Maricopa County licensing program benefits seniors

Program connects dogs, owners to promote reunification

By Jennifer Jimenez INDEPENDENT NEWSMEDIA

Identification for pets is key to reunification if that pet ever gets lost.

As part of those efforts, Maricopa County Animal Care & Control partnered with DocuPet a year ago to help keep pets safe.

Residents can create an online profile and renew licenses, upload proof of rabies and update information online, without having to visit a site.

Officials charge actual cost of mechanism, plus 10%

By Jennifer Jimenez INDEPENDENT NEWSMEDIA

Approximately 300 residents year-over-year the past five years are getting lock boxes installed by the Arizona Fire & Medical Authority Fire Corps.

Kidde Lock Boxes are purchased by fire officials, which are all keyed the same, which is important to have on every fire truck.

AFMA Deputy Chief Robert Olmstead said historically the cost for a lock box was $40 and then last year the price rose from $44 to $47. Then, the price jumped again to $68 and at the end of 2025 the cost increased to $147. Now, the cost to purchase is $155, he added.

"We do not make money when we sell them. We charge our actual cost plus 10% to cover taxes and shipping," said Olmstead.

According to Olmstead, 12,000 lock boxes are in Sun City West and everyday officials hear from residents who are unaware of the program.

The Emergency Lock Box program is designed to allow firefighters and emergency medical services into a home quickly and with limited

ASSISTANCE

Eligible residents struggling with unexpected air conditioning repairs can get help

Confidential assistance is available for low-income residents

By Jennifer Jimenez
INDEPENDENT NEWSMEDIA

Low-income Sun City West residents who are eligible can apply for financial assistance struggling with an unexpected air conditioning repair or replacement.

The program through the Community Fund of Sun City West offers two tiers of support, according to Dale Hornynan-Toftoy, chairwoman of the personal needs committee said a resident in need has to be a client and must go through the process by calling the hotline at 623-546-1122.

The first tier includes those who qualify at 150% above the poverty level and earning $1,956.21 a month as a single person. If there are two people in the home, the total is $2,643.75. The annual allotment for tier one is $5,500.

Tier two was recently expanded up to $2,660 a month for one person and $3,670 if there are two people in the home. Tier two is allotted $2,500 per year.

"If a client wants to waive their confidentiality, we have a connection with an air conditioning company, you can perform maintenance checks on air conditioning units, but they must be a homeowner," said Hornynan-Toftoy. The organization authorizes to fix up to a certain amount of money and if more is needed, it must be approved by the treasurer and others before any repairs.

"We are very aware of the importance of reliable air conditioning for residents this summer during our record-setting heat," said Arlene Peterson, Community Fund of Sun City West board member.

Since the beginning of the year when officials began re-qualifying people, only one client declined sharing information with the company, while the others had the unit inspected and minor repairs made.

While the air conditioning assistance only applies to homeowners who meet the eligibility requirements, renters worried about their utility payments can apply for assistance. Phone payments and doctor bills can also be included in this assistance up to a specific amount.

Hornynan-Toftoy said this year the number of people the organization is helping is low, but generally there are about 40 clients per year the organization helps.

Tax-deductible donations help provide emergency assistance to neighbors in need. Every contribution helps keep someone safe during Arizona's extreme summer temperatures.

three months and older to be licensed and renewal is required every year. According to the website, the cost starts at $19.

Kim Powell, communications supervisor with Maricopa County Animal Care & Control said many of the phone calls coming in are from residents in the Sun Cities, who want to use the service and need assistance navigating the program through the website.

"A lot of individuals in Maricopa County do not realize it is the law to license their pet," said Powell.

She said pets that are licensed keep pets and people together and that is the goal.

DocuPet allows owners to indicate in the profile the dog is missing and if someone finds a dog with a tag, that can be inputted to indicate a dog was found. Powell said the information on the back of the tag can be typed into DocuPet and owner information can be found. If a Maricopa County field officers finds the dog, they can provide a free ride back home.

The first 24 hours is free for found dogs to stay in a Maricopa County shelter. If there is no microchip or identification for the dog, the hold is for 72 hours, which is state law and then the dog can potentially be placed up for adoption. There is also a five-day minimum hold on stray dogs and Powell said officials try to do everything possible to reunite the dog and owner.

