Don's Deck approved

Two levels at Don Jirschele Stadium

BY BERT LEHMAN STAFF REPORTER

CLINTONVILLE

The construction of an above ground seating area that will provide two levels of deck space for spectators to set up foldable chairs to watch ball games at Don Jirschele Stadium at W.A. Olen Park has been approved by the Clintonville Common Council.

The approval came at the council's April 8 meeting. The approval was contingent on the city discussing with the Clintonville Athletic Club (CAC), the feasibility of accessibility for the handicapped.

Deck area

The idea of building the deck for seating was suggested to the city by the CAC in a March 22 letter to the Clintonville Public Works Committee. In the letter, the CAC requested permission to construct the viewing deck, which would be named Don's Deck "in honor of the late Don Jirschele."

The deck would be located next to the home dugout and would provide fans attending baseball games with "a great view of the action on the field.'

According to the letter, the deck would be approximately 32-feet-by-12-feet with stairs at each end. It would be three to five feet tall. The deck would also have a railing all the way around. The front portion of the deck closest to the field would be about three feet above the ground and the back portion would be about five feet above the ground.

"It is designed for people to bring their own chairs to sit on each level while allowing enough room for people to move past one another," it was stated in the letter.

Part of the construction of the deck would be done by the Clintonville High School technical education students as part of their class curriculum. The portion of construction that would not be completed by high school students would be completed by CAC members and Clintonville A's players.

This project will provide an excellent learning opportunity for our community's youth," it was stated in the letter.

The construction material would be purchased locally in Clintonville and the CAC would pay for the material.

"Our goal is to have Don's Deck open for as many games as possible this year," it was stated in the letter.

In an April 8 memo from Clintonville Public Works Director Justin Mc Auly to Clintonville Mayor Steve Kettenhoven and the council, Mc Auly said the city's building inspector had reviewed the project. A building permit would be required for the construction of the deck, and that cost would be covered by the CAC.

Mc Auly added that the Clintonville Public Works Committee also reviewed the project, and recommended approval of the project.

Council discussion

During the discussion during the council meeting, Kettenhoven said he thinks it is great that the CAC wants to build Don's Deck, but added that he would like to see the CAC and the school contact the Clintonville Lions Club about installing a ramp on the deck to make it handicap accessible.

"I don't think we should overlook the accessibility portion and the ADA portion of it," Kettenhoven said. "I would love to see it contingent upon putting a ramp on there."

Back to the Vinyl has moved to 201 North Main St. as owner Marty Milner needs more space to expand his vintage music store. Emily Doud Photo

More music on Main Street

Record shop relocates BY EMILY DOUD

STAFF REPORTER

WAUPACA – From 200 square feet to 1,500 square feet, Back to the Vinyl grew out of their first storefront on Water Street as music aficionados continue to support the classic music mediums of vinyl, compact discs and cassette tapes.

Marty and Jennifer Milner opened Back to the Vinyl over Labor Day weekend in 2023, and since then they have carved out their spot amongst the retro music community in the area.

Milner said he grew up with an affinity towards music, with his father being a disc jockey while he was growing up and music was a big piece of his house hold.

A diesel mechanic by trade, Milner said he finally decided to open up a record store when the opportunity for his original store space went up for rent, the store front was across from Danes Hall in Waupaca.

Milner and his wife decided if not now, it may never happen and they decided to take the leap.

They got the opportunity to move into the former Northern Kitchen store at 201 North Main Street, when the store operator decided to back out of the lease due to obligations with other businesses they owned.

The former renters were able to transfer the lease to Milner who moved in Jan. 1 of this year.

Milner said they were lucky to have a dozen of their regular customers show up to help move to the new store front, unpack boxes and set up shelves.

'We were overjoyed, because otherwise it would have been just my wife and I and we probably would still be doing it," Milner said.

Since opening in 2023 his business has continued to grow, saying high school students are some of his best customers.

"It keeps getting bigger, and I can definitely tell just moving in this location, we're so much more noticed," he said. "I'm still getting people that come in and go 'when did you guys get here?"

Milner sells new and used records, along with compact discs and cassette tapes.

There are also music t-shirts and record players as well as posters, Milner said anything music related he is trying to include in his store, including working with local artists to sell music-related artwork.

