A PARTNERSHIP CONNECTING THE COMMUNITY

The Midway Chamber of Commerce Community Directory is a joint project of the Midway Chamber and the Midway Como Frogtown Frogtown Monitor. The partnership began nearly 20 years ago when a former Midway Chamber president reached out to the Monitor, a longtime Chamber member, to consider producing the annual book for the Chamber. Prior to this, the Monitor had been used solely as a distribution vehicle for the Chamber Directory, since the circulation footprints of the Monitor and the Chamber Directory do widely overlap. This new proposal for the Monitor, however, was based on the hope that the collaboration between the community newspaper and the civic and commerce association could further generate additional benefits and synergies beyond the publication of the Directory.

Today, the Chamber Directory is produced on an annual basis, with the Chamber providing the editorial copy for the book and the staff at TMC Publications, owner of the Midway Como Frogtown Frogtown Monitor, selling advertising for the Directory, producing ads, and laying out the publication. TMC Publications also handles the printing of the Directory. Each year a portion of the revenue from ad sales in the Directory are returned to the Chamber.

MIDWAY COMMUNITY COUNCILS

For more than 50 years, a hallmark of Saint Paul's diverse neighborhoods have been the District Planning Councils. These neighborhood organizations are an important part of the Midway and are increasingly linking residents and businesses. Each Council is run by an elected Board of Directors, often including business representatives.

The Twin Cities Jazz Fest went virtual in response to COVID-19 restrictions, and donated proceeds.

Like many others, Century Plaza boarded its windows and labeled it as "Community owned."

Restaurants and taprooms adapted as well, beginning delivery service, encouraging touchless takeout, and extending the outdoor patio season. Ordering takeout was now more than just a treat, but a way to show support for locally owned businesses at a time when it was needed most.

Live entertainment also changed dramatically. Professional sports came back after delays, but to empty stadiums. In 2021, local teams like the St. Paul Saints and Minnesota United FC will get to welcome bigger crowds, even if not necessarily full capacity. Live music was often done online, including weekly concerts by the Twin Cities Jazz Fest. Thanks to federal legislation called the Shuttered Venue Operators Grant (originally referred to as the Save Our Stages Act) the recent stimulus plan will include $1.25 billion for live venues- vitally important to save many places we watch musical acts.

As more residents lost their jobs and the economy tanked, many food drives were established. Allianz Field hosted days where anyone who was in need could pick up food, and the Midway YMCA operated a food distribution five days a week while gyms were closed by government orders.

Volunteers came out to sweep and pick up trash, and most of the debris was cleaned up by noon on Friday, May 29.

Civil Unrest

On the morning of May 28, 2020, the Midway Chamber of Commerce held a meeting in conjunction with its five-part Economic Development Series. The meeting, on the theme of "community," was held over the virtual meeting platform Zoom as the global pandemic around COVID-19 forced most of the working world to work from home and social distance from one another.

The meeting began with empathy to the previous night in Minneapolis, where commercial property damage had occurred following the murder of George Floyd. We did not realize the Midway would see similar damage in a few hours.

The damage started before noon when several people stormed Target. As violence unfolded and spread, a night of destruction led to many businesses in the Midway watching their buildings get vandalized. Some only saw graffiti or a broken window, while others saw their building entirely burn down.

Continues on page 8

Firefighters blocked off streets to put out fires that were still smoldering on Friday, May 29.

By noon on May 29, thanks to volunteers who showed up on University Avenue uninvited, most of the debris was cleaned up and buildings were boarded up for protection. The following Monday, the Midway Chamber, the Saint Paul Area Chamber and the Saint Paul Downtown Alliance formed the We Love Midway/We Love Saint Paul fund. The fund has given out grants to nearly 90 businesses, totaling close to $1 million. Funds were donated by corporations, small businesses and individualssometimes making donations of $20. The Twin Cities Jazz Fest gave donations to their weekly concert three consecutive weeks.

In addition to the We Love Midway/We Love Saint Paul fund, other community groups also stepped up to create grants. African Economic Development Solutions and Asian Economic Development Association both created grants as did the Neighbors United Collaborative Fund (Midway United).

Following the civil unrest, many elected officials and other interested people walked along University Avenue to see firsthand the damage to better understand the need for support. Governor Tim Walz, Senator Amy Klobuchar, Senator Tina Smith, Congresswoman Betty McCollum, Mayor Melvin Carter, Ramsey County commissioners, and members of both the Minnesota House and Senate toured University Avenue with the Midway Chamber and visited with members impacted.

