiter announced he will be stepping down as President of Hastreiter Industries and transitioning into an Internal Consultant Role within the company while continuing in the role of President at their sister company, S&R Truck LLC.

Ken started Hastreiter Industries with his wife, Sondra in 1988. After graduating from Mid-State Technical College with a degree in Machine Tool, he had a simple dream... to start a business and make parts. Suffice it to say his dream came true, and so much more when you look at the chapters the company has grown through. Looking way back, the first CNC lathe he ever purchased still sits on the shop floor, still making parts. A 1991 Mazak Quickturn 8N – he still loves that machine – serves as a great reminder of where the dream started.

In 1988 with a single manual lathe, the company started in a hog shed originally under the name Universal Tool and Machine. The company had several more chapters including moving onto Second Street in Marshfield with incorporation to UTM Inc. Later UTM moved outside of the city in the mid 90's followed by moving back in for larger space in 2019. In 2018 the company rebranded from UTM Inc. to a father, community member, a machinist, President, and all the other hats it takes to get a business off the ground and keep it soaring. He will continue to provide support within the company with his technical expertise in this new role as Internal Consultant Role while continuing the role of President at S&R Truck LLC, a company also under the Hastreiter LLC umbrella.

Others have now come, starting their dreams, and growing their skills on the same equipment Ken once programmed and ran. He has had the opportunity to watch youth apprentices grow into full-fledged machinists; creating a space to mentor those new to this industry and nurturing a second generation to continue what he started is an incredible legacy in progress. To think it all started in that hog shed with a single lathe and a lot of ingenuity. Hastreiter Industries may have started with CNC Precision Machining, but that is not the only manufacturing service offered out of their facility these days. Throughout the years with Ken as President, they have been able to strategically add laser cutting, MIG & TIG welding, a fabrication department, an in-house ISO 8 Metrology Lab, and a shipping department that offers specialized packaging solutions.

Kylan Hastreiter, former VP and one of Ken's three sons, is following in his footsteps taking on the role of President of Hastreiter Industries.

"I and the rest of the Hastreiter family look forward to serving the company and its employees, customers and its stakeholders, guiding the legacy for the current and future generations. I am grateful for every employee that has come along this journey with us. I look forward to continuing to work with him and I am eternally grateful for everything he has done," said Kylan Hastreiter.

With a degree in Business Administration with an emphasis in International Business, Kylan started full time with the business in 2016. He started in business development and quickly added other roles including marketing and technology implementations. In 2018 Kylan became Vice President of Hastreiter Industries.

Marshfield High School FFA earns Mid-State's Excellence Award

FOR HUB CITY TIMES

WISCONSIN RAPIDS -- Mid-State Technical College has awarded its 2024 Regional FFA Career Development Events (CDE) Chapter of Excellence Award to the Marshfield High School FFA chapter. The award was conferred at Marshfield High School's annual FFA banquet on May 15.

The Chapter of Excellence award recognizes exemplary performance in the regional FFA CDE contests held at Mid-State's Wisconsin Rapids Campus in March. Over 750 middle and high school students from 43 schools across Wisconsin and Minnesota attended the regional competition, making it Mid-State's largest FFA CDE event to date.

"We are so excited to present this year's Chapter of Excellence Award to Marshfield High School's FFA chapter," said Dr. Alex Lendved, Mid-State dean of Marshfield Campus and School of Applied Technology. "The Chapter of Excellence Award is presented to the FFA chapter that earns the most points during Mid-State's FFA CDE event in March. This award is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the student competitors as well as the guidance and leadership of their teachers and FFA advisors."

The competition covered a range of contests, including forestry, floriculture, dairy cattle and livestock judging, vet science and more. Top ranking teams were invited to participate at the state competition in Madison in April.

Marshfield High School placed within the top 10 in 8 contests, including first overall team in Forestry and Wildlife. Marshfield also had 15 top-10 individual placements at the regional competition. Marshfield went on to the state contest earning first place in Wildlife and Forestry, and placing within the top 10 in Livestock, Milk Quality Products and Dairy Cattle.

Chapters that also earned plaques for team and individual placements included Colby, Granton, Greenwood, Neillsville, Owen-Withee, Spencer, Thorp, Wausau, and Wisconsin Rapids Lincoln.

FFA Career Development Events occur at the local, state and national levels to develop college- and career-readiness skills and serve as an outgrowth of instruction for FFA members in grades 7-12. The events help participating FFA members to develop critical-thinking and effective decision-making skills, foster teamwork and promote communication while recognizing the value of ethical competition and individual achievement.

Mid-State will host another regional event in March 2025. Learn more about the FFA CDEs hosted at Mid-State and the Chapter of Excellence Award at mstc.edu/ffa-cde.