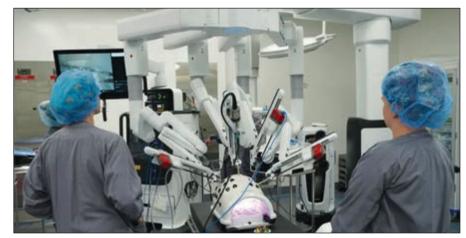

The former Northern Kitchen store had a white tile wall that they displayed kitchen items on that Milner had a friend turn into Pink Floyds, "The Wall" album cover.

There are also listening events that Milner participates in as part of "Record Store Day," where music companies send out records for listening parties.

The last one was April 24 and featured a midnight release party with a metal band called Ghost, which they held at Danes Hall.

There is also a vinyl night at Hinder, where he shows up with a bunch of vinyl records and plays them for customers. It takes place every other Sunday, the next one being May 11.

'This was like a dream, a dream that I never thought would ever happen," he said. "We gave it a shot and been here now for over a year and a half, which is wild and it keeps getting bigger."

Robot: 1, Hernia:

One-day surgery for Waupaca man

WAUPACA - Dr. Annie Zeug, a general surgeon with ThedaCare, recently fixed a Waupaca man's hernia using robotic surgery. ThedaCare is the first in the state to receive two da Vinci 5 surgical systems. The giant contraption with octopus-like arms looks like a device from a sciencefiction movie. The rig is used for minimally invasive surgical procedures for urology, gynecology, thoracic and general surgeries.

Bob Clark, a 64-year-old Waupaca resident and retired power-plant mechanic, had two hernia repair surgeries decades ago. He felt that familiar pain creeping back after moving some heavy equipment. When he visited the ER for an unrelated problem, he mentioned this to the doctor and the doctor concurred that the hernia was back.

"Bob had an inguinal hernia that had been increasingly bothersome to him over the last year, both causing a noticeable bulge and pain," Dr. Zeug said. "This was especially problematic with physical activities because he is an active person."

Clark hikes, cycles and kayaks on the Chain O' Lakes. He even endured the hernia pain on a rafting trip in Colorado.

Dr. Zeug used the da Vinci surgical system to perform Clark's hernia repair procedure. The technology translated Dr. Zeug's hand movements into smaller, more precise movements of tiny instruments inside of Clark's body. She remained 100% in control of the system. Smaller incisions are made and that means less pain and faster recovery times.

Clark was discharged from the hospital the same day his surgery was performed. "I was prepared to be basically bedridden and in excruciating pain whenever I had to get up to go to the men's room or do anything," he said. "And it really wasn't like that at all," said Clark.

The health system offers robotic surgery at its hospitals in Appleton, Berlin, Neenah, Shawano and Waupaca. "When we provide this access to places like Waupaca, we help reduce people's need to commute long distances for preand post-operative care. Making this type of service available to them much closer to home can help patients remain in closer proximity to family and friends which in many cases may help lead to improved recovery," said Dr. Zeug.

Council approves food-truck amendment

Business owners don't like it

BY KATIE SCHIMKE STAFF REPORTER

STEVENS POINT – The common council approved an ordinance amendment of food trucks on city property during their April 21 meeting.

The ordinance amendment states that "no food trucks/peddlers may operate within one-quarter mile of any special event for which a permit has been issued, except that food trucks/peddlers may operate within such a distance of a special event if the holder of the special event permit has given permission to the food truck/peddler and the food truck/peddler possessed a permit issued." The ordinance continues, "No food truck/peddler may operate within any city park unless they have been issued a permit and secured permission from the Parks Director, operate in compliance with any rules applied by the Parks Department, and pay any fees required by the Parks Department."

The ordinance amendment continues by stating that no food truck/peddler can operate within the Downtown Business Improvement District for more than three hours total unless they are there for a special event or have prior permission from the Downtown Business Improvement District Board. Clintonville NEWS No bids for school health insurance

Board researching options

BY BERT LEHMAN STAFF REPORTER

CLINTONVILLE - Facing a large cost increase for its current health insurance offered to district employees, the district put its health insurance out to bid, hoping for a more costeffective plan, but instead, no companies bid to offer the district health insurance.

That was the message Clintonville Superintendent Troy Kuhn relayed to the Clintonville Board of Education at its April 14 meeting when discussing the first draft of a preliminary 2025-26 budget for the district.

Kuhn said the district budgeted a 15% increase for employee health insurance "just to put a number in the budget." "When we put it out to bid, no one bid on us," Kuhn said.

He added, "If we keep what we have, it's a 34% increase."