Keystone organized food giveaways. 💠 Rep. Rena Moran speaks June 14. 🌣 Beatrix*Jar painted "Bird Enterprise Zone."

Lloyd's Pharmacy burned to the ground but is rising up anew in 2021. It has been operating out of a temporary location down the block and will reopen in its original location this summer. The new building looks much like the old.

The resiliency of Midway businesses has shown as so many have rebuilt and reopened. In addition to foundation support, many received government support and GoFundMe contributions. Lloyd's Pharmacy, which was burned to the ground, has reopened in a smaller location and will reopen in its old space in 2021. Peking Garden, formerly located at the Midway Shopping Center, has opened in the former Mai Village/Tapestry space at Western and University. Bole Ethiopian Cuisine also burned down and has now reopened at 1341 Pascal Ave.

The past year is defined by COVID-19 and civil unrest, and the Midway community felt both. The community also stepped up and showed its support for those in need. Despite the challenges we have faced, the future looks bright as businesses reopen and residents get vaccinated. •

ON THE COVER: Artist Wes Winship fashioned a 6-story mural at 727 Vandalia as part of the 2020 Mural Project in the Creative Enterprize Zone. It was among the nine new outdoor murals created in time for the Oct. 9 National Night Out event. With the 12 from the 2019 Chroma Zone Fest, there is plenty to plenty to see as you walk, run, bike or drive in the area.

MIDWAY CHAMBER - 2021 LEADERSHIP AWARD WINNERS

The Midway Chamber of Commerce announced six recipients of its 2021 Leadership Awards. The awards were presented at the chamber's annual celebration event and recognize leading businesses, nonprofits, and individuals, who go above and beyond their support of the chamber and Midway community through volunteering of their time, staff and other resources. In addition to the usual five awards, a special award was announced called the Resiliency Award, to reflect the difficult year. The recipients are:

Rookie of the Year: Open Cities Health Center

Given to a newer member of the Midway Chamber, the Rookie of the Year award recognized Open Cities Health Center. Open Cities provides much needed support to our neighbors, including the most economically disadvantaged. Open Cities, which opened in 1967 in the basement of St. James Church, now sees over 10,000 patients annually throughout the Twin Cities and this year was one of the first sites for COVID-19 tests.

Nonprofit of the Year: Ujamaa Place

Uiamaa Place provides a holistic transformation for young African-American men experiencing inequity at the intersection of race and poverty. They help them achieve brotherhood, stability, and personal success. Services include housing, education, employment, wellness, criminal justice, culture and community. As they celebrated their tenth anniversary in 2020, Ujamaa Place can now say they have transformed the lives of over 5.000 men and have maintained a 4% recidivism ratecompared to 68% nationally.

Volunteer of the Year: Christine Noonan, Minnesota State Fair

A member of the Midway Chamber's board, the executive committee, and the events committee. Chris is a dedicated volunteer who prepares for meetings and offers great ideas. Her work ethic shows in how reliable she always is when given a task. In addition to volunteering for the Midway Chamber, Chris also volunteered on a day when the Midway Chamber asked for volunteers to help distribute food at the Midway YMCA.

Resiliency Award: Bole Ethiopian Cuisine

The Midway felt the loss of Bole last May when a fire burned down the building which housed Bole, Bole Express and Napa Auto Parts. Owner Solomon Hailie showed his resilience by finding a new location in a close-by space (1341 Pascal) and reopened his new doors in March.

Small Business of the Year: The Lab

Following the start of COVID-19, hand sanitizer was one of the hardest products to find, and also one cited as important in helping stop the spread of germs. The Lab, a brewery located at 767 Eustis, shifted gears and started producing bottles and jugs of sanitizer. After the murder of George Floyd, The Lab began highlighting black-owned businesses with a local market titled "Black Business is Beautiful." With the motto "our wallets have the power to change racial economic disparities" the event is now occurring monthly and features African-American vendors.

Large Business of the Year: Xcel Energy

Xcel Energy showed their community support this year. helping those impacted by civil unrest, racial injustice, and the pandemic. In the spring, they donated over 300,000 surgical masks to frontline workers battling COVID-19. In the summer, they offered equipment rebates and free consulting services to businesses impacted by civil unrest. As the new school year started. Xcel was one of a handful of companies taking part in a $1 million donation to help fund distance learning pods for low-income students.

The Midway Chamber is appreciative of all the work by these recipients to help build a stronger Midway.