"When you know your pet ran off, owners can go into DocuPet and report it missing and that will integrate with other apps," said Powell.

NextDoor, Ring and Petco Love Lost are also alerted through the DocuPet program, which provide pet searching options.

Additionally, Powell said when an individual loses a dog, it is important to take all the steps online to report it missing, but also paying a visit to the shelter should also be on the list.

Not licensing a dog can result in fines and Maricopa County has ways to enforce. If an individual's dog bites someone and does not have the rabies vaccine, that can add penalties.

Powell said making sure the pet has microchip and is tagged helps pets and people together. The county offers $25 microchip events throughout the year.

Sun City West resident Barbara Phillips said she keeps her dog "Eddie" safe by having a well-fenced yard and hiring a dog sitter when she is gone. For the hotter temperatures, Phillips provides a wading pool under the covered patio as well.

"We feel a microchip is important in case he would get put out unsupervised and someone found him. We also have his name and phone number on his collar for the same reason. A collar on him makes it easy to grab him in an emergency," said Phillips.

Kristine Hayes Nibler, Sun City West resident and dog expert, said embroidered collars featuring a phone number are a great choice over traditional hanging tags that can get torn off during an accidental escape.

"Maintaining an up-to-date dog license is equally vital, as it provides official county documentation of your legal ownership. For permanent security, every dog should have a registered microchip, though many owners misunderstand how the technology works. Because a microchip scanner only displays a unique identification number—not your personal contact details—that number must be actively linked to a microchip registry," she said.

Hayes Nibler and her dogs are registered through the American Kennel Club Reunite program that links the microchip identification to the owners contact information.

She said this subscription service immediately broadcasts automated, targeted alerts to local veterinarians, animal shelters and a community of members.

damage, if someone is unavailable to open the door. The steel box is mounted near the front door, which has a key locked inside the box that opens the door. Only AFMA personnel have access to the lock box key.

"If there is not a box, then emergency personnel are going to break something to get in to the house. If we are forced to break a window or force open a door it will cost between $300-$1,000," said Olmstead.

In instances where a new homeowner moves in and there is a lock box in place,

Fire Corps volunteers go out Mondays and Wednesdays to replace the keys and can get through five up to 15 in that time. Arizona Fire & Medical Authority Fire Corps Volunteer Doug Randall said if a new security door is added, volunteers can come and replace the key. An updated key plays a big role.

"From the time that the station is notified of an incident they are going to be there within five minutes. So we only got five minutes left to have the optimum outcome for a cardiac issue. So these become quite important," said Randall.

The keys fire personnel have access to are secure. The keys are located in a secure lock box with a four digit pin code that is individualized and updated. Another safety mechanism is a strobe light on the boxes in the trucks to indicate if the key is inside.

"We just did that to have that level of security and accountability for the keys that are really valuable," said Olmstead.

Olmstead said right now the boxes are on order, but it should be about another month. Officials ordered a year's worth of lock boxes and are taking names on a waitlist of residents who purchase the mechanism.

How Arizona retirees may support foster youth through their IRA

By Michael Brewer
SPECIAL TO THE INDEPENDENT

Many Arizona retirees are surprised to learn they can make a lasting difference in the lives of foster children through a simple gift from their Individual Retirement Account.

If you are age 70 1/2 or older, you may be eligible to make a Qualified Charitable Distribution directly from your IRA to a qualified nonprofit. If you are required to take a Required Minimum Distribution, a QCD can count toward satisfying that requirement while potentially reducing your taxable income.

For many retirees, it's one of the most tax-efficient ways to support a cause they care deeply about.

At Hope & A Future, serving Arizona foster youth since 2004, these gifts help provide life-changing programs for Arizona foster youth, including mentoring, summer camps, life skills training, scholarships, transitional housing, and caring adult relationships that continue long after child leaves foster care.

Each year, hundreds of young people age out of Arizona's foster care system without the family support most of us take for granted. Your generosity can help ensure they have

Retired power plant operator OK with APS rate hike

I've lived in the Valley since 1970 and retired from the power company. I have been reading the concerns from folks about the potential APS rate increase.