Options

To keep the district's health insurance increase around 15%, Kuhn said the district could offer two health plans - a broad plan and a focused plan. This would also include adjustments to the deductible for the focused plan.

If the district allowed employees to stay with the plan they currently have, but increase the deductible for a single plan to $5,000 and for a family plan to $10,000, the increase to the district would still be 18%, Kuhn said.

cused plan would eliminate some providers that district employees currently use. About 22% of the health insurance claims are from those providers. Erickson's Pharmacy, located in Clintonville, would not in the focused plan.

Kuhn said an option could be to hire a Theda-Care doctor to have onsite, and require all district staff to use that doctor as their primary physician.

"Our primary care is right around a million dollars, we can hire our own doctor for around $300,000, so if everyone goes to that, that would be around a $700,000 cost savings to the district," Kuhn said. "Do you want to force that upon your employees, or don't you?"

A spousal carve-out could be another option, Kuhn employee is offered health insurance through their employer, the spouse has to take that insurance and not be on the district's insurance. Dependents would get to choose which insurance plan to be on.

Another possibility would be for the district to give each employee a certain dollar amount, and the employee would then have to find their own insurance.

"The thing about that is, once you go to that, there's really no return, because we don't have any collective data for anybody to ever bid on us again," Kuhn said. "No one will ever bid."

Kuhn said some school districts in the state have done that.

No action was asked of the board at the meeting, as Kuhn said the district's insurance broker was going

Memorial rock to find better home

BY BERT LEHMAN STAFF REPORTER

NEW LONDON - The New London Parks and Recreation Committee approved moving the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial Rock from Memorial Park to the site of Taft Park Veteran's Memorial.

The approval came at the committee's April 8 meeting.

Leading off the discussion, New London Parks & Recreation Director Ginger Sowle told the committee that she was approached by the president of the 7-11 Club, which was formerly the Jaycees, about a conversation within the club about the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial Rock that was placed at Memorial Park by the club.

Sowle said in 1978, the New London Jaycees approved the coordination and purchase of a memorial to remember 12 New London area soldiers who died during the Vietnam War. This was completed and dedicated in June of 1981.

Memorial Park, which was originally named Montgomery Street Park, opened in 1973, Sowle said.

"But soon after, plans were brought forth to remember the soldiers, the name of the park was then dedicated Memorial Park," Sowle said.

Sowle said that when the city took over Taft Park, the agreement stipulated that the city would communicate with the group if the city decided to make major changes to the park.

"This rock was requested that it be moved to Taft Park because it seems to be off in the middle of nowhere by itself [at its current location]," Sowle said.

Veterans speak

Dan Rice, a Vietnam veteran who did two tours in Vietnam, said that the plaque with the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial Rock contains the names of seven members of his graduating class, who were killed in the Vietnam War.

"I just would like to have it moved because it's in the corner and nobody really sees it," Rice said. "And we have a beautiful park in Taft Park now. We could present it there, and I'm sure they'd be honored to have that moved over there."

James Massonet, a member of the AMVETS, said he thought it was "a total waste" to have the plaque in Memorial Park when it should be in Taft Park. He added that probably 75% of the city doesn't know that the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial Rock is located at Memorial Park.

Leroy Wepner, NLJC/7-11 Club president, said that at its current location, nobody sees the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial Rock.

"I think it's time that we put it in Taft Park, so when we honor the veterans on Memorial Day, the Vietnam Veterans that were there get honored, too," Wepner said. He added, "I really want to get this done."

Steve Frank, a Vietnam veteran, said he has lived in the city for 14 years and he did not know about the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial Rock.

"You got veterans on there who passed, that they need to be recognized, and to be recognized, they need to be where the monument and everything else is," Frank said.

Armin Conradt Sr., a member of the AMVETS, told the committee that at a recent meeting, they held a vote, and the 18 members at the meeting all agreed that the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial Rock and plaque should be moved to Taft Park.

Commission recommends rezoning

Allow duplexes on Southland Lane

BY BERT LEHMAN STAFF REPORTER

NEW LONDON -The New London Plan Commission has once again recommended that the New London Common Council approve a rezoning request to allow duplexes to be built on Southland Lane on lots owned by Randy Retzlaff. The approval recommendation came at the commission's April 24 meeting. The commission had originally recommended approving the rezoning request to change the lots from R-1 single family to R-2 single and two-family residential at its March meeting. After many residents spoke against approving the rezoning request at the March 18 council meeting, the council sent the matter back to the Plan Commission.

The rezoning request will now go back before the council for approval. At the April 24 Commission meeting, Retzlaff, who submitted the rezoning request, addressed the commission about why he would like several parcels of property on Southland Lane to be rezoned from single-family residential to single and two-family residential.

The small homes on the lots would look out of place, Retzlaff said.

"But if that's what I have to do, just tell me, I guess that's what I'll end up doing, even though I don't want to," Retzlaff said. "That was going to be a nice-looking neighborhood, and still can be.'

Retzlaff said he will accept whatever the city decides, adding that he may have to let the lots sit vacant addressed the commission with concerns about the proposed zoning change.

"What we are worried about is once you give him R-2s, that whole road will be R-2s (duplexes)," Dyreson said. "And we're pretty much single families in that area, and we kind of like it that way. I mean, we're sad that you bought the area. We miss our deer."

She added, "Our neighborhood is hoping, sorry Randy, we're really hoping you keep a neighborhood and that it's just singlefamily. We've tolerated all of the apartments up there. Sometimes it gets loud. But, we're really asking that you keep it at R-1. That's what he signed up for, and I'm sorry, but sometimes that's the cost of doing business." Resident Jim Hoffman told the commission that he has seen the hard work Retzlaff has done building in the area, and that there are "wonderful renters" in the properties. "He keeps it somewhat high-end," Hoffman said. "You're going to have wonderful renters."

New London FFA will be hosting a greenhouse sale at the New London High School on May 5 to 7, May 9 and May 12 to 15 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. and also on May 10 from 9 a.m. to noon. Annuals and vegetables will be available as well as hanging baskets and 15-inch potted annuals.

potato vines, spikes, petunias, gazanias, impatiens, coleus, miniature sunflowers, sweet peas, sunpatiens, begonias, tomatoes, peppers, and okra. All proceeds help FFA members attend conferences, officer retreat, competitions and conventions. Plants range in price from $3 to $35.

If we have missed anyone here, it is certainly not our intention. The Shamrock Club of New Dublin is grateful for anyone who contributed to making our events a success!

Retzlaff said he originally requested that the zoning be changed from R-2 to R-1 with intentions of constructing 1,500-to-1,800 square-foot homes in that subdivision.

That was my intentions, we got two houses put up already, the second one is not quite finished yet," Retzlaff said. "I expected this to be a really nice neighborhood. We've had both homes on the market now for over a year and we've had no inquiries because of the cost. Well, the cost is what I've got into it, I'm just trying to get my money out of it right now at this point."

Looking ahead, Retzlaff said his plan, if he could not continue constructing single-family homes, would be to possibly build duplexes on the remaining lots.

"We had the water and sewer lines already ran for that, we're already sized up for that," Retzlaff said. "The other option would be to build small homes, and by small homes, we're talking 1,200 square feet to 1,300 (square feet) tops."

for years if he has to.

Commission member Jeff Handschke, who is a realtor, said duplex lots in New London "are hot right now." "I don't see anything wrong with what Randy wants to do there," Handschke said. He added that if smaller homes had to be built on the lots, maybe they could be designed in a way that would allow for additional space to be added as easily as possible.

Commission member Iason Bessette said because the Plan Commission has allowed other allowances in the past, it would be difficult to not allow this rezoning request. He also cited examples of other areas of the city where duplexes have been allowed.

"So, I think it's very difficult for us as a planning commission to say that we would prohibit this, with what we've done in the past," Bessette said.

Handschke agreed.

"Even if you change the zoning to R-2, it doesn't mean I'm going to slap up 18 duplexes," Retzlaff said. "I still want to see single families go in there as much as possible, if not all of it. But, if not, I'd like to have the playing card to where I can put in duplexes."

Patty Dyreson, a resident from the area of the proposed zoning change,

He added, "I'm fine with it either way."

Prior to the vote, New London Mayor Mark Herter asked the members of the commission if there were any reasons the rezoning should not be approved.

Traffic was mentioned as a concern, as well as the retention pond in the area.

Regarding the retention pond, New London City Administrator Chad Hoerthsaid the retention pond was designed by an engineer, with the design reviewed by the city's engineer.

"It is designed professionally by an engineer and designed with safety features in there," Hoerth said.