I'm a former power plant operator with many years of hands-on operating experience here in Arizona and I'd like to provide some feedback. Power plant generating equipment, the support system equipment and the downstream electrical distribution equipment all run nonstop 24/7.

Just like things at home, equipment reaches end of life due to constant use, wears out or breaks due to the loads placed on them. Some equipment needs to be replaced regularly to prevent power outages from happening at the worst times, especially noteworthy during the peak season when we all need ac to live here in the Valley.

It's true that it's not going to be easy on the wallet at times, but we all chose to live here and we are all are using the local electrical system unless you are off the grid.

The system needs to be maintained so we can count on it when we need it the most. I worked hard for many years to maintain our system and now I can enjoy having a reliable electrical system.

I understand what I'm paying for and am willing to pay the increased operating and maintenance cost. You get what you pay for.

Why is Abe Hamadeh defending the Tate brothers?

U.S. Rep. Abe Hamadeh of

Congressional District 8 has chosen an unusual cause: defending Andrew and Tristan Tate, dual United States-United Kingdom citizens who face 59 criminal charges in the U.K., including rape, sex trafficking, assault and offenses involving indecent images of children.

British authorities are seeking their extradition from the United States to the U.K. to stand trial there.

The Tate brothers deny all charges. They are entitled to due process. So are the alleged victims.

Instead, Congressman Hamadeh has publicly argued that the Tate brothers should not be extradited, portraying the prosecution as political persecution. Extradition is not a finding of guilt. It simply allows defendants to answer criminal charges where the alleged crimes occurred.

Congressman Hamadeh has previously supported legislation to restrict dual citizenship, yet he now publicly defends two dual U.S.-U.K. citizens. That inconsistency deserves an explanation.

Whether the Tate brothers are guilty or innocent is for the courts — not politicians — to decide.

The people of Arizona's 8th Congressional District elected Congressman Hamadeh to fight for us, not to spend his time and political capital defending internet celebrities accused of heinous sexual crimes. The Tate brothers have lawyers. We have one congressman.

Abe Hamadeh's choice of priorities raises legitimate questions about whether he is focused on the job Arizonans elected him to do.

ICE facilities anything but humane, reader says

I have read both sides of the ICE detention facility issue in Opinions section in recent editions. I appreciate that the writers are speaking out and expressing their opinions! That is the American way!

Having said that, I must disagree with Ms. Goncalves' opinions regarding the proposed Ice detention facility in Surprise!

Careful reading of the news reported by many respected news organizations, the New York Times being one, indicates the ICE operation of similar facilities around the country is anything but humane.

The facility in Mesa, for example, reportedly has regularly been seriously overcrowded and though intended to be a short-term holding facility has in fact held many for much longer time periods!

ICE has often denied access to our elected representatives attempting to inspect the conditions in response to constituent requests for help. This is not openness in government! If there is nothing to hide, what is the basis for refusing access?

There are many other aspects to this very complex and troublesome issue and I suggest that Ms.

MUSIC NOT REQUIRED FOR TWO-TONES

These women are set for fun with their cute, two-toned zippered purses. Robyn Reynolds taught the class at Rip 'N' Sew, a Sun City West club. HIKERS BEAT THE HEAT IN BUCKEYE

Six Sun City West hikers battled a hot summer day July 23 while hiking Skyline Park in Buckeye. The traversed the following trails: Mountain Wash Trail to Turnbuckle Trail to Granite Falls Trail, back to Mountain Wash Trail to the parking lot. The loop hike covered 3.7 miles with an elevation change of 217 feet and 315 feet of total gain. The total time was one hour and 44 minutes, with a move time of one hour and 29 minutes for an average of 24.4 minutes per mile. Hikers included Julie Szafranec, Kurt Weber, John Mitchell, Michael Weingarten, David Stringham and Michael Anenen. Not in the group photo is John Mitchell, photographer of the day. Club luncheon doubles as salute to nation

Rip 'N' Sew's summer luncheon had an all-American flair as everyone there celebrated the 250th anniversary of the United States.