Second Viking Market at the Mills

BY EMILY DOUD STAFF REPORTER

IOLA – The Viking Market is returning for its second year to celebrate Viking culture and history. The event is scheduled to take place May 17 at the historic Iola Mills, 300 North Main Street from 11 a.m. to about 5 p.m., longer if there are still people roaming about.

"I wanted to have something where people could come and learn about actual Viking stuff, about actual history and experience it," said Eric Bestul, owner of Lessons from the Art and an organizer for the event.

The Viking Market will be led by the Wisconsin River Ravens, a Vikings reenactment group, a group that Bestul has been a member of for about two years along with his 13-year-old son, Anders.

Bestul said he has been a long-time history enthusiast, especially with Viking history.

"I just find the whole Viking era to be really fascinating because of how it is kind of unprecedented at the time," he said. "With travel and trade and stuff like that."

himself as a "history nerd," said he began building Viking-era instruments and creating and releasing Viking music a few years ago under the name, Skog Troll.

Being that there are no recordings of Viking-era music, Bestul said historians have to use artwork and writings to figure out what instruments may have looked like, while also figuring out what the instrument may have sounded like.

The few Viking instruments that have survived are small and can fit into one hand, Bestul said, and the bulk of the instruments have not survived the centuries.

Members of the Wisconsin River Ravens went to one of his shows and asked him if he wanted to join the group, which was when Bestul and his son joined up.

During the reenactments, like the Midwest Viking Festival in Green Bay, Bestul said he plays music, which is also what he will be doing May 17. Bestul will be on site with his Skog Troll set up, and will be available to answer any questions that people may have about struments.

Outside of the music, there will also many more activities that can be found at the Viking Market including many venders who will be selling handcrafted Viking related items.

There will be blacksmithing and combat demonstrations by the Wisconsin River Ravens that people can come and observe.

"We just want people to come out and hang out and learn some stuff and have some fun," he said. "Part of the reenactment thing is we all kind of have specialties that we can bring to the group."

The event will take place at the Iola Mills and will be outside. Bestul said they have a back-up space should the weather not cooperate, something he will announce closer to the day if the forecast says rain.

There is no charge to come to the event, but there will be food and gelato for sale at the Iola Mills.

If you would like more information about the event, or if you are interested in reenactment at the event or are a vender that is interested in setting up you can contact Bestul through email at

The Manawa Dam quote has been sent to the Joint Finance Committee in Madison as city officials make their voices heard at the committee's local public hearing. Emily Doud Photo

Council members state their case at hearings

$13.2 million for hydroelectric, $8.4 million for spillway

BY EMILY DOUD STAFF REPORTER

MANAWA The Manawa City Council began their April 21 meeting with an update on the dam as Manawa residents filled the board room.

Mayor Mike Frazier let the council and audience know that he, along with council members Jim Roenz and Mike Lehrer, went to speak in front of the State of Wisconsin Joint Finance Committee in Kaukauna on April 2.

Frazier said State Representative Kevin Peterson and Senator Rachael Cabral-Guevara encouraged him and members of the council to attend the public hearing.

The Joint Finance Committee goes to four separate locations throughout the state for public hearings, which is a way for Wisconsin residents to share comments and concerns on the upcoming budget.

The finance committee also stopped in West Allis on April 4, with the next stop being Hayward on April 28, and Wausau on April 29. Representatives from the Township of Little Wolf will attend the Wausau public hearing to comment on the importance of the Manawa dam to the community in hopes of gaining funding.

Frazier said they waited five hours for three minutes to speak. Roenz and Lehrer also had three minutes each.

Frazier said in the three minutes he had he told the committee how vital the dam and the mill pond is to the small community, and the affect it has had on businesses in the community.

'We basically said as a small city with a small tax base, we cannot afford to raise our taxes that much to cover the cost of that dam," Frazier said. "Mark and Jim talked about the loss in revenue from the flood damage."

With some of the projects, namely the new roads, over the last year the City of Manawa has almost reached its debt limit, Frazier said, plus there are future projects needing to get done, the city just does not have the money to fund rebuilding the dam.

At the three-minute mark the speaker is cut off, no matter the position you hold or who you are, three minutes only and the committee moves on to the next person.

Frazier said he was encouraged that there were members of the committee that were taking lots of another avenue to try for funding, as the city is exploring all the options that they can.

Frazier also announced at the council meeting that there is a new quote for the dam.