Almost all of the attendees wore the requested red, white and blue, said Marilyn Zenz, party committee spokesman. Table decorations reflected the color theme, too.

"Oh, I thought it went very well," said Zenz. "We were very organized and ready early." She said several guests told her: "They thought it was very good food and they enjoyed the party."

Three club members in attendance were honored for their U.S. military service. They are Debbie Dorn, Gary Reynolds and Rose Waldon.

Everyone joined in singing three patriotic songs: "The Star-Spangled Banner," "America the Beautiful" and "God Bless America."

Other patriotic music played quietly while attendees ate. Jean Hackbert was in charge of all the music.

On the menu were pulled pork, pulled chicken, coleslaw, an assortment of chips, birthday cake for America, mints, lemonade and water. Mary Ann Lewton prepared the pulled meats and the mints. Zenz made the coleslaw.

Other members of the nine-person party committee provided the chips, cake and beverages.

Besides Zenz, Lewton and Hackbert, other members of the party committee were Teri Schlemmer, Michele DeJong, Marian Clish, Jeanne Fata, Joanne Baron and Helen Grant. These women also sew together Friday afternoons as members of Sewing from the Heart, a special interest group within Rip 'N' Sew.

After the meal, guests played sewing bingo. Prizes were items donated by club members and local businesses.

Fifty-five members of the Sun City West club attended the July summer luncheon at Palm Ridge Recreation Center's Summit Hall B, Zenz said.

Host brings professional background to the radio waves through a 'community chat'

Radio personality dives into radio station as he moves into Sun City West

By Jennifer Jimenez
INDEPENDENT NEWSMEDIA

As a relatively new resident in Sun City West, Keith Breitbach has found his own way to integrate into the community.

Over a year ago he moved into the community and attended a meeting at KSCW 103.1 FM, which is the radio station that broadcasts throughout Sun City West. The call went out for anyone interested in hosting the 'Community Chat' show and Breitbach said it took him no time to raise his hand.

He has a background in radio and media and has a strong interest in public affairs and building a community, so the radio station in Sun City West has been a great fit.

"It gives me an opportunity to get to know organizations in Sun City West and people in a personal way," Breitbach said.

'Community Chat' airs 2 p.m. Thursday and replays 9 a.m. Saturdays and features 15-minute conversations with community leaders, clubs, organizations and places and that also includes beyond Sun City West.

Recently, Breitbach interviewed an official from the West Valley Arts Council to share insight with residents on things happening around the community.

He focuses on promoting events or groups that do not always get a lot of promotion, yet are things residents would be interested in. Additionally, Breitbach takes those interviews and repackages them as online videos, which are primarily available on Facebook.

According to other club members, he has provided a big push on social media to help promote other shows and personalities and share the radio station with others.

SUN CITY WEST

Are we seeing the world as it really is?

Many of us spend time on online platforms watching news, current events, history, health information and other topics that interest us. They are remarkable sources of knowledge. But there is one question worth asking: Are these platforms showing us the world — or simply showing us what keeps us watching?

These platforms are designed to recommend content that holds our attention. Videos that stir fear, anger, outrage or surprise often generate more clicks, so the system tends to offer us more of the same.

Psychologists have identified several ways this can influence our thinking. Mean World Syndrome describes how repeated exposure to negative stories can make the world seem more dangerous or divided than it really is. Availability bias causes us to believe events are more common simply because we see them repeatedly. Confirmation bias encourages us to accept information that supports our existing beliefs, while echo chambers limit our exposure to different viewpoints.

None of this means the videos are false. Many are completely accurate. The challenge is that they often highlight exceptional events rather than ordinary life.

Before accepting any video as proof of “what’s happening everywhere,” ask a few simple questions: Is this an isolated incident? Would someone else receive different recommendations? Have I looked at

TABLETOP TUESDAY BUILDS SKILLS AND CONFIDENCE

SilverCraft West’s Tabletop Tuesday was created to give members a relaxed place to practice skills they have learned in class and get help with projects they are working on. The informal group meets every other Tuesday and is led by Karie Kavka, an artist and teacher who enjoys helping others learn. Members can bring questions, work through difficult techniques and learn from one another in a friendly, supportive setting. At the most recent gathering, everyone made a bracelet and showed off their finished creations for a group photo. The variety of bracelets reflected the creativity and individual style of each member. (Submitted photo/Don Wells) more than one reliable source?