Frazier previously informed the Waupaca County Post that the dam quote of $13.2 million was for a spillway dam; however, that was for a hydroelectric dam with automatic gates, a dam with what Frazier calls "all the bells and whistles."

The new quote is for just a spillway dam, with sensors that can detect when water levels are rising was given to the City of Manawa by Cedar Corporation, the city's engineering firm.

The quote came in at $8.4 million, and includes taking out the current dam in its entirety.

The project will not be bid out until the city can lock down the funding. Frazier said that the bidding process will be competitive and could come in under the $8.4 million.

No matter what happens, the current dam will need to be taken out, Frazier said at a cost of a half million to one and a half million dollars. He has not heard from the Depart-

Field trip inspired by comics

BY EMILY DOUD STAFF REPORTER

IOLA-SCANDINAVIA

- The third grade class at the Iola-Scandinavia elementary school were able to take a field trip to the Fox Valley Performing Arts Center last February to see the Cat Kid Comic Club.

Cassandra Danielson, a music teacher for 4k to third grade, was able to take her third-grade class to see the musical, only her fourth field trip in 25 years of being a teacher.

"I wanted to thank you for making these opportunities available to our students, and for us teachers," she said at the April 14 Iola-Scandinavia school board meeting. "I was happy to have that opportunity for myself too."

Danielson said she was able to buy all of the tickets last February in anticipation of the event, saying if you didn't get these tickets right away they were gone.

Along with the students, nine parents were able to join as chaperones; Danielson said the parents also enjoyed the show along with the kids.

The Cat Kid Comic Club is a series of books written by Dav Pilkey, who also writes the Dog Man series.

Danielson said the students read all the books by Pilkey in anticipation of the show.

"They were enamored by everything that was happening on the stage," she said. "I wanted to do this not only for the musical side of things, but I've also really enjoyed integrating other areas into music because it covers everything."

Danielson said she was able to get seats close to the stage, so students were able to see the faces of the musical players on the stage.

Danielson said she had the students create their own comic, saying that they found out quickly how difficult it was to do

"I had a few that tried but I think they realized how hard it is to write comic books," she said.

"They could have a story, but weren't sure how to animate it."

Danielson said the entire play was sung, the sets were colorful and the entire crew of students and teachers were highly entertained.

"It was amazing, the whole story, they were talking about how being just as creative as you can be and having resilience of having those moments when things don't go as planned," she said. "So it was really applicable musical for the kids to see because a lot of them were seeing that frustration when they were trying to write a haiku."

Writing haiku's were also a project that Danielson taught her students in anticipation of the musical.

Board member Mike Grassl said his daughter went on the trip and has been drawing comic strips ever since.

"I think that's one thing I love about this it there are kids who may have never tried, and they might try it and find out, 'yeah, this is my thing," Danielson said.

Spring into Manawa, make it a double

MANAWA - The Manawa Chamber of Commerce is inviting everyone to come to the ever-growing downtown in an event aptly named, "Spring into Manawa."

The event will take place May 4 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The event encourages people to come check out Manawa's downtown, with shopping and eating at local shops and restaurants.

At a recent Manawa City Council meeting on April 21, the council voted to allow people to walk with Bloody Marys on the sidewalks to explore the town for the event.

Along with the shops downtown, there will be additional venders with handmade crafts and one-of-akind items up for sale.

Steve and Michelle's Midtown, Wolves Den and the Sunrise Café will be amongst the establishments selling Bloody Marys.

There will also be food available for purchase at the local bars and restaurants.

The Chamber of Commerce planned this even in an effort to continue supporting shopping local and being able to show off the growing downtown district.

Along with the state budget, the city and the Township of Little Wolf have also reached out to Tammy Baldwin and Tony Weed in hopes of possibly securing federal dollars to help fund the project.

Frazier also said that the Army Corp of Engineers is ment of Natural Resources (DNR) as to whether or not they will need to do that sooner rather than later.

Frazier said they are conducting some studies in relation to sturgeon as well as a couple other fish species to see how far up the river they will go.

Obituary Notices

Oswald, Elizabeth

Life on earth ended for Elizabeth Ann Oswald on April 24, 2025 at the age of 84 with a glad heart full of love for family, and with a strong faith in God.