Most of us experience something very different each day — neighbors helping neighbors, people treating one another with respect and communities working together to solve problems.

Online platforms remain valuable tools for learning. The key is remembering that their algorithms are designed to maximize our attention, not necessarily to provide the most balanced picture of reality. Staying informed begins with staying curious, seeking different viewpoints and looking beyond a single screen.

Resident aims to educate on posting emergency information

Encourages residents to have contact, medication information easily accessible

By Jennifer Jimenez
INDEPENDENT NEWSMEDIA

In the normal evening hours a Sun City couple went from enjoying time with a friend to a medical emergency.

After dinner, John Zimmerman, his wife and friend were playing cards when they noticed the friend did not look right and was not responding. A call to emergency services was immediately placed, but the pair quickly realized they had several challenges ahead.

"We were trying to find the kids' names or phone numbers and that was a nightmare and the EMTs asked us what medications she was on before they began working on her," he said.

Zimmerman said medication lists and emergency contact information is not something he ever thought about, but this event has forced him and his wife to prioritize this information and want others in the community to do the same.

He said he never believed how fast a true medical emergency could happen.

One second the trio was enjoying a card game and the next, the friend was unable to function. The friend had suffered a stroke, according to Zimmerman.

"Had we not been there, she would have died. She lives alone and no one would have been able to help her," said Zimmerman.

Zimmerman suggests keeping emergency contact names and phone numbers in case of an emergency and a current list of medications inside a

Zimmerman and his wife began rifling through mail to try to find something with an address, since they only had it in their GPS. They were unable to get into her phone due to the password. The pair located an old Rolodex and notified her daughters on where she was transported and reunited with her family.

Phone and Internet Discounts Available to CenturyLink Customers

The Arizona Corporation Commission designated CenturyLink as an Eligible Telecommunications Carrier within its service area for universal service purposes. CenturyLink's basic local service rates for residential voice lines are $18.47 per month and business services are $21.00 - $40.32 per month. Specific rates will be provided upon request.

CenturyLink participates in the Lifeline program, which makes residential telephone or qualifying broadband service more affordable to eligible low-income individuals and families. Eligible customers may qualify for Lifeline discounts of $5.25/month for voice or bundled voice service or $9.25/month for qualifying broadband or broadband bundles. Residents who live on federally recognized Tribal Lands may qualify for additional Tribal benefits if they participate in certain additional federal eligibility programs. The Lifeline discount is available for only one telephone or qualifying broad-band service per household, which can be either a wireline or wireless service. Broadband speeds must be at least 25 Mbps download and 3 Mbps upload to qualify.

A household is defined as any individual or group of individuals who live together at the same address and share income and expenses. Services are not transferable, and only eligible consumers may enroll in these programs. Consumers who willfully make false state-ments to obtain these discounts can be punished by fine or imprisonment and can be barred from these programs.

If you live in a CenturyLink service area, visit <https://www.centurylink.com/aboutus/community/community-development/lifeline.html> for additional information about applying for these programs or call 1-800-201-4099 with questions.

CASEY is a sweet girl just over a year old who has come such a long way! Casey and her siblings were TNR'd right outside of 4 Paws when they were older kittens. They were extremely scared and unsure of people, so our team has spent a lot of time patiently socializing them and helping them learn that people can be pretty wonderful. And Casey has made amazing progress! Today, she loves being petted and is even discovering that being a 'lap kitty' is a pretty great thing. She still isn't a big fan of being picked up, although she will tolerate it when necessary. Casey is a quiet, gentle girl who will need a calm home where she can settle in at her own pace. A home without children would be best for her. She can also live with other cats, as long as they are relaxed and easygoing companions who match her laid-back personality. Casey may need a little more patience than some cats, but she has already shown us just how much she can grow when someone gives her the time and security she needs. With the right person and a peaceful home, we know Casey will continue to blossom and thrive. Meet her at the Peoria Shelter, 10807 N 96th Ave, Peoria or call 623-773-2246.