Funeral Services will be held at 11:00 AM on Friday, May 9, 2025 at St. Maximilian Kolbe Catholic Church in Almond WI. Rev. Swing will officiate the service. Visitation will be held from 9:00 AM until the time of service at 11:00 AM at the church.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to St. Jude Children's Hospital, https://www. stjude.org

Elizabeth (Betty) was born on September 1, 1940 in Chicago, Illinois. The oldest daughter of eight children, Betty always cherished the lifelong friendships and shared experiences she had with her siblings. Betty graduated from Academy of Our Lady High School in 1958. Following graduation, she worked as a clerk for the Cooper Jarrett trucking company. In the spring of 1956, Betty met the love of her life, Charles Oswald, at a dance at St. Sabina Church. She was, and continued to be, "the most beautiful girl" he'd ever seen. Betty married Chuck on December 19, 1959 and started a family in the Chicago area.

In 1974, with their six children and a Shetland pony in tow, Betty and Chuck moved to Almond, Wisconsin. Once there, Betty rolled up her sleeves and joined Chuck in building a home, running the "farm," and embracing rural life on their picturesque 40-acres. In 1976, with all her children in school, Betty realized her role as a stay-at-home mother was changing and decided to take a position as an administrative assistant at Waupaca Middle School. Betty took great pride in her professional career, providing technical and organizational support to staff and students. She was fondly referred to as "Office Betty" by her colleagues, and was considered a valued friend to all.

In addition to being a devoted wife and mother, and dedicated to her profession, Betty appreciated the beautiful things in life: her extensive flower gardens; colorful birds visiting her multiple feeders; china& Waterford crystal; jewelry and fashion; and signed artwork of all kinds including watercolors, prints, and of course, handmade cards from her children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren. After 45 years of rural life, Betty and Chuck downsized to an acre lot in a suburb of Wisconsin Rapids, WI. In their new surroundings, Betty took to a new hobby of "saling" the art of treasure hunting at estate and garage sales.

Throughout her life, Betty maintained her classic sense style; her love of many genres of music; her enthusiasm as a Green Bay Packers and Milwaukee Brewers fan; her enjoyment of books, news, and interesting facts; the pleasure of a nice cup of tea; her fondness for anything chocolate; her exhilaration behind the wheel of her Honda Accord; her participation in "Girls' Weekends & Christmas cookie baking with her daughters; her excitement about celebrating all holidays & family events; her accomplished cooking & sewing skills; and her thoughtfulness in giving the perfect gift.

The most important things to Betty were her family and her faith. Her 65 years of marriage to Chuck, her close relationships with all of her children, and her never-ending interest in all things concerning her grandchildren and great grandchildren are perfect examples of the depth of her love and commitment. Betty's Christian faith and devotion to the Blessed Mother Mary helped guide her through life's joys and challenges.

Betty is preceded in death by her parents, Jim and Lauretta Moorman, her brother David Moorman, and her brother James Moorman.

WIAA approves Name, Image and Likeness

BY NICK GRIESBACH SPORTS REPORTER

STEVENS POINT Wisconsin high school athletes are now allowed to profit from their name, image and likeness by entering into advertising and brand deals. Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association decided on Friday, April 25. WIAA member schools approved an NIL provision after a 293-108 vote at their annual meeting in Stevens Point. The ruling for the NIL changes will take effect in May. It allows high school athletes to enter into NIL deals, so long as they don't wear their team uniform, use school or WIAA logos in an advertisement, and are not allowed to promote alcohol, tobacco or weapons.

This ruling puts the number of states allowing student-athletes into NIL deals to over 40.

Starting in 2022 through 2024 the SPASH Panthers have compiled a record of 65-20 and have made three deep runs to at least an appearance in the sectionals in each of the three seasons. The key piece in all three seasons is senior Kaitlyn Klismith, who has been named a First Team All-State member in all three seasons.

Kaitlyn's parents, Beth and Jason, introduced her to the sport at the age of four. She has stuck with it long enough to see herself become one of the best players in the state. "My favorite part is the competition, and I've stuck with it for so long because of all the friendships I've made and continue to make."

Kaitlyn credits her speed as her best asset on the field. She looks back at her freshman campaign as her most memorable so far, "My whole freshman year was the most memorable because of how far we made it in playoffs and being given such a great opportunity to start on varsity as a Freshman."

Klismith also credits coaches she has had along the way Coach Drohner, Roger Schliewe and Scott Clark.

"It feels unreal to think that I am already a senior and high school is over. I wouldn't trade it for anything and am so proud of the person I've become from it." Kaitlyn says of her personal growth from freshman to sophomore season.
